Lutherans Announce $1 Million Program

THE NEW LOOK of St. Peter Lutheran church as it will appear one year from now 10 blocks north of its present site. One of the oldest churches in Arlington Heights will become the newest when construction gets under way in Auril. Charles Stade and associates is the architectural firm.

Church, School Planned

A record near-million dollar moving job will get under way in mid-April, when St. Peter church and school starts construction of a new plant 10 blocks north of their present location.

THE GIANT SUM, believed to be the largest church construction expenditure in northwest suburban history, was triggered by a fire department inspection in December, following the tragic Chicago school fire which claimed 93 lives. Arlington Heights firemen noted four dozen violations in a 60-year-old section of the school, thus adding impetus to new-construction and relocation plans already in the works.

The church buildings and land, located on 3.5 acres at Northwest hwy. and Highland ave., are up for sale, funds from which will go to finance the new buildings, Rev. Robert O. Bartz said. The new site is a 15-acre tract bordered by Oakton on the north, Dunton on the west, and Highland on the east.

ACCORDING TO the pastor, the new buildings will cost "upwards of $800,000." This figure, plus $105,000 for the land, and the future erection of a parsonage, will push total costs near the $1 million mark.

The new buildings, a church, administration building, 14-room school and separate kindergarten, and an activity building, is of contemporary-modern design. Charles Stade and associates are architects.

The church, with a seating capacity of 800, is designed in the shape of a true cross. The congregation will sit in three of the four eaves of the cross, with the altar in the center. The activity building will have a gymnasium, stage, shower and locker rooms, and a cafeteria.

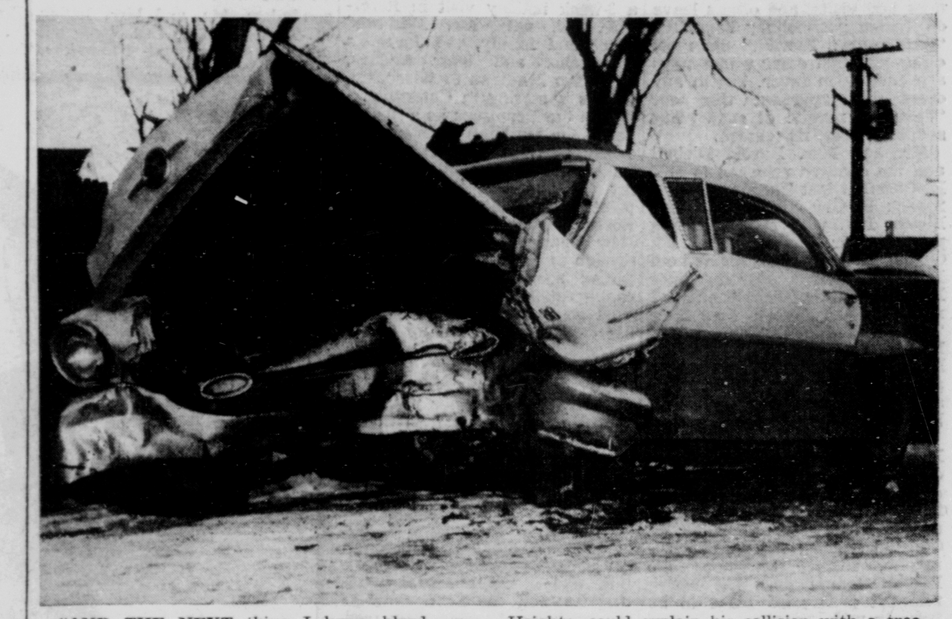
THE PLANNING of grounds provides for a campus style layout, with the church facing green lawns instead of the street, Rev. Bartz said.

Construction is expected to be completed by January, 1960, to coincide with the centennial observance of the congregation. The church was formed in 1860, and the present church was built in 1882.

Motorist Injured In Golf Road Crash



"AND THE NEXT thing I knew blood was running down my face," was the only way Louis Angeloff, 212 N. Reuter, Arlington Heights, could explain his collision with a tree last week at intersection of Golf and Busse rds.

Listed in "improved" condition at Resurrection hospital after suffering serious injuries in an auto mishap in Elk Grove township Friday morning is Louis Angeloff, 47, of 212 N. Reuter st., Arlington Heights.

ANGELOFF lost control of the vehicle he was driving as he attempted to turn right onto Busse rd. from Golf rd. on which he was traveling east, according to Illinois State Police officers.

The auto ran off the roadway and struck a tree on Golf rd., investigating officers said.

Angeloff suffered a crushed chest, several broken ribs, a cracked pelvis, a crushed hip bone, a broken leg and foot, and a sprained ankle.

A BLOOD transfusion was administered to him when he was admitted to the hospital. Thirty stitches were required to treat a gash in his forehead, hospital officials said.

State troopers administered first aid to the injured motorist. The accident occurred at 8 a.m. Friday, Jan. 8, while Angeloff was driving to work.

Angeloff told officers he "felt a jolt and the next thing I knew, glass was shattering.

"I still don't know what happened; I might have had a bad blowout," Angeloff was quoted as saying.

His vehicle was described as a total wreck.

School Reaps Low Rate in Bond Sale

The insistence on a sound financial operation has reaped new dividends for the Arlington Heights public school district.

Bids were opened Tuesday night at a board of education meeting for the sale of $650,000 worth of bonds to finance school construction.

Seven bonding representatives submitted bids and all were below the interest rate anticipated by the board.

SUCCESSFUL BIDDERS were a syndicate composed of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust co. of Chicago; Eastman Dillon, Union Securities and co., and White-Phillips, Inc.

Their bid included a net interest rate of 3.4987 per cent.

The low interest rate means the school district will save money in paying off the bonded indebtedness and will have a beneficial effect on future school tax needs.

All bidders quoted net interest rates of less than 3.75 per cent to the Arlington Heights board.

ONE OF THE bidders complimented the Arlington Heights board on "your excellent operation here, and the fine prospectus issued to bidders."

Lambert W. Bredehoft, president of the board, thanked the bidders and remarked:

"Our primary aim is to maintain a sound financial institution and, at the same time, provide the best schools possible for our children.

"The expression of bidders tonight was a sound expression of faith in our policies."

Included in the prospectus, as prepared by Peter R. Bakas, business manager, was the report on another piece of information that carried much weight with the bond bidders. The information was that the bond issue by the Arlington Heights district had been given an "A" rating by Moody's Investors Service and by Standard and Poor's corp., both nationally-known business and credit rating firms.

SUPT. RALPH C. Clabaugh, who is credited with developing the Arlington Heights public schools, remarked:

"The cost of a school building, economically speaking, depends as much, perhaps, on a favorable bids as upon favorable construction bids."

The bids for the construction will be opened at a meeting next Tuesday night.

Construction is to get under way as soon as possible on additions and alterations to Westgate, Windsor and Park schools. Architects have assured the board the buildings will be ready for use when school opens in the fall.

TWELVE CLASSROOMS and a multi-purpose room will be added to Westgate, the same to Windsor and a multi-purpose room will be built at Park.

Supt. Clabaugh pointed out that the net interest rate offered and accepted Tuesday night was lower than the board was able to obtain when $350,000 in bonds were sold in 1956. At that time the lowest bidder offered a 3-.81896 per cent.

In other business Tuesday, the board heard reports on fire safety in the Arlington Heights schools. It was disclosed that all steps necessary are being taken to improve the flaws that exist.

The Editor's Column

By STUART R. PADDOCK

There are too many businessmen and individual citizens who are being taken for a ride by firms, organizations and fund solicitors, who use the telephone and pressure salesmanship.

Wilbert C. Hartman, manager of Arlington Heights chamber of commerce, in a "tip on phone solicitations" has such a good answer that we are publishing the bulletin that he issued this week to his members on another page.

Arlington Heights is not the only community that is infected with phone solicitations that is costing a lot of extra dollars and needless phone interruption.

Under the exiting Cook county assessing machinery, the deadline for real estate assessing is November 1.

With a building permit taken out December 1, 1957 the home could be completed early in 1958. The children living in that home would enter school September 1, 1958. The property would not be entered on the assessment roll until November 1, 1958 and would first be taxed for 1959 which would not be collected until April, 1960. It would not be received by the school district until the fall of that year, nearly three years after building permit is issued.

This explains how two years free school instruction can be enjoyed by a family. The delay is not the fault of the local assessor.

The women, bless them, have the right to follow the dictates of fashion. Frankly, we had reservations on the new hair-do that in our estimation is in the same category as the Elvis Presley hair cut which was copied by so many teenagers.

After our recent tour of the National Art Museum in Washington, we no longer disapprove the "pixie" hair-do for women. They have just adopted the hair style of their sisters 200 years ago.

We refer to a painting by Goga F. Lucintes (1746-1818) in which the hair of the model is cut in the style that broke out among so many teenagers six months ago and is being adopted today by their mothers.

We have not asked the opinions of the beauty salons.

If Gov. Stratton has his way to void the personal property tax the taxing bodies of Illinois will lose an assessed valuation of over five billion dollars.

We do not like the tax any more than anyone else but we fear replacement by a state income tax, which would increase the present tax bite which is taking 20c or more out of each dollar earned.

An item in the press states that if the same IQ test that is given an eighth grader was applied to a 60-year-old adult, he would rate about the same as a 12 year old.

Fortunately a man of that many years has learned a lot of other things not found in school books.

It will be interesting to learn what reaction Europeans will have to copies of this paper that will be received after February 1 in Europe by Dale S. May, Mt. Prospect. He expects to spend the greater part of 1959 there.

A newspaper of 64 to 84 pages may not be unusual in America, but will the people across the ocean consider a newspaper of that size a waste of print paper, a waste of advertising funds, or just label it another evidence of capitalism?

Mt. Prospect Man Beats, Slays Wife; Surrenders

A 69-year-old retired bartender, in a signed statement, admitted beating his wife to death with a household claw hammer Tuesday afternoon in Mt. Prospect.

BULLETIN

A Cook county coroner's jury at an inquest Wednesday morning directed that Carl T. Weidner, 69, of 212 S. Wille st., Mt. Prospect, be held for the grand jury on the charge of murdering his wife, Rose, 59, whose body was discovered Tuesday afternoon in the couple's home.

A preliminary hearing into the slaying was also conducted by the States Attorney's office at Police Magistrate court in Mt. Prospect Wednesday afternoon.

Carl Weidner, 212 S. Wille, walked into the police station and told Officer George R. Mucciante that he had just hit his wife with a hammer. "You better send an ambulance" he told his alarmed listeners.

Police found Weidner's wife, Rose, lying in a pool of blood in the doorway between the kitchen and the hallway. Chief George Whittenberg would not estimate the number of blows which felled the 59-year-old grandmother.

THE SLAYING occurred just shortly before the alleged bludgeoner was slated to be committed to a mental hospital in Chicago. A brother-in-law, Joe Hertel, who gave his address as Rt. 83, Prairie View, said that Weidner had suffered a nervous breakdown three weeks ago.

"He knew of the proposed committal and said he approved," Hertel stated. The brother-in-law said the elderly slayer had "not been himself" lately. "Two weeks ago he sold the family Cadillac for $400 and then blamed it on Rose. In order to appease him we bought it back for $650 a few days later," he said.

THE WEIDNERS' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Serbins, also reside in the 3-year-old brick home with their four children. Mrs. Serbins is a teacher in St. James Catholic school in Arlington Heights.

When asked if he had struck his wife with the hammer, Weidner nodded his head. He gave a similar answer when asked if he had struck her twice. When asked if he knew he had killed his wife, he replied, "I didn't intend to."

Police held him on a charge of murder, and a coroner's inquest was set for Haben's Funeral Home in Skokie, where the slain woman's body was taken.

NO ONE WAS home at the time of the killing. Neighbors said that the Weidners were "quiet people" and had not been known to argue.

Weidner's commitment to an institution had been delayed because there were no rooms available.

Village Makes Sidewalk Survey

Another step in a wide-ranging public works survey ended this week when Arlington Heights Village Manager L. A. Hanson announced the completion of a comprehensive sidewalk study.

The purpose of the survey, said Hanson, was to find out how much sidewalk belonged to the village, where it was located, and the condition of existing walks.

Found in "very bad" condition were 61,275 square feet, and listed as "bad" were 53,800 square feet of walks. Crosswalks — those not joined to curbing, and needing to be joined — amounted to 2,400 square feet. The total estimated cost of repairs is $70,245, Hanson said.

"The results of this survey will allow us to budget these expenditures over a three, four, or five year period. Now we know where we stand," he said.

ANOTHER STUDY, street name signs, was recently concluded as part of the over-all survey of public improvements. Disclosed was that 91 street intersections in the village had no name signs, and that 136 needed replacing for a total estimated cost of $4,500.

A survey of streets and street lights is now in progress, and slated for the "near future" are investigations of water system valves, parking meters, and fire hydrants.

Spring Is Early for Our Champion Robin Spotter

By TED SMART

It kinda shook the bird watchers up — having missed the first robin.

But credit for spying this traditional augury of spring goes to Mrs. Leah Webster, 5 W. Olive, Arlington Heights, who, at 9:57 a.m. Monday, looked from her kitchen window, gasped, and ran to her telephone.

The phone in the editorial office rang.

"Hello."

"Hello, I think I've got a first for you."

"A first? What kind of a first?"

"The first robin."

"Oh really? That's nice. You mean a bird, don't you?"

"Yes, I think it's the first of spring. He's outside in my yard."

"That is nice. What's he doing?"

"Well, he's pulling at something in the ground. Of course, the ground is covered with snow, so I don't know if it's a worm. But it could be." This last hopefully.

AND SO IT WENT, the conversation about the first robin. Mrs. Webster was a bit incredulous, she said, so she got her husband's binoculars. Yes, there it was, all right, the first robin—and no mistake.

Of course, as some frustrated bird watchers may point out, we have only Mrs. Webster's word for it. But it is doubtful that this tack will get the envious anywhere, and it is altogether likely that any attempt to question her word will reflect adversely upon the cynics themselves.

For there is something akin to regimental esprit, a code if you will, that exists among true Audubonists. One just does not question a first robin sighting. One accepts it, grudgingly perhaps, but one does.

MOIST EYES will be dried, and amateur ornithologists will again look skywards, hoping to sight some lost shearwater or caracara.

Quite an aucupation.

THIS BEAR caught the fish, unlike his television cousin. Gracing the front of the Lyle W. Ewing home, 110 S. Stratford, Arlington Heights, is this Abominable Snowbear, completed Monday by the five members of the family. Ann, 14, Claire, 12, Barbara, 11, and Mary Jane, 8, pitched-in with their parents on the three-day project, and the girls came down with colds for their efforts. The 10-foot bear and salmon is by no means a family first. "It's become a tradition," says Ann. "In previous years dad has built King Winter, an igloo, an Eskimo, reindeer, and a skier."

Fire Dept. Answers 7 Calls

The Arlington Heights fire department responded to three inhalator calls and two fire calls last week.

On January 5, an inhalator was dispatched to the Hank Lunning residence, 9030 Chester st., Des Plaines, at 2:24 p.m. At 11:30 p.m. the following day, the inhalator squad tried unsuccessfully to revive Mrs. Amanda Schoepke, 69, of 28 S. Vail st., Arlington Heights. She was dead from a coronary attack. On January 7, the inhalator was sent to the Steven Erler home, 500 W. Palatine rd., at 7:25 p.m.

SMOKE FROM a defective oil furnace damaged a home occupied by Richard Hanson, at 1811 N. Walnut, and sent firemen to the scene. The one-story brick residence owned by Edward Koop, 5 E. Helen rd., Palatine, suffered minor smoke damage when a repairman started the furnace. The fire was extinguished with carbon dioxide.

Grease in an oven ignited at the Carl W. Hilton home, 436 S. Beverly, at 3:12 p.m. January 8, causing minor damage in the kitchen. The fire was out when the fire truck arrived.

SIDELIGHTS OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The paths of many local families are currently crossing as some return from holiday vacations and visits, and others leave on annual post-holiday trips. It's "destination: Florida" in most cases although other warm spots are equally in favor, but in any event it's appraent that our "beautiful mantle of snow" has suddenly lost its charm.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dieball and the children returned to 1137 N. Chestnut last Tuesday from a 2-week holiday visit in Boynton Beach, Fla. with Mrs. Dieball's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Csepp, long time Arlington Heights residents. During their Florida stay, the Dieballs enjoyed reunions with other former "localites" Lloyd Sieburg and Mrs. Chloe Walsh, both of Lakeland, and Mrs. Mabel Schaefer, a neighbor of the Cspepps. All sent back greetings via the Dieballs to old friends here.

The Harold Hildebrands of Rolling Meadows were also vacationing in Florida at the time and joined Mr. and Mrs. Dieball for a day of deep-sea fishing and an overnight stay. A visit from Chicago friends, the Gordon Silianoffs, further convinced the Dieball family that the frozen midwest is a good place to be from in mid-January.

Since their return last week, the Dieballs have shoveled snow, lost some of their suntan and observed their 13th wedding anniversary. The last was worthy of celebration and the family dined out Sunday night on the anniversary eve.

THE ROBERT Runyons, 714 E. Euclid, left here the last day of the old year for New Orleans where Mr. Runyon attended a 3-day conference of the National Federation of High School Athletic associations. They stayed on for a week of winter weather, southern style, returning home last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mathews and Lynne returned home to 711 N. Dunton last Friday night after a 3-week holiday visit in Riverside, Cal. with Mr. Mathews' sister and family, the James Dennisons, and their mother, Mrs. Eva Mathews of Wisconsin, who is wintering in California.

With the Dennisons as a "home base" the Mathews enjoyed brief overnight trips to Mexico and Lake Arrowhead, and highlighting the trip was their vantage point view of the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena on New Years day. The Mathews' opinion is that the beauty of the famed parade cannot be overexaggerated. A trip to Disneyland was on Lynne's "must-do" list and this too lived up to her expectations.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Sell, 814 N. Walnut, had a week's respite from midwest weather returning recently from a vacation in the Gulf of Mexico region.

THE JOHN KUIPER family, 822 S. Chestnut, spent the holidays in West Palm Beach, Fla. with Mrs. Kuiper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Schroeder. A Christmas day family celebration was a multi-purpose party that honored the Schroeders on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary and the Kuipers on their silver anniversary. Although the wedding dates were in August, just a week apart, the Florida celebrants of 50 years together chose to save their celebration until it could be shared with their daughter and her husband.

At the Christmas anniversary party Mr. Schroeder also received belated December 8 birthday congratulations. Joining his parents and grandparents for the happy family reunion was the younger John Kuiper, on his Christmas vacation from studies at Cornell Medical school in New York City. Mr. Kuiper returned here a week ago Sunday as his son returned to the east. Mrs. Kuiper stayed in Florida for an additional week to visit a friend in Pompano Beach. She returned home Sunday.

The Robert Wrights, 301 N. Derbyshire, are home again after a week in Kansas City where they divided their time with visiting Mr. Wright's parents, the O. K. Wrights, and Mrs. Wright's mother, Mrs. Henry Ferguson.

MR. AND MRS. William Wysocki, Constance and Stephen, 607 S. Walnut, spent a 10-day holiday vacation in New York with Mrs. Wysocki's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Rieger of Long Island. They were impressed with the traditionally outstanding Christmas show at Radio City and the children especially enjoyed a trip to the top of the Empire State building on a full day of "doing the town" in New York City. After a brief stay with Mr. Wysocki's aunt, Mrs. Ida Studerus in Montclair, N. J., the family ended their eastern trip and returned home a week ago Saturday.

Mrs. Jean Schoeninger with Bobby and Donald, and her sister, Miss Dorothy Arnold, accompanied their mother, Mrs. Dorothy Arnold to Macomb for a holiday visit with their brothers, Robert and Donald and families. Mrs. Arnold stayed in Macomb for an additional week's visit with her sons after her daughters returned home to 530 N. Walnut just before the new year holiday.

Mrs. Robert Sullivan, 823 N. Walnut, greeted the new year in Santa Monica, Cal., where she is spending a month with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Johnson, Jeffrey and Peggy.

Mr. and Mrs. August Schulenburg, 112 S. Evergreen, returned Saturday from a month-long visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Al Kahling, Nan and Mark, in Broomall, Pa.

MRS. HILDA MORATH of Lincolnwood is here for an extended visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Temen, 814 S. Vail, while another daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Servos also of Lincolnwood, vacation in Hawaii. The Temens and Mrs. Morath heard Saturday from the Servoses that they had arrived in Hawaii safely after a voyage in a storm called the worst in 20 years. Mrs. Temens was here to "tsk tsk" sympathetically upon hearing the news as she checked the near zero reading on the outdoor thermometer at 814 S. Vail.

Visitors the past week at the Edward O. McKown home, 1137 N. Mitchell, have been Mrs. McKown's sister and family, the J. D. Phelpses of Fargo, N. D., and her mother, Mrs. George Fraley of Elm Grove, Wis. The Phelps family left last Tuesday and Mrs. Fraley returns to Wisconsin today. Sunday the family group toured the furniture show in Chicago and later were Mr. Fraley's guests at dinner in the Cape Cod room of the Drake hotel.

IN THE LESS hectic atmosphere of a post-holiday weekend, 54 local and Wilmette friends of the James Howards enjoyed a Sunday afternoon cocktail party at 19 S. Walnut. Just relaxing provided all the activity necessary and candid photography with the picture-developed-in-60-seconds camera provided the laughs.

Saturday night at the John Dralles, 1037 S. Dunton, gave local lagging spirits a lift at a "whew-the-holidays-are-over" party. Among the 20 guests enjoying Dralle hospitality and a late buffet supper were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Auman of Berwyn.

Nita Wist was hostess Friday night at a pre-game dinner party for eight girl friends in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wist, 837 S. Vail. After dinner the girls attended the local high school basketball game and the post-game coke dance.

SATURDAY afternoon was relaxing time for Mr. and Mrs. Wist who were guests at a skiing and tobogoning party at the Edward Fords in Barrington where the Fords have given nature an assist to provide an ideal ski slide and toboggan track on Ford home grounds.

Dean Muench hosted 10 friends at an after-school celebration of his 10th birthday Monday in the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Muench, 124 S. Ridge.

THURSDAY, JAN. 15, 1959

The Muenches have a home soda fountain — all that 10 boys 10 years old need to make a party a success and supper was a superfluous item in 10 local homes Monday night.

Guests yesterday at the Muench home were Dallas friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Munger, arriving to attend the furniture convention in Chicago.

Can you imagine pouring turpentine on an open cut? This was the favorite way to prevent lockjaw some years ago. Naturally, we wouldn't think of doing this now. But then, we're lucky. We have tetanus toxoids and antitoxins. Thanks to medical science, lockjaw need no longer be a killer . . . previously, death occurred in 90% of the cases. Children, because of their affinity for cuts, sometimes pick up the tetanus germ. So, if there are young children in your family, be sure to ask your physician about preventive tetanus shots. It's always wise to seek your doctor's advice before using any medicines. And next time you have a prescription to be filled, think of us.

Woman Wins 54-Volume Great Books

Mrs. Alfred Hembd, 1202 Center lane, Arlington Heights, has been named winner of a complete 54-volume set of the Britannica Great Books of the Western World.

This award was presented by the Chicago Sun-Times and is given each week to the person submitting the most interesting letter to the column "Great Ideas from the Great Books." In this Sunday feature, Dr. Mortimer J. Adler, director of the Institute for Philosophical Research, provides answers from the Great Books to questions asked by readers.

IN HER letter, Mrs. Hembd inquired, "What did the great thinkers say about luck or chance? Many superstitions concern 'luck,' good or bad. While insisting we don't believe such things, we walk around ladders and bet money we can't afford on dice or cards, sure of our luck."

Mrs. Hembd is a housewife with five small children. Her husband is the owner of a manufacturing plant. She saw the column in the paper and decided to "give it a try." Mrs. Hembd believes the books which she has won will be invaluable for the children when they get old enough to use them. Her letter was published in the Sun-Times last Sunday. (A

The village manager's plan is to introduce a system of "color codes" to make meters and hydrants readily identifiable.

"WE NOW HAVE several types of meters — all day, and for specific times. With an identifying color, say red for all day types, motorists will know at a glance if this is the kind of parking place they are looking for," he said.

Fire hydrants painted various colors will tell firemen just how large a main they are connected to, and just how much water they can expect. Painting hydrants a color other than silver will also make them stand out against a winter snow and save valuable minutes searching for the hydrant in case of a fire, he said. (AF

Ullock Family Fire Fund Is Now Over $1150 Total

Donations to the Ullock family Fire Fund have passed the $1,550 mark this week, according to Mrs. John Delana, treasurer of the fund group.

Mrs. Delana, president of the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club, also stressed blood donations were "overwhelming" at St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, on behalf of the Ullock family, with the additional request from the hospital that all doners check with Mrs. Emmett Martin, CL 3-5732, in order to keep donations on a schedule which can be handled and absorbed.

THE ULLOCK Family Fire Fund was established the day following the New Year's Day fire which destroyed the personal property of the Thomas Ullock family and caused the death of four-year-old Debra Mayer. The fire swept through the home at 2101 Cardinal dr., Rolling Meadows, between 1:30 and 2 a.m. on January 1. Ullock, his wife Beverly and his 2½-year-old stepson Michael were sent to St. Joseph hospital suffering with severe burns.

Among new major fund-raising events on behalf of the family is a planned benefit dance set for Saturday, Feb. 21, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Arlington Heights VFW post 981, Yale and Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights. The dance will be co-sponsored by the VFW post and local State Farm agents. Ullock is the State Farm representative in Rolling Meadows.

Tickets for the dance will be available at all local State Farm offices including 212 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights; 552 E. Northwest hwy., Palatine; and 302 N. Maple, Mount Prospect.

MAJOR CONTRIBUTORS to the Ullock Family Fire Fund during the past week included Rolling Meadows Policeman Steve Bialo who assisted at the fire scene. Other major contributors were the Arlington Park Automart, Northwest Industrial park, Jewel Food store in Rolling Meadows, Crawford Department store, Arlington Fender and Body shop, Mellick's Rolling Meadows Children's shop and the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club.

A mass contribution for the fund was received from the third-grade class instructed by Sister Mary Odelia at Our Lady of the Wayside school, Arlington Heights. Nine-year-old Gregory Mayer, who escaped the fire without injury, was a member of the class. The donation was made through Sister Mary Arthur, principal and sister superior of the school.

DONATIONS TO the fund may be placed in any of the canisters set in stores in Rolling Meadows, Arlington Heights or Palatine. Mail donations should be directed to Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, or Rolling Meadows City Hall.

Directors of the fire fund are Mayor John Northcote of Rolling Meadows, Rolling Meadows City Attorney John Doyle, and presidents of the three major Rolling Meadows civic clubs — Mrs. Delana of the Junior Woman's club, George Seyter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and William Senofsky of the Lions club. Carl A. Weis, Grand Herder of the Legion of the Moose and national director of civic affairs for the Moose, will be principal speaker Saturday at the enrollment ceremony to be held at

CARL A. WEIS

Des Plaines Moose lodge.

This ceremony, to be held at the lodge building on the north side of Des Plaines, will honor the members of the Legion of the Moose. The legion is the second degree of the Moose Fraternity.

A MOSE TO become a Legionnaire must be willing to contribute of himself beyond that which is expected of the Moose member. The Legion of the Moose has contributed greatly to the furtherance of the program of the fraternity. Some of the buildings at Mooseheart and Moosehaven have been built through the efforts of the Legionnaires. At the present time the Legion of the Moose is underwriting the cost of constructing a summer camp for the boys and girls of Mooseheart. This camp is located nearly 70 miles from Mooseheart near Mt. Morris.

The enrolling of new members, in honor of the members of the Legion, will start at 8 p.m. A party and dance will follow the ceremony.

INVITED GUESTS will include the officers of Fort Dearborn Legion No. 33, Legion of the Moose. This unit includes all of Cook County and is the largest Legion in the Moose domain.

Weis, as national director of civic affairs for the Moose, is in charge of developing and coordinating the community service activities of more than 1,700 Moose lodges throughout the North American continent.

Under his supervision, the Moose lodges every year expend nearly $2 million and more than $50,000 man days of effort for civic and community projects. The overwhelming majority of these projects are in the field of youth service.

Announce Winners

Richard L. Nix, 440 S. Beverley lane, Arlington Heights, was close to his phone at 3 p.m. last Saturday as 5-year-old Sally Benson, 718 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights, reached into the huge red barrel in search of a winning entery.

Sally had the important task of selecting the five lucky registrants who were to win the grand opening prizes offered by the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association. The drawings marked the close of the five-week open house sponsored by the Federal Savings institution in its new Williamsburg Colonial home at 25 E. Campbell st.

WHEN association president Paul E. Collins called to inform Nix that he was winner of the first prize—a Magnavox stereophonic high fidelity instrument with companion speaker—he first thought someone was playing a practical joke on him.

Then he planned how to break the news to Mrs. Nix when she returned from a shopping tour.

The other winners drawn by little Miss Benson as onlookers cajoled her to pick their names were:

Dr. Frank J. Psota, 931 N. Patton, Arlington Heights—General Electric 17 inch portable television set.

William J. Plambeck, 819 S. Vail ave., Arlington Heights—Bell and Howell 3-Lens turret movie camera.

Mrs. Anna Mogren, 712 Salem, Arlington Heights—Polaroid Land camera.

Norman B. Bullerman, 866 Wolf rd., Des Plaines — General Electric Transistor Radio.

Savings and Loan Opening Drew Over 10,000 Visitors

An increase of 38 per cent in new savings accounts was one result of the five-week grand opening celebration of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association in its new home.

New accounts opened during the period, which ended last Saturday, reached 2,739, association president Paul E. Collins reported this week.

More than 10,000 persons registered during the open-house period at the handsome Williamsburg Colonial savings home on Campbell st. in downtown Arlington Heights.

CLIMAX OF the celebration was reached last Friday evening and Saturday, as unusually large crowds produced lines of people waiting patiently to add to present accounts and a numbering system for those seeking to open new accounts.

Directors of the association expressed satisfaction at favorable public reaction to the association's new facilities.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors last Monday night, Charles H. Wilson, board chairman, said the response encouraged the Federal Savings board in its efforts to offer the finest possible facilities for thrift and home-financing.

"One leading member of the community came to me last week," Wilson said, "and asked me to thank the board for this development.

"He said the stimulation we are giving to the savings habit by making it attractive, pleasant, and convenient is meaningful to every man, woman, and child in the community."

Wide Mouth

The mouth of the Amazon river is 167 miles wide. It is the largest river in the world.

IN COLONIAL GARB, commensurate with the architecture, Sally Benson, 5, draws winning names at Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association's closing day of their five-week grand opening. Similarly dressed are Sally's mom, Mrs. Roy Benson, 718 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Don Norton, 16 S. William, Mt. Prospect.

Wilson Is Vice Chairman For Red Cross Campaign

CHARLES H. WILSON

Charles H. Wilson, president of Charles H. Wilson, Inc., realtors, 314 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, will be the vice chairman for north Cook county for the March fund campaign of the American Red Cross.

The announcement was made by John D. Moynahan, west suburban office manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, general chairman of the campaign in suburban villages of Cook and DuPage counties.

CONCERNING the appointment of Wilson, Moynahan said, "Wilson's ability as an organizer, his keen interest in civic affairs, and his experience both as a Red Cross solicitor of former years and in leadership capacities in campaigns of other agencies, convinced us that he was the man for this job of coordination of all north Cook county village chairmen. Wilson is the type of man on whom better communities are built."

A Red Cross solicitor for the past several campaigns, Wilson has also been treasurer of the Arlington Heights Heart Fund campaign. He is chairman of and director of the northwest suburban board of realtors. He is a member of the Lions, American Legion, Scottish Rite, and Shrine.

After attending Indiana university, Wilson served in the Army Ordnance Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson live at 834 S. Belmont lane, Arlington Heights. (B8

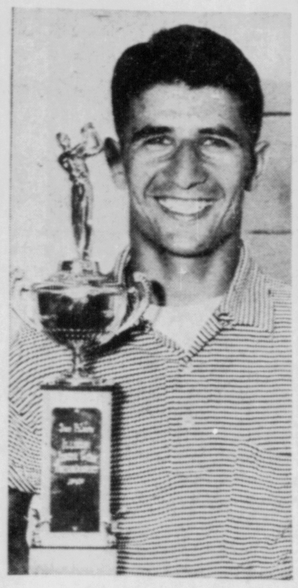
Arlington Youth Buys Golf Club

Mt. Prospect country club has been purchased in the name of a young man who a few years back made golf history as a star of the Arlington high school team.

Richard Hauff, 24, was well-known to sports fans in the high school area when he captured honors in all the local amateur golf tournaments, and then went on to the big circuits. Accepted into membership of PGA at 20, he was possibly the youngest touring pro in the country.

An aura of mystery surrounds his recent activities. Reported to be a "playboy," he has admitted private financial backing in the purchase of the local club. Price has been reported variously between $750,000 and $1 million.



RICHARD HAUFF

ACCORDING to Henry Sophie, former owner, plans are to spend approximately $250,000 to improve facilities and add a swimming pool, and raise the status to a private, members-only club. Eighty acres of the course are within the Mt. Prospect village limits, and the remaining 35-acre tract is outside. Negotiations to purchase additional acreage adjacent to the golf course are reported to have fallen through.

Sophie has said the sale was for golf club purposes rather than subdivision, with a stipulation the property must remain a golf course for five years. Commitments for golf leagues, tournaments and banquets until 1960 will be honored.

THE ONLY CLUB liquor license available in Mt. Prospect is presently held by Sophie. At his request, applications for renewal were delivered to him last Saturday by Mayor Lams and Police Chief George Whittenberg, who hoped to have an opportunity to discuss operation of the club with the new owners.

"No license will be issued," commented Lams, "unless all requirements of chapter 13 of our municipal code are met fully."

Along the Camp Fire Trail

by Dorothy Schomburg — CLearbrook 3-7017

Palatine

The Tanda Camp Fire Girls and the Ela Blue Birds of Quintens Corners school re-enacted the story of the Nativity as part of their Christmas program held in the Legion hall, Lake Zurich, December 15.

Acting as narrator, Nancy Wilcox told the story of the Nativity assisted by Susan Estes as the angel, Cynthia Calkins as Joseph and Mary Knox as Mary. The Blue Birds stood in the background softly singing Christmas hymns.

Following the Nativity scene, Diane Noftz and Lynn Sturm pleased the audience with their piano selections. A community sing, led by Nancy Ciezadle, Randy Calkins and Marlene Burrell, completed the program.

Cookies, chocolate milk and coffee were served after the funfeat and dancing was enjoyed by all. Camp Fire guardian is Mrs. Florence Noftz and Mrs. Mary Youngquist is Blue Bird leader.

Mount Prospect

Neokinah Camp Fire Girls from the Lincoln, Lions Park and Sunset schools went Christmas caroling the evening of December 22. The fifth grade girls had a wonderful time and were pleasantly surprised by the cookies and candies served along the way.

The group met with the Court of Awards and each girl passed her Trail Seeker rank December 13. Honors will be presented by guardian Jane Schiller at a council fire to be held this month.

The last three meetings preceding the holidays were devoted to the making of attractive ceramic tile plate holders for Christmas gifts for the girls' parents. Mrs. Jean Daich kindly consented to instruct the Neokinahs in the project.

Arlington Heights

The January 6 meeting of the Camp Fire Girls district committee was held in the home of Mrs. Robert Roth, 537 S. Chestnut st. Mrs. Glen Rubenking, treasurer, was surprised with a rendition of "Happy Birthday" and swamped with a shower of birthday cards.

Most important on the meeting's agenda was the current Wampum Roundup plans. A. B. Condon, fund drive chairman, submitted his report by proxy and publicity and program reports were centered around this vital business of the year. Letters to the merchants will be folded and mailed by Camp Fire Girls needing service hours to complete rank or citizenship honors.

A. B. Condon, 314 W. Fairview, chairman of the Camp Fire Girls 1959 fund drive in Arlington Heights, has named the following Camp Fire fathers as section EADS: Mirrel R. Kephart, 801 S. Evergreen, South side; Glen Rubenking, 948 N. Fernandez, North side and Edward J. McGrath, 206 E. Rockwell, Scarsdale. Local area captains are John Flodin, 229 N. Yale; Richard Hoppe, 319 N. Wilke rd.; Ellwood Huff, 1022 N. Patton; Bob Southard, 1643 N. Highland; Roy Thompson, 514 S. Dryden; and Weir C. Swanson, 901 S. Highland.

The second annual door-to-door canvass for funds will be held the afternoon of Sunday, Jan. 25, and will be conducted by the fathers of the community's Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls. It is hoped that the residents of Arlington will contribute generously to the wonderful work of building character, training girls to take their rightful place in the world and community, keeping growing minds active and preparing them for healthy, happy womanhood.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS, along with their younger counterparts the Blue Birds, is a rapidly growing organization in Arlington Heights. The first groups were organized a little more than four years ago by a group of mothers who recognized the great need for such an organization for their own daughters. Currently there are five groups of Camp Fire Girls and 17 groups of Blue Birds. Total membership, including the leaders of these groups, is now very close to 400. At the present rate of growth, it is estimated that the total membership could well exceed 1000 within several more years. More groups will have to be formed to make this program readily available to all young girls.

Camp Fire Girls are really three age groups, the Blue Birds (7 to 10 years old), Camp Fire Girls (10 to 15 years) and the Horizon club (15 to 18 years). Basically, the program is designed for each age group. The Blue Birds learn "about growing up," the Camp Fire Girls learn "to grow up" and the Horizon club learn "how to be grown up."

NATURALLY such a program needs financial support of the community—and well deserves this support. To carry on this vast program requires about $11 per girl each year. Most of this money stays right in the community. It is used by the local organization to give the girls the latest and best of equipment and programming. It buys their rank honor beads, certificates of rank and project honors. A small part goes to the Chicago Area Council under whose jurisdiction the local organization works, to help with training programs and field work.

Window displays, explaining the Camp Fire and Blue Bird program and exhibiting group handicraft projects, will highlight the organization's Wampum Roundup plans. The steering committee for the fund drive is now completing its organization plans for canvassers to carry out the campaign.

"In the hope of bringing the finest type of program and necessary camping facilities and equipment to the Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds of the community," said Mrs. Charles W. Johnson, district chairman, "we are appealing for more volunteers this year." Anyone wishing to help may call Mrs. Johnson CL 5-0134, or Mr. Condon, CL 5-7971.

Window displays will be set up in 12 strategic spots in the village and Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds will be responsible for their interesting exhibitions. Posters announcing the fund drive will be placed in various business establishments in the community and Camp Fire Girls will distribute literature caricaturized by P. J. Hoff, CBS weather man. The village hall will be open Sunday, January 25 from 1 p.m. on for area captains and canvassers to return monies collected. Camp Fire Girls will serve the workers coffee and cake upon their return.

IT WAS REPORTED by Mrs. Weir C. Swanson, community service chairman, that 66 corsages were made by Arlington Heights Camp Fire Girls and used as decoration on notions kits distributed to inmates of Elgin State hospital at Christm as time. Chicago Tribune Good Fellows, school kits to overseas friends, mitten tree, and many other service projects were completed by the 22 Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups.

Lelataki Camp Fire Girls held a combined council fire and Christmas party at the home of Alicia Martin December 16. Lighting their white candles, Linda Lee Shipp, Kathy Lynch and Linda Milner were welcomed as new members. The girls who passed a recent Court of Awards received their Trail Seeker rank, charm and honor beads. While the girls presented their mothers with gifts they had made, the mothers reciprocated with gifts for their daughters. Refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the fun-filled party.

Kiyatonga Camp Fire Girls from Wilson school pleasantly surprised this columnist on their rounds of Christmas caroling the evening of December 23. The Schomburg family certainly enjoyed their beautiful singing of the traditional Christmas hymns and carols.

The January 8 meeting of the Elukocita Camp Fire Girls was spent in giving service for the district's fund drive. Letters to merchants were folded and placed in envelopes, together with Camp Fire program material. Plans were also made for fulfilling Wood Gatherers rank requirement three. The group will decorate one of the merchant's show windows for the Camp Fire drive. Chris Hansen and Patty Cleary served the day's treat. (B8

Elk Grove's Worst Accident Kills Two

Another foot of space would have averted two deaths and one of the most violent auto accidents in Elk Grove township's history, according to Deputy Coroner Charles W. Richards.

This was the space lacking last Thursday night which sent the car, in which two northwest suburban youths were riding, careening 128 feet off another car and into a tree at Busse and Algonquin rds. with such force that it took two tow-trucks to pull the wreckage apart.

Juan Salazar, 22, of 109 N. Schoenbeck rd., Prospect Heights, and Lorenzo Duran, 19, of 828 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, were killed immediately upon impact with the tree. The driver of the second car, Jack R. Hines, 27, of 2919 Cardinal dr., Rolling Meadows, was uninjured.

BULLETIN

Jack R. Hines was bound over to the Cook county grand jury Wednesday noon on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. A $5000 appeal bond was set by Judge Richard J. Georgen in a preliminary hearing at the Mt. Prospect village hall.

Hines was found guilty and fined $100 and costs on a second charge of failure to yield the right-of-way. He pleaded innocent to both charges.

ACCORDING to testimony given at the coroner's inquest last Saturday, Hines, heading north on Busse rd., stopped for a stop sign at the intersection of Algonquin and Busse rds.

He then started to make a left turn onto Algonquin rd. when he noted for the first time the lights of the car driven by Duran bearing down on him from the west, Hines said.

He tried to complete his turn and get out of the way, but Duran's car swerved into the westbound lane and sideswiped the right front side of his car, testified Hines.

A WITNESS to the accident, John L. Koch, 2804 Oriole dr., Rolling Meadows, corroborated Hines' testimony, and said that he saw the collision of the two cars when he stopped 30 feet behind Hines on Busse rd.

"I got out of my car, and told Hines I would follow the other car because I thought it was a hit-and-run. Then I saw the other car in flames and pieces of it scattered over the countryside," testified Koch.

Hines, who is charged with involuntary manslaughter and failure to yield the right-of-way, told the six-man coroner's jury he felt he would have had time to make his turn if the car driven by Duran had been going at a "normal speed."

State Trooper E. H. Craig, who arrived on the scene shortly after the accident, agreed with Deputy Coroner Richards, that "there was obviously excessive speed on Duran's part."

"Duran's auto struck the tree with such force that he was thrown 50 feet from the wreckage," said Craig. Salazar's body was pinned in the car.

"The car was literally wrapped around the tree with the engine being thrown 200 feet down the road," said Craig.

DEPUTY CORONER Richards termed the wreck, "the worst I've seen in handling nearly a thousand of these cases."

Duran's left arm and leg were torn off, and, according to Richards, "the heat from the flames was so intense it split Salazar's shin bone." Both bodies were crushed nearly beyond recognition.

John Heinz of Arlington Heights Fender and Body shop said, "It's the worst accident we've ever handled in the area. It took us an hour to remove Salazar's body from the wreckage and another 2½ hours to clear the wreckage."

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death. (B8

'Bakeless Bake Sale' Planned By St. Peter Mothers Club

The Mothers' Club of St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights, will have its "bakeless bake sale" Thursday, Jan. 29, from 9 to 11 a.m. The ways and means committee will sponsor the sale, another of its fund raising projects. Committee members hope for a large turnout to enjoy the cake, coffee and conversation. All donations will be used for school purposes.

The ways and means committee reported at the January 8 club meeting that it will present a style show, with clothes from the Lorraine-Anne Shop in Arlington Heights, February 24. Tickets were distributed to all members.

ALL CHILDREN of the school who have entered the talent and hobby show in any of the six major divisions of music, art, hobbies, handicraft, oral events or manuscript, have been contacted by the committee. The first show will be held February 8 in the school auditorium preparatory to the finals of the Lutheran Day School Talent Festival at Concordia Teachers college in River Forest later in the year.

The social committee reported that the club luncheon will be held this year at Old Orchard country club February 18. Members have a choice of three menus and are urged to get in their reservations.

A. W. OBERMANN, principal, stated that Mrs. Bartz is the new second grade teacher. Finalists from St. Peter who will be in the Lutheran Day school spelling bee at Luther North high school Sunday, Jan. 11, are Linda Blink from the seventh grade and Barbara Magnuson from the eighth grade.

Mrs. Fred Gieseke, president of Mothers' club, read a letter prepared by the board members for use of the planning committee of the church listing suggestions for the new church and school, after which Pastor Bartz gave a progress report on plans for the new buildings.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Ruth J. Williams, food consultant, who gave a lecture demonstration of party and home foods. (A

"DISEASES WHICH AFFLICT US ARE AS DIFFERENT AS THE FEATURES ON OUR FACES"

*(Author's name below)

When a physician treats a sick person, he may first relieve pain or other discomforts, but he always concentrates on curing the cause of the trouble. When people try to treat themselves, they seldom can cure the cause because of lack of knowledge of how to properly diagnose.

Home remedies that temporarily relieve pain can sometimes create severe danger, because they enable the disease to take a firmer hold and eventually to become more difficult or impossible to cure. Always let your physician determine the cause of your sickness and prescribe the proper treatment and you will prevent serious trouble.

Dining Out? - The Billboard

AN ALL-GERMAN BAND, made up of musicians from Arlington high school, provide entertainment for the estimated 300 guests of the village Sunday at the Open House in the new municipal building. Crowds were also feted to music by the Barbershoppers, and were served cookies and coffee.

INSIDE THE MAMMOTH municipal garage, Arlington Heights residents saw the result of much "spit and polish," as village vehicles were brought to like-new appearance for Sunday's Open House. The January 11 display was held for two reasons: to allow villagers to meet their new village manager, Leonard A. Hanson, and to show off new equipment and facilities. Village fathers were present during the three hour display.

The Arlington Heights Lions will conduct a program of safety instruction for those of their hosts who are do-it-yourself fans. A demonstration of power tools and other equipment by Arlington high school students, under supervision of Instructor Avon Reeves, will be presented, along with a film on the safe use of power tools, according to C. W. Lussman, attendance committee chairman. (AF

Library Features Chinese Exhibition for Children

The children's department at the public library this month is exhibiting Chinese articles which show the culture and craftsmanship of the people of that ancient civilization.

Since much attention and concern are focused on the people of China today, perhaps it is important that we learn as much as possible about them. The delicate, colorful china; the luxurious beauty of brocaded silk; the graceful brass pieces; the fascinating figurines reveal a skill and an appreciation of beauty that have never been surpassed.

IN CONJUNCTION with the exhibit, the library is displaying its collection of children's books on China, both factual and fiction. To realize the great and sudden changes that have taken place in recent years, it is necessary to become acquainted with the way in which the Chinese live. For thousands of years the Chinese changed more slowly perhaps than any other people. Although young readers may not be able to understand all the changes that have taken place in China, the reading of books about Chinese children and their former way of life will give them a background on China and an appreciation of the Chinese people that will be an excellent basis for future study.

"How Did They Live," by Raymond Fawcett, gives an excellent picture of this wise and cultured people. "The World Geography Reader—China," by Theodore Badley, describes the Chinese at work, his religion, his home, his festivals, and his gifts to the world. "China, Country of Contrasts," by Mary A. Nourse and Delia Goetz, discusses the country from still another point of view.

Among the story books for the very young are: "The useful Dragon of Sam Ling Toy," by Glen Dines, a beautifully illustrated and simply told tale; "Mei Li," by Thomas Handforth, a story showing the cheerful dispositions and the respectful manners of Chinese children and their way of celebrating the New Year—a way quite different from ours,' "Little Peare and the Rabbits," by Frances Lattimore; "Whiskers of Ho Ho," by Littlefield; "Lee Po's Search," by Hester Hawkes; and "Umbrella," by Taro Yashimo.

FOR OLDER boys and girls there are a number of interesting tales, one of which is: "Young Fu of the Upper Yangtze," by Elizabeth Lewis, the story of the daily life of an intelligent coppersmith's apprentice whose life is a battle between the influence of the superstitions of a hundred generations and the new spirit that is rejuvenating an age-old civilization. "Footprints of the Dragon," by Virginia Oakes, which tells of the part the Chinese (especially a 15-year-old boy) had in building the first transcontinental railroad in America in the 1860's; and "Li Lun, Lad of Courage," an absorbing, dramatic tale of a Chinese boy who refused to go on his first fishing voyage, are two others.

Other worthwhile books include "Ho-ming, Girl of New China," by Elizabeth Coatsworth; "Little Wu and the Watermelons," by Liu; "Tan's Fish," by Todd; "Little Red Dragon," by Urbahn; and "Green Ginger Par," a mystery by Judson.

PETE HERBST

It has long been a policy of Louis to purchase as many products as possible that are made locally or distributed locally. Not only are the products unusually good, but it certainly makes for better relations.

Here are some of the items we handle that are made and distributed locally: PET MILK, a Wisconsin product that is distributed locally; a product that is known for QUALITY. Then there is M & S Pizza; a local firm makes and distributes same and, if I do say so myself, it is certainly delicious and ready for the oven. Last, but not least, Double-Pop Popcorn, that gives you big tender kernels, that are just right for these long winter evenings.

Remember, if you want to be "The Hostess with the Mostess", the place to shop for those "EXTRA Special Items" is Stefanik's Food and Dairy Store. Just ask for Pete.

Adventurer to Address Couples Club on Friday

A world traveler, lecturer and cameraman, Robert H. Bacon, will inaugurate the new year for the Couples club of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, January 16. Bacon, who with his wife last year traveled around the world, will give his impressions of the Soviet Union in a talk, "The Human Side of Russia."

He will bring with him a film of present-day Russia in which he takes his viewers on a trip down the Volga and Don rivers; shows them the new apartment house projects at Leningrad with inside views of the living quarters; lets them watch the Children's railway at Rostov where 1,000 children from seven to 17 are taught every phase of the railway industry by operating a half-size railroad system.

Viewers will also visit Georgia, Stalin's home country, where, Bacon says, the scenery rivals that of the Yosemite country in the United States.

BACON, OWNER of a clipping bureau for business, industrial, trade, farm and consumer magazines, is a traveler by avocation. He and his wife have visited almost every part of the world, and in his talks he is able to offer comparisons of sights and peoples of various nations.

Recently he appeared before the Western Society of Engineers and at Sunset Ridge Country club. The former was a for-men-only affair but proved so popular that both Mr. and Mrs. Bacon have been scheduled to appear at the club's next ladies' night.

Couples club meetings begin at 6:45 with a potluck supper at the church. All interested married couples are invited. Hosts for this meeting are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tindall, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson.

the HARRIS huddle

CORA DORNAN

How about those everlovin' appetites? Are they jaded, do you think you need a change of pace at lunchtime? Then I'd say you'd better stop at Harris Pharmacy Luncheonette; that's the place where you really get home-cookin'.

Honestly, we do serve some of the best "vittles" that you will find in any restaurant. I've spent the biggest part of my life purveying food and I think I know my business. You'll find that the flavor of the food is different, it has that flavor that whets your appetite, and you won't need the proverbial Martini to make you want to eat. Incidentally, we have lots of people who drop in for Sunday morning breakfast. Why don't you try it?

I'm usually on duty and I'll be glad to welcome all my friends and strangers. (A stranger is a friend I've never met.) See ya'.

One Year to Live!

The train was speeding at 70 miles an hour across northern Indiana. Two women passengers were engaged in animated conversation. The one had just finished recounting the terrible experiences of her husband in the South Pacific

Finally she was heard to say: "The doctors give him only one more year to live, so he's working almost night and day on his invention."

One year to live! What would you do if you knew that this year was your last? No matter what other plans you make, none could be more important than getting right with God.

Getting right with God involves two things. The first is an honest acknowledgement of our unworthiness in His sight, a frank confession of our sins

And the second is a firm reliance upon the atoning death of Jesus Christ—not only for the sins of the world in general but for our sins in particular.

Whether we have 1 year to live or 50, there still is nothing more important for us right now than getting right with God. Life knows no greater purpose.

One Mammoth High School For Area Was 1915 Dream

A 44-year-old newspaper editorial served as an example this week of the northwest suburban area's increasing responsibility for high schools.

The editorial, which appeared in the DuPage County Register (one of 13 Paddock Publications) dated April 2, 1915, was recently found in an Itasca residence undergoing remodeling.

A THEN-existent Elk Grove high school board stimulated publication of the article at a time when Elk Grove was in litigation with Palatine against the Arlington Heights high school district.

It's evident from the editorial, reprinted below, that the editor had little vision of the high school's future. He estimated future assessed valuation at $5 million with a five mills tax rate bringing in revenue of $20,000.

The only figure correct today is the estimate of 40 to 60 acres for a good high school site.

Today, the combined assessed valuation of Arlington and Palatine high school districts is $253 million with an annual budget of more than $3 million.

This is the 1915 editorial, published under the heading "One Great School for All; The Logical, Most Economical and Practical Solution That Has Yet Been Advanced:"

A GREAT HIGH school for western Cook County and Southern Lake County is a possibility. Strange to say the idea originated in a number of minds at the same time. School men of Arlington Heights have been thinking of the idea for about a week, but it was only last Friday that two of them had a conversation on the subject and the idea appeared so practical that it found favor with others of that city.

The past month a number of farmers residing in the Elk Grove district have been advocating one big high school for all. Their talk had started a number of Palatine men to thinking. At first the idea seemed so far off, that no one gave it real serious thought, although all admitted that such a school would become a reality at some future time.

Tuesday evening at meetings of the Palatine Boards of Education the matter was discussed and President R. L. Peck stated that the people of Elk Grove district were ready to talk over a consolidation of that school district with Palatine. He also stated that a number of Schaumburg farmers had called on him and expressed a desire to join such a district. He stated further that he had heard rumors that Arlington Heights might look with favor on such a plan. The following reasons were advanced why such a high school district is the only correct solution of the high school problem in this territory.

THE ELK GROVE High School district will be compelled according to the law to start building within a short time. If they build, the tax rate will necessarily be high and it will be far cheaper for them to be a part of the Palatine High School district.

With the Elk Grove district in effect, Arlington Heights is so bottled up that it will be financially impossible for them to build a high school of their own, of the magnitude that is should be.

Palatine's present needs are well taken care of, but it is only a question of time before the high school would be compelled to vacate present building and build.

Barrington is likewise placed. The southern end of Lake county could be part of the district with profit to them and at small expense.

SUCH A TERRITORY would have an assessed valuation of over $5,000,000 and Oak Park is the only high school in Cook County with a greater valuation.

The taxes would be low because even a small amount of five mills would bring a revenue of $20,000 a year.

Such a school would make possible the greatest agricultural high school in this part of the country. Forty or even sixty acres of land could be purchased and the agricultural department would be in charge of an expert from and be conducted along the lines of the agricultural department of the University of Illinois.

Such a school would give the school children of this territory an opportunity not offered by any other high school in the state of Illinois.

It would be a school that would be known throughout the state.

It would make such high schools as Maywood and Des Plaines look like a little one-room country school.

It is such a school as the future generation will have and it rests with the people of this territory whether they are ready for it. As far as the pocketbook is concerned it would be economy. As far as the value to the school children is concerned, it could not be surpassed. (B12

2 Paving Contracts Awarded

Two big grading and paving contracts, totaling $5,241,504, for the Northwest expressway were awarded Monday by the county board.

The contracts cover work on a three mile section of the expressway between Canfield road on the west and Central ave. on the east.

With the letting of the contracts, Daniel Ryan, board president, repeated his prediction that the county's section of the expressway will be completed by the end of 1959. This is the seven mile leg from a connection with the tollroad near O'Hare airport and the hookup with Edens expressway near Montrose and Cicero. The portions under state and City of Chicago jurisdiction are not expected to be finished until late in 1960. These segments are those running into the heart of Chicago.

THE PAVING contracts are the second and third let by the county. The first, awarded in December, is for construction along 1.5 mile route between Canfield and the toll road. The first contract was let to Robert A. Black, Inc., for $1,168,831.

The two contracts awarded Monday went to Arcole Midwest corp. Its low bids were $2,992,526 for the stretch between Central and Normandy aves. and $2,248,978 between Normandy and Canfield. They call for dual 36-foot pavements separated by a 53-foot median.

Bids will be sought soon for paving the county's remaining 2.5 mile section between Central and Cicero, Ryan said. (B8

Arlington Caucus To Meet February 16

The Arlington Heights Caucus has set February 16 as the date for its next public meeting. It will be held at the South Junior high school and is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting is to introduce potential candidates for public office, recommended by the candidate recommendation committee. From these, any others nominated from the floor, the group will select by vote a final slate of candidates for the village elections in April. (A

Appeal Is Issued For TB Support

Supporters of the Chicago campaign against tuberculosis responded to a special appeal for funds last week with almost $25,000.

A "Do-It" day appeal was made on December 28, by Dr. Edgar W. Swanson, chairman of this year's Christmas Seal Sale. Newspapers and radio co-operated in making the special request for funds because the Christmas Seal contributions were falling far short of the goal of $800,000.

"This heartwarming response to 'Do-It' day had raised our total receipts to $661,755 by January 6," said Dr. Swanson. "And although this is still a long way from our goal, it is at least a long step in the right direction.

"I want to personally thank every person who sent in his contribution as a result of the Do-It request," Dr. Swanson continued.

HE ALSO emphasized that it is still not too late to send in Christmas Seal contributions. "The fight against contagious TB is not limited to a time of the year or to the time of a fund-raising drive," he said. "This is a year-round fight, and the money is used year-round."

The Tuberculosis Institute's entire free program of protective services is supported solely by Christmas Seals.

Last year the program included chest X-rays, for 1,101,365 persons in communities and industries and tuberculin tests for 32,924 students in public and parochial elementary and high schools.

Grants to scientists engaged in tuberculosis research were increased as were health education programs for communities, industries and schools. Another important service was on-the-job training for TB patients to fit them for a normal productive life after discharge from the sanitarium.

FAILURE TO meet the goal of this year's Christmas Seal Sale would necessitate a cut-back in some of these important services.

"We sincerely hope this will not happen," said Dr. Swanson. "TB in the Chicago area right now is well on its way to being controlled. Any cut-back of services will endanger this progress."

Local Cancer Society Has Sickroom Supplies on Loan

V. L. Bedingfield, chairman of the Northwest Suburban chapter of the American Cancer society, reminds residents of the area that the Northwest office at 121 S. Emerson st., Mt. Prospect, CLearbrook 3-8148, has supplies which are given out to cancer patients in the local area. Dressings of various sizes, bed jackets and other needs can be obtained there. Also they have on loan hospital beds, sides for beds, wheel chairs and other small sickroom articles. Anyone in need of these articles may get in touch with Mrs. Kolerus at the office between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. each weekday. This is one of the most important services the cancer group is offering in this area. (B8

Pesty Phone Solicitors Plague Area Home Owners

By JACK MARTIN

Suburbanites plagued by telephone solicitors and unethical salesmen who invade their doorsteps have often taken their woes to Arlington Heights' chamber of commerce.

How does one handle the voice over the telephone who offers to re-carpet the entire house, sell you a vacuum cleaner that does everything but orbit, and invariably asks "Do you own your home?"

WILBERT C. Hartman, chamber manager, suggests that the potential buyer tell the solicitor to write a letter giving full details of the proposition or project, which will then be given consideration.

Hartmann says this usually ends the matter. If the salesman or, as in many cases, the saleswoman persists, the best technique is to cradle the receiver, i.e., hang up!

Before committing the family trust fund to a seemingly worthwhile charity, Hartmann suggests the following precautions:

Learn the exact name and address of the soliciting organization, as well as the names of its principals. Certain questionable organizations have intentionally adopted names that are similar to well known charities.

PAY NO attention to unordered merchandise or tickets accompanied by request for payment. You are under no obligation to pay for them. If pressed for payment on the merchandise, tell the promoter to retrieve it promptly, or you will charge him storage.

Request confirmation by letter when solicited by phone. "Boiler room tactics" (high pressure sales) are not employed by legitimate organizations.

Complete Plans for Mother's March on Polio January 27

Final plans are taking shape in Arlington Heights for the annual Mother's March which climaxes the March of Dimes campaign.

The one-hour, one-night march will take place between 7 and 8 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 27.

The mothers, who in the past helped make possible the discovery of Salk vaccine, this year will be marching to raise funds for a greatly expanded program of the National Foundation.

March of Dimes funds will now be used for much-needed research, patient aid and medical education in the fields of birth defects and arthritis, as well as polio.

Mrs. G. William Sullivan, 415 S. Windsor dr., of the Arlington Heights Womans club, is general chairman for the 1959 March of Dimes in Arlington Heights. She named Mrs. Stephen Murphy, 9 S. Salem, as suburban chairman of the 1959 Mothers' March for the drive.

MRS. LYLE WILSON Ewing Jr., another Womans club member, will be treasurer. Mrs. Stanley Olson is school chairman; Wilbert Hartmann of the chamber of commerce is chairman of the coin container drive and Mrs. Earl Ogier is co-chairman of the coin drive. Nicholas Lattof is serving this year as general chairman of the March of Dimes in the northwest suburban area.

The Woman's club has again taken a sponsoring role for the Mothers' March this year. Many assistants are volunteering for the January 27 march but if there are others who wish to help, they can call Mrs. Murphy at CL 3-5581.

When the mother calls on her neighbors the night of January 27, she will be wearing a white glove, symbolizing "The Hand of Mercy" reaching out to the heart of the giving public. (A

Presbyterian Women in New Circle Groups

All but two circles will meet in members' homes. Circle 2 will meet at the church and circle 15 will meet in the house on the church propert

THE BIB Y for this year will be based on the Book of Acts. A study booklet entitled "The Spirit and the Church" by George Hunt will be used as a guide.

This will be a get-acquainted meeting, with no formal program planned. Members of the stewardship committee will be prepared to answer questions regarding the association's plan of pledging "shares" to meet the budget. (AK

Night School Registration Is Slated January 19, 20

The Arlington high school library will be open for registration for the spring term of the adult education program from 7 to 9 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, January 19 and 20.

Mail registrations have been coming in to the high school for more than a week, but openings exist in a number of classes for which additional registrations can be accepted.

A NUMBER OF new courses have been added to the offerings of the program for the spring term, and more than sixty favorites of past seasons are being repeated. Among the new courses for which adults have been registering and in which additional registrations can be accepted are the course in astronomy to be taught by H. C. Torreyson, local resident who has constructed his own observatory. Concerned principally with natural celestial objects, the course will include some observing if weather permits.

Leotta Hampton, member of the high school staff, will teach a new course in world affairs, an informal discussion based upon current materials and planned for those with an interest in becoming more informed about events of the day. The discussions will not require the use of a text, nor a great deal of formal preparation, but are designed for those interested in increasing their knowledge of affairs of the day and in reading with greater understanding.

A FIVE-WEEK workshop in audio-visual materials is planned under the direction of Charles Miller, audio-visual director at Arlington high school. The course is practical in nature, concerned with selection and operation of different types of equipment such as 16mm motion picture projectors, slide and filmstrip projectors and tape recorders. One session will be devoted to the use of art materials in showcase and bulletin boards, with a specialist from the art department discussing materials and answering questions. This course is practical in nature and is designed for those in church and community groups as well as for teachers who have occasion to select materials and operate equipment.

A variety of office machines will be available for the instruction in the new course in office practice to be taught by Mrs. Hazel Faulkner, chairman of the high school's business education department. Calculating machines, bookkeeping machines, dictaphones, ditto process, mimeographs and electric typewriters will be included as part of the instruction. Each individual will be permitted to select the machines of greatest interest and enrollments will be limited to assure sufficient time at the machines.

Aptitude testing will be available as a part of the new course under the direction of Valjean Cashen of the Arlington high school staff. The particular tests for each individual will be determined on the basis of interviews during the early meetings, with appointments scheduled for testing and counseling on an individual basis. Young adults and others who have questions about future career plans may be helped to a better understanding of themselves and their particular interests and aptitudes through the testing process.

THE LECTURE course on salesmanship is scheduled to begin on March 4 for eight weeks, instructed by Floyd Fulle, editor of the Des Plaines Suburban Times. Sales approach, planning the presentation, closing the sale, building repeat business are all included in the course which Fulle plans, and which he has been teaching very successfully for a number of years in a nearby school program.

Creative self - expression through the modern dance form as well as rhythm exercises will be included in the new course instructed by Mary Prust at the Prospect high school building on Tuesday evenings. Increased grace and body contour are natural by-products of regular participation in this activity.

A review of United States history and Constitution will be presented through informal discussion in the American history course to be taught by Maurice Klotz of the high school's social science department. This class may be taken for high school credit if desired but the discussions are planned to be of interest to those who have completed their high school work but would like to review again the history of their country with the perspective that maturity brings.

IN ADDITION to the new courses listed, there will be classes in the school's well-equipped woodshop and machine shop, and classes in blueprint reading and mechanical drawing, sliderule, color photography, algebra, geometry and trigonometry. The bookkeeping class is scheduled for Wednesday evening, as well as the intermediate shorthand course for those who have had the beginning ten-weeks of instruction in Gregg system. Beginning typing is taught on Wednesday, with an intermediate class on Monday for those with a knowledge of the keyboard who need review and speed exercises. Also on Monday evening is a class in shorthand refresher in Gregg system which reviews the forms and provides an opportunity to increase dictation speed.

The art rooms at both Arlington and Prospect high schools will be in use three evenings a week with a full complement of classes ranging from beginning ceramics and beginning painting to sculpture, copper enameling, advanced painting, drawing and advanced ceramics. Although the enrollments in all art classes are limited to provide the maximum of personal supervision, there are a few openings in each section at present.

Interior decorating continues to be a favorite subject for homemakers concerned with producing the most attractive background for family activities, and two sections of the popular subject meet at the Hilltop studios, one on Monday and one on Tuesday. Millinery instruction provides another popular activity for women in the community in the classes meeting in the Arlington building on Monday and Wednesday evenings. Courses in tailoring, dressmaking and beginning sewing continue in great demand, and only a few openings exist in these courses.

A REVIEW OF dictation and grammar for more effective letter and speech writing is the principal concern of the class in effective English offered on Monday evenings under the instruction of Joan Peterson. Newcomers to this country and others whose native language is not English may work toward improvement in reading and writing English in the beginning English course on Wednesday evenings with Mrs. Florence Sorokin instructing.

A course new in the fall semester which proved to be one of the most popular is again offered this spring by Charles Sayre in the class in securities and investing on Tuesday evenings. The 10 week course is "common sense" in its approach to the fundamentals of money management, types of securities and the reading of financial information. No specific investments are discussed or recommended, but the individual is encouraged to gather information for the making of decisions on planning a family investment plan.

Recreational opportunities are not neglected in the course listings, with classes in square dancing, ballroom dancing, bridge, charm, fencing, physical recreation for women and for men, and instruction in piano and in Hammond spinet organ.

The foreign language courses have an enthusiastic following, but no beginning sections are included in the spring term since not enough material could be covered to provide real accomplishment. Additional registrations are accepted from persons having some previous instruction for the classes in French, German, Italian, Russian and Spanish which resume with the other second classes.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION

Last year a fire in a nearby town put several stores out of business during the entire holiday shopping. Their fire insurance covered the building and stock, but what about the fatal loss of income during this season? Dear Homemaker:

Almost as quickly as the old year changed to the new, we've made a big change in your 11 Dunton St. Jewel. In only 4 days, we've turned it into as modern a food store as you could find!

Everything inside is brand spanking new ... the fixtures, shelves, meat and frozen food cases. New automatic registers and check-out counters now replace the old ones so we can give you faster, more efficient service. Yes, we removed all but the walls and the floors when we remodeled for you.

All that remains are those same friendly Jewel folks who have served you for many years. They join me in inviting you to attend our gala Grand Re-Opening Celebration this weekend. We're anxious to show you what we've done to make your Jewel shopping more of a pleasure than ever!

Sincerely,

Marty's Column

Religious Fears Are Groundless

By MARTIN E. MARTY

Fears of many sorts have a way of haunting most of us. We turn to religion as one of the ways to dispel some of them, and to find some sort of peace.

It is strange and tragic then, that the religions of America are themselves often regarded as capable of inspiring fears.

I don't usually think of them that way, but an assignment last week forced me to see them through the eyes of people who do.

The mid-western leaders of the National Council of Christians and Jews were meeting to discuss inter-group tensions. They are on the firing-line when these tensions erupt.

Three men were given the task of taking them "behind the scenes" to describe attitudes in the various religious communities.

DR. JEROME KERWIN of the University of Chicago was to speak on Roman Catholic fears. Philip Jacobson of the American Jewish committee spoke on Jewish fears, and I on Protestant fears.

It seemed to all of us to be a strange way of putting the question.

First of all, the religious communities should have little cause to fear in 1959. They never had it so good. What is more, the mass of Americans don't get into each others' hair, religiously, either because they are people of good will or because they just don't give a hang.

Kerwin and Jacobson shared my puzzlement at the assigned topic. We have come together at least three times recently at similar seminars. Kerwin as a Catholic does not fear. Jacobson as a Jew or me as a Protestant. Vice versa. I don't fear my neighbors and, I hope, they don't fear me. I don't think they are conspiring to "take over America" in the name of their faiths and I don't think they think I think "we" could or should. Why then the fears?

IT TURNED OUT in the discussion that while Americans are doing better in personal relations, we experience fears when we view each other as members of power blocs.

Kerwin said Catholics fear customs in communities where there are Protestant majorities. Jacobson said that Jewish children's rights are trampled when Christianity is introduced into public schools. I described Protestant concerns over Catholic legislative aspirations and achievements at the expense of non-Catholic liberties.

Fear need not always be bad. It can produce a creative insecurity, an alertness. Dr. Leo Pfeffer has recently argued that "Creeds in Competition" have provided and do provide the great safeguards to American liberty. It is when fears become anxieties that we get into trouble. Nameless, faceless fears erupt in obsessions; crosses burn, synagogues are bombed, children all called names. No one profits.

THERE ARE some things, it seems to me, that we can do. The NCCJ people are preoccupied with some of these. The first is to be faithful to our own beliefs, to be informed. A Christian, for example, who has learned trust of God need not fear men. He is not going to confuse the power of religious institutions with the authentic Christian quest. He is going to learn how far removed are hate and abuse from the living and loving center of his faith.

We can do more; we can learn about each other. What are the hopes and dreams of others? We may, in seminars such as the NCCJ meeting, pick up some new fears. But these intelligent concerns are better than the "nameless, faceless" superstitions which provide raw material for massive mistrust.

And we can take a good deal of comfort from the growing health of person-to-person relations on the American scene. Against the pattern of the past, who's afraid?

Fine Christmas Message Lauded

Mr. McShane's Christmas message "No Room in Our Hearts and Minds" was superb, but was printed too late! Couldn't this whole half page Christmas message be reprinted each year, about two weeks before Christmas?

That is the time of year when it should be printed, to bring us to a quick stop and make us think over our mad holiday rush and whether we are making room in our hearts and minds or not.

Christmas Day is too late for such a fine message.

Letters to the Fence Post

Taxpayer Blames Laws For Trailer Park Load

(Letters to the Fence Post must be short and concise. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld from publication on request. Address letters to: The Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Ill.)

In the letter from "Mrs. Trailerite," I'm afraid the lady has missed the point entirely regarding the resentment of people who live in trailer parks.

Granted, there are many people who regard trailer folks with disdain because of the outward impression many trailer parks give to those passing by. I know that all parks are not monstrosities nor all the people trash. I have worked with many people who live in trailer parks and also have friends who own their own beautiful trailers with all the latest gadgets and appliances, that are anchored in lovely, well-kept parks with rigid rules to conform to so they are kept that way. For most, these are temporary homes while their husbands are working on roads and projects of various types.

However, the main reason the trailerites are resented is because they are definitely not carrying their fair share of the expenses involved in educating their children. It costs just as much for their children to be educated as the property owner who is paying a redundant amount in real estate taxes. The law, of course, is at fault for the overload on property owners. The present system hasn't kept up to date with the changing times.

As far as the personal property tax is concerned, few people do pay and that is grossly unfair to those who do. However, I'd be ashamed to admit that I refused to pay such a paltry sum for the services I enjoy, considering that trailers do not come under the classification of real estate and that is the only tax that can be submitted to the owners of trailers under the present laws. A trailer is a vehicle on wheels that can be long gone before the taxing bodies can enforce payment. But the trailerite makes use of service that costs the property owner from 700 per cent to 1500 per cent or more than the trailerite is asked for in personal property tax, that many of them refuse to even acknowledge let alone pay.

I happen to know that some of the better trailer parks only charge up to $45 per month for a choice space that trailers are parked upon. They also charge extra for children at about $1 per child. I daresay the proprietors of these parks don't pay a fair share of that amount for their real estate taxes.

There are many of us who have no school age children or any children and yet we still have to pay the same amount as the home owner with many children each year, because of the increase in schools, etc., whose services we get little direct advantage from. But we do it without complaint altho we would appreciate a fairer distribution of tax bills.

It has been confirmed that the personal property tax is unworkable and certainly hasn't been enforceable so a new system should be set up whereby trailer residents pay a monthly fee toward the education for their children directly to a special fund for that purpose. Then when they move on to another location their account would be up to date.

I'm sure I can safely say that the majority of property owners don't resent trailers as such, except those that are overcrowded and unkempt, but we do resent having to carry more than our load of real estate taxes so that the trailerite's children can get the same education gratis that home owners' children get from our exorbitant taxes. Assuming their share of the tax load would certainly tend to make most of us feel more kindly toward the trailer residents and give us the impression they were more responsible citizens willing to pay their way, just as we have to.

And I certainly hope the politicians will be moved from their inertia and spend some time planning a way to relieve property owners and permit trailer folks to take their rightful place in the area in which they reside now at our expense.

To "Mrs. Trailerite" and her neighbors, I'd like to say I hope she can see the problem from our angle and that we are sure she is just as nice a neighbor as many of ours and will certainly be less apt to resent having to pay her share if the politicians ever get busy and permit her to.

It is easy to get the school children to follow a straight and narrow path—all you need is a corner house with a lovely lawn in front of it.

A happy marriage is one in which each party understands perfectly when money matters, and when it doesn't.

The Way We See It

Deluge of Trailers Burden Schools; Action Needed

If you were told you'd have to pay your neighbor's real estate tax this spring as well as your own, you'd refuse.

Yet, that's exactly what's happening to property owners in suburban Cook county to the tune of over a half-million dollars annually as trailer camps in the area continue to grow in number and size.

With the current exodus to the suburbs have come trailers — 7,000 at the latest count. Trailers bring children, and children bring a need for more classrooms and school facilities. But because of Illinois' antiquated tax laws, funds for the needed facilities come not from the trailer camp owners nor the trailerites, but from the permanent residents of the school district.

Trailer camps are assessed and taxed as real estate. But the few improvements on such land give it only a slightly higher assessment rate than farm land.

Trailers are assessed and taxed as personal property. But all too often, the trailerite is not around to pay the bill. Trailers, according to the Mobile Homes Manufacturers association, are moved on the average of once every 20 months.

Less than 5 per cent of trailer owners pay their personal property tax, according to one township assessor. And it would hardly pay the state's attorney's office to spend $150 in locating and prosecuting a mobile home owner for $60.

Other trailer owners, said a township tax collector, are seldom billed, though their names are submitted to the county.

Nowhere is the problem better illustrated than in Elk Grove school district 59, located in the middle of a booming northwest suburban area.

In 1956, there were 24 trailer owners from the district on the personal property tax rolls. One paid his personal property bill by the June 7, 1957, deadline.

In 1957, there were 65 trailers on the rolls. Bills were sent out last May. Thus far, three owners have paid a total of $101.68. This sum is less than a third the cost of educating one child in school district 59.

Today there are approximately 500 trailers in the district's four trailer camps. They send more than 300 children to the district's two schools.

It costs more than $93,600 annually to educate these children. Yet school district 59, said a township official, will be lucky to get more than a few hundred dollars from trailer owners in the district in 1959.

A fifth trailer court is now under construction in the district and calls for 300 trailer sites. This, plus a petition seeking rezoning of 10.5 acres in the district for another trailer park, could conceivably double the number of trailers in the district in the coming year.

In a letter to the Fence Post last week, a "Mrs. Trailerite" asked if the community wishes for "us to keep our children at home?"

Certainly not. Trailerite children have as much right to a tuition-free education as other children. Their parents, however, also have equal obligations with those of other parents and property owners to shoulder a fair share of the tax load.

Mrs. Trailerite also professes a recognition of the problem created by the sudden influx of trailers into the school district.

But, while she and everyone else concerned with overcrowded school facilities are aware of the problem, nothing is done.

School authorities, trailer camp owners, state legislators, county commissioners, and trailerites, all express a willingness to cooperate in helping solve the problem, and yet the situation continues.

While a long range solution must and should be reached through legislative processes, positive, concrete action is needed immediately in Elk Grove school district 59, and anywhere else an unjust disparity exists in the taxes paid by trailer and real property owners.

Trailer camp operators in district 59 assured Paddock Publications last week that they are willing to sit down with school authorities in good faith and "work out an equitable solution."

Such a solution, two of the trailer camp owners said, would consist of financial aid on their part.

The district school superintendent also expressed a willingness last week to meet "anytime, anywhere" with trailer camp owners.

So gentlemen, let's meet!

As for a long range plan. County Commissioners Fred Fulle and John Mackler have both expressed the opinion that a state tax specifically designed for trailers will solve the problem.

Such a tax, says John W. Carroll, state representative from the 6th district, is being considered by a state legislative committee.

Should the committee fail, however, to introduce legislation for a trailer tax in the coming session, Carroll said he would do so independently.

All agree that action is needed, and until action is taken, all will suffer.

Trailerites will continue to be scorned for evading their rightful share of the tax burden. Home owner's taxes will continue to rise. Trailer court owners will be accused of greed and irresponsibility, and school officials will find their classroom problems continuing to grow.

The highest price, however, will be paid by the children of both trailerites and homeowners. It is they who, because of crowded school facilities and fund shortages, are denied a decent educational opportunity.

Controls for Teen Drivers Proposed

DuPage county's two Republican state representatives from Elmhurst, John Erlenborn and Lee Daniels, plan to jointly introduce legislation in the term just begun at Springfield aimed at grounding young offending motorists sooner than in the past.

The amendment of existing regulations which allow 16 and 17-year old motorists three convictions before their licenses are suspended would cut the number of proven offenses to one and then the young drivers would find their motoring privileges completely revoked until they reach 18.

Such a move, as far as we are concerned, has been too long in coming. Often, we prefer to practice tolerance with incidents involving teenagers, but it seems that this sort of consideration can no longer be considered in deference to the many innocent persons often affected.

The sooner young drivers gain respect for the responsibilities they acquire when they seat themselves behind the wheel of a motor vehicle, the sooner the accident rates involving this age group will begin to drop.

There's no place in this area for hot rodders on public thoroughfares.

Hand of Mercy Deserves Support

On Tuesday, January 27, from 7 to 8 p.m., thousands of mothers in Chicago and 80 suburbs will conduct a door-to-door Mothers' March to raise funds for the 1959 "greater victories" March of Dimes campaign.

This year the March of Dimes marching mother will be identified by the white glove she will wear as a symbol of the "hand of mercy."

For the last seven years, during one hour of one cold January night, more than 55,000 women in Cook county have marched for the March of Dimes. These devoted volunteers annually raise approximately one-third of the total collected by the March of Dimes. In seven years, an overwhelming total of $2,286,565 has been collected by marching mothers in Cook county. These women can be justifiably proud of their contribution to the discovery of the Salk vaccine and the possibility of complete victory over crippling polio.

After months of preparation and organization, mothers are ready to march again in 1959 for three cripplers . . . birth defects and arthritis, as well as polio. One out of 16 children is born each year in this country with a birth defect . . . millions suffer from arthritis . . . and more than 150,000 polio patients still need costly rehabilitation.

Your contributions to the March of Dimes will be used by the National Foundation for research, with the hope of finding the cause and cure of crippling birth defects and arthritis. Patient aid and medical education for these cripplers will be provided — as has been done for polio patients. By giving generously to the marching mother who calls on you on Tuesday, January 27, you can make her great hopes for new medical victories a reality.

We urge you to welcome the March of Dimes marching mother . . . and to contribute to the "hand of mercy." Support the 1959 March of Dimes to give new hope to helpless victims of crippling disease.

Notice Of Public Hearing

By Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Arlington Heights

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing will be held on Monday, February 2, 1959, 8 p.m., in the Municipal Building, 101 W. Davis Street, Arlington Heights, on a petition to rezone from multiple to commercial of the following legally described property:

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM SHERWOOD

Because her wedding date is close at hand and there are still many plans to be made and carried out, Nancy Wood's shower January 15 won't be a surprise to her. This shower, held at the home of Eleanor Holloway, 1004 Oakton, with Harriet Wollerman as co-hostess, will be a kitchen shower.

FROM RIDGE PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buechner, 1012 N. Fernandez, had the doctor for son, Michael, in time to avert what might have been a serious case of scarlet fever. Michael, a first grader at Ridge school, is over the worst of it and now looks forward to getting outdoors in the snow before it's gone.

Saturday the Adolph Danes, 725 N. Harvard, helped to make up the four generations that celebrated her aunt and uncle's 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Danes' sister and her family, the James Callahans of Chicago had the family together for a surprise party for the John Kiners.

It's a girl at the Raymond Doyles', 828 N. Kaspar. Elizabeth Ann was born January 4 in St. Anne hospital, Chicago, and weighed 7 pounds 14 ounces. Her brothers are Paul, Gregg and Michael.

THE HOLIDAYS were quiet for the William J. Hefferens, 811 N. Kennicott, because of the stroke he suffered December 12. Mr. Hefferen, still at home recuperating, is making nice progress.

The Fred Holubs, 920 N. Fernandez, broke the after-the-holiday lull by having friends from Milwaukee for dinner last Saturday.

David Allen Kamps came to live with the Marvin Kamps, 1304 W. Northwest hwy., in time to celebrate the holidays with them. Born December 15 in Evanston hospital, he weighed 9 pounds 8½ ounces. He has a brother, Steven, 1½, and a sister, Carol, 3. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kamps of Prospect Heights and the W. E. Shebecks of Bensenville.

Bette and Ray Howes, 945 N. Kaspar, have added square dancing to their list of activities and have joined the Swingin' Squares. They had a square dance party at their home recently.

RIDGE PARK residents are urged to attend the meeting of the Ridge Park Community association January 22, at 8:15 p.m., at the VFW hall. Chief of Police L. W. Calderwood will discuss police services and the responsibility of citizens in operating an efficient police department. Ridge Park is holding its dance, the Winter Frolic, at the VFW Hall January 24, with music by Peter Kallas and his orchestra. Tickets will be available at the door. Since it will be the only dance of the year, the association hopes to see many familiar, as well as new, faces there.

Jeff Platt, son of the Richard Platts, is at home with infectious mononucleosis. With a lot of rest, it is hoped he will be as good as new before long. Jeff's mother, Ruth, had a koffee klatsch for her next door neighbor, Marlyn Argust, recently. Dale Kamin, Shirley Rosheger, Helen Urban, Sophie Topp and Shirley Stevens came to meet Marlyn who, with her family, has moved into the Hadden home.

The Glenn Argusts are from Milwaukee and have a son, David, 6, a first grader at Ridge, and a daughter, Sharon, 11 months. Mr. Argust's mother, Mrs. Helen Argust is also making her home with them.

There was another coffee for Mrs. Argust last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Richard Stevens, 736 N. Kennicott. Ann Pecoraro, Flo Braunsreuter, Jenny Mills, Peg Engelking and Margaret Weigel were present.

PETE ROBERTSON, son of the William Robertsons, 1007 N. Fernandez, was 3 January 11 and his family alone made up a large group for his party. Two sets of grandparents were there for the celebration. Both Pete and his 10-year-old sister were proud of the cake she baked for him.

Last Tuesday the Henry C. Rosenblatts, 1007 N. Salem, put her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDole, on the train for Santa Monica, Cal. Befor they left however, New Year's eve they helped the Rosenblatts celebrate their 20th wedding anniversary with friends. The actual evening of their anniversary, January 9, was spent at home and celebrated quietly together.

The Bruno Waaras, 804 N. Ridge, are back from a winter vacation in northern Michigan, where they visited her mother. The family took advantage of the good skating weather there.

Maggie Meade, daughter of the Jack Meades, 1003 N. Kennicott, is a Christmas eve child, so her mother waited until January 8 to celebrate her third birthday. Kenny Gleason, Linda Hostler, Cathy Cryer and Mary and Tom, Maggie's sister and brother, came to her party. Each child went home with a horn, crayons and a coloring book.

DR. AND MRS. H. L. Kazmer, 716 N. Patton, have returned from a vacation in East Weymouth, Mass., with her sister and family, the Arthur Kents. It was Mrs. Kazmer's first trip home in 12 years and she is still glowing with reports of a wonderful visit. They flew both ways and the baby and the poodle proved to be excellent travelers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schipper, 1007 N. Kasper, find that, although their feet are in Arlington Heights, their hearts are still in California with their sons, Jim and Johnny. On the way out, they stopped in Ft. Worth, Texas, to visit friends before leaving for Corpus Christi, where they stayed a week. They took a trip to Juarez, Mexico, before heading for California.

While in Santa Monica, they took several side trips with Jim and Johnny, going up to Mt. Wilson and several suburbs of Los Angeles. On the way home they ran into 11 inches of snow in New Mexico. From then on they were slowed down considerably because of the weather. Despite the hard trip back, they have enough pleasant memories of their stay in California to last them a long time. (A

Park: Creative Spark

"Kindling the Creative Spark" is the theme of Tuesday's meeting at Park school at 8:15, presented by three members of the local professional staff: Mrs. Kay Loubet, art; Melvin Kasen, music; and Mrs. Florence Sorokin, librarian.

The daughter of portrait artists, Mrs. Loubet serves as art consultant for the lower grades and as art teacher at Miner junior high school. She studied at the Chicago Art Institute, Northern Illinois State university, and the University of Chicago as well as the Sorbonne in Paris. She has spent four summers abroad, traveling and painting.

Physical Education

Pupils, under the direction of Principal Richard Hetke, will demonstrate physical education activities Tuesday. Most of the children will be fourth and fifth grade students. Tumbling, flying-ring exercises, calisthentics, wrestling and high jumping are to be shown. Gaylord Hughes of the Arlington high school faculty will assist. An entertaining program is to be provided by a barbershop quartet of local men.

Teachers? Parents?

Tuesday evening provides parents an opportunity to participate in an interesting discussion of: What are the attributes of a good teacher? a good parent? What should we expect of a parent-teacher conference? What should schools accomplish in developing successful social relationships among children? Should schools assume any responsibility for sex education? Group leaders will conduct audience discussion.

Ticket Time

Tickets for the PTA card party will be available January20. Foursomes for the February 12 affair may be formed now. (A

Square Dance Club News

The ways of greeting a new year are many and local square dancers preferred to start off with a dance.

Palatine Square Dance Club

At a well-planned, well-attended New Years Eve party fourteen squares gave a greeting to 1959 at Paddock school in Palatine to the calls of Horace Hall and Lou LaBelle.

The party included square dancing, round dancing and even hula dancing. A comedy program at midnight and lots of food provided pleasant breaks in the dancing schedule that continued into the wee hours of a brisk New Year's morning.

ATTRACTIVE holiday decorations brightened both the dancing hall and the dining hall and were complemented by the colorful costumes of the dancers. While everyone relaxed about the dining tables to enjoy the abundant late supper two couples, here from Elgin for the party, entertained with an exhibition of Hawaiian dances mastered in detail during vacation trips to the islands.

Party committee co-chairmen, Wayne and Mary Allard were assisted by the Frank Whittens, Harvey Zimmermans, Jim Bells and Mrs. Leonard Lawrenz.

Arlington Heights

A record number of guest couples attended the Arlington Heights club's open dance last Saturday night at Miner Junior high school. Among the 29 guest couples were three popular callers for local clubs who, with their wives, came out to enjoy following calls instead of giving them. Mr. and Mrs. "Woody" Long of Broadview, Mr. and Mrs. Lou LaBelle of Elmwood Park and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hancock of Elk Grove Village set expert examples and Bill Clarke was the answer to "who gives the calls at a callers ball when the callers dance all night?"

The club's monthly dance for members only will be Friday, Jan. 23, at South Junior high school, Arlington Heights. As always, guests will be welcome provided they make reservations with Bob Rodig, CL 3-3829.

Mustard Cutters

The after-Christmas let-down did not touch this group which enjoyed a sprightly dance last Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sauerland Jr., 432 S. State, Arlington Heights. Meeting once a month the Mustard Cutters follow the calls of Don Finfrock and on Friday night again belied their theme song, "Too Old to Cut the Mustard."

Motor Scooter Bill Introduced

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier today announced he has caused to be introduced in the Illinois Senate a bill to repeal the provision of the Drivers License Act which permits persons 14 years of age and over to operate motor scooters and similar types of vehicles without holding driver licenses.

Known as Senate Bill 1, the measure is sponsored by leaders of both political parties in the Senate. It would repeal Paragraph 8 of Section 6-102 of the Drivers License Act, which lists persons exempt from the requirement to hold a driver license.

Paragraph 8 reads: "Any person who is at least 14 years of age, while operating a motorcycle, powercycle, bicycle with motor attached, or power scooter, with a motor which produces not to exceed five brake horse power."

THE EFFECT of the proposed legislation would be to establish 16 years as the minimum age for eligibility to hold a driver license and to require that operators of all types of motor vehicles hold valid driver licenses, Secretary Carpentier said.

Among Senate sponsors of the bill are President Pro Tem Arthur J. Bidwill, Republican of River Forest; Majority Whip George E. Drach, Republican of Springfield; Minority Leader Donald J. O'Brien, Democrat of Chicago; Marshall Korshak, Democrat of Chicago; Robert McClory, Republican of Waukegan; Thomas A. McGloon, Democrat of Chicago; Hayes Robertson, Republican of Chicago Heights; Daniel Dougherty, Democrat of Chicago; John W. Lewis Jr., Republican of Marshall, and Arthur W. Sprague, Republican of La Grange. (B12

"We are organized to enlarge the work of our church in our community," explains Vic Myer. "It is not just enough to get together at the church once a month and listen to a sports star or business leader talk. That is all right for a men's club, but as a club of church men we want all our programs to be Christ-oriented. Moreover, we are embarking on a series of projects which we expect will make a contribution in service to the Arlington Heights community. Since we believe that Christianity may start at home but also reaches far beyond our own comfortable hearths to the remote parts of the world, we are exploring a way to be of Christian service to the people of Japan." Vast Building Potential For Chicago Is Outlined

The Chicago metropolitan area has a new building construction potential of $1 billion during 1959, according to the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago.

Morton Bodfish, board chairman and president of the Loop financial institution, said that the city proper and its six-county suburban surrounding area stands in need of 50,000 construction units this year. Of this total, 20,000 would supply the minimum yearly volume required to maintain the size and quality level of our housing stock. The other 30,000 new units would be required to keep pace with the yearly increase in population.

BODFISH POINTED out that over the years, new home construction in this area has never been sufficient to supply adequate housing for Chicago's growing population. He traced the factors over the past five years which determine both housing demand and housing supply.

"People constitute the market for housing as they do for all other goods and services. Consumers able to rent or to buy shelter make up the demand, while new and existing homes for sale or for rent make up the supply," he said.

According to the First Federal chairman, here are the factors which determine housing demand in the Chicago area:

—1. More People — Every year over 100,000 people are added to our population as economic growth increases job opportunities. These 100,000 people, grouped into family units, provide a market for 30,000 additional dwelling units.

Family income, too, is an important demand factor. As living costs tend to stabilize, families set aside more money for housing. Family income, it was pointed out, relates directly to the availability of jobs in the area which, in turn, depends upon industrial production.

—2. More Money — Aggregate spending by Chicago area families in the past has been boosted slightly with rising family earnings. During 1959 factory output and employment are expected to turn upward, and incomes will continue to rise. If these factors out-pace living costs, more money will be available for housing during this year.

BODFISH SAID that insofar as housing supply in the Chicago area is concerned, there are many favorable factors for an increase in building and sales activity during the coming 12 months. The present supply of dwelling units totals two million. This housing stock will rise as also, because past experience in new units are added; rents will dicates that the number of new units will be insufficient to check their upward trend. New home prices are expected to go up very little, thanks to improved technology. Mortgage interest rates, he predicted, would rise only negligibly.

The important housing supply factors, as Bodfish sees it, are:

—1. More Homes — Due to better economic conditions Chicagoans will be able to pay for housing maintained at present standards, which itself means considerable building activity during this year. At least 30,000 new units will be required for the expected new population. The annual rate of home construction, which declined steadily since its 1955 peak, would begin to reverse itself during 1959.

—2. More Business — The same can be said for house sales in general. The number of existing units which become available for sale or rent during the year always exceeds the number of new units added. The resulting shift of families, apart from those moving into new homes, is an important element in the housing market. It should boost the turnover of properties this coming year and reverse the downward trend of real estate transfers for past years.

"How big a housing market we can expect in 1959 is, of course, a matter of some speculation and judgment," he said. "Frequently a favorable outlook in one factor is offset by disappointing performances in others. Last year, for instance, area-wide unemployment proved once more our vulnerability to economic downfalls; later business recovery began giving way to prosperity which promises to extend into the months ahead. Thus jobs and production on the one hand, and home construction and transfers on the other, are the most volatile factors influencing the market, while population, families, income, rents, and prices continue slowly, but steadily, upward. The net effect is to make the market for homes in the Chicago area flexible, expandable and impressive." (BB

January 15 Deadline for Estimated Tax Filing

The deadline for paying the fourth and last installment on estimated federal income tax returns for the year 1958 is Thursday, Jan. 15, H. Alan Long, Director of Internal Revenue for the Chicago District announced.

Taxpayers who filed an estimated return and have a payment due on January 15 should have received a notice by mail, he said.

"If you have previously filed an estimated return and events occurring in the last quarter of 1958 indicate that your income will be substantially more or less than your original estimate, you should file an amended declaration on January 15," he said.

THIS DECLARATION, he added, should be marked "amended" and filed with the same district director of internal revenue who received the original declaration. A blank form for use as an amended declaration is printed on the back of the notice of payment due which the taxpayer received.

Long said an original declaration of estimated tax for the year 1958 should be filed by January 15 on Form 1040ES by taxpayers who first became liable for filing an estimate during the fourth quarter of 1958.

Long pointed out that a taxpayer is liable for filing an estimated return under these circumstances:

If the taxpayer had more than $100 of taxable income which was not subject to withholding (dividends, interest, etc.) and his total income was more than $600 multiplied by the number of exemptions to which he is entitled, plus $400. For example, if the taxpayer received more than $100 in dividends (or the like) and is entitled to three exemptions, he must file an estimated return if his gross income was more than $2,200 ($600 x 3 plus $400 equals $2,200.)

IF THE TAXPAYER did not receive more than $100 income which was not subject to withholding, he need not file an estimated return unless his total income exceeds the following amounts, depending on his marital status.

Long said there is one exception to these rules. If the taxpayer finds it necessary to file an amended declaration on January 15, or if he becomes liable for filing a declaration for the first time on January 15, he need not file or pay on that date if he files his final return for 1958 on Form 1040 and pays in full the balance of tax he owes on or before January 31, 1959.

New Furniture Store Opens In Arlington

A new retail furniture outlet, Furniture House, opened its doors Thursday at 304 W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, after converting a two-story house to a showroom.

"Our present location and facilities are in addition to a tremendous warehouse in Arlington Heights," said Maurice Lerman, proprietor of the new store. Lerman, with 31 years experience in the retail furniture business, will operate the store with Al Masser, a veteran of 15 years in the business.

The men, who are well-known to residents of Arlington Heights, plan to operate on "a volume basis, stressing low prices as a means of moving a quantity of merchandise." Furniture House will stock both modern and colonial designs, and will offer interior decorating services free to the public, said Lerman. (BB

Appoint Heater Dealer

The frustrating problem of having a car refuse to start in cold weather may be solved according to I. N. Kimball of Bellwood, who has been given the exclusive franchise in the suburban area to deal in a heater which will eliminate that most annoying problem.

In addition to the promotion of quick cold weather starts, the heater will save wear and tear on engine, mechanical parts and the battery.

The heating units can be easily installed, left in the car all year, and will give good results for the lifetime of the car.

THEY CAN BE used with 110-120 AC or DC electric current and the current need not be kept running all night. One half to one hour in the morning will warm the water or anti-freeze solution and loosen oil around the rings and piston heads promoting easy starting without draining battery power.

According to Kimball, the coldest period is late at night and very early in the morning. This heater is particularly handy for those who have no garage and can run an electric cord to the service calls, inconvenience and car.

Kimball adds, "The cost of the heater would offset several late arrivals at work." (BB

Tell Winter Care For Power Mowers

With just a little foresight and preparation, most power mower owners could avoid the extra time, expense and aggravation that goes hand in hand with delaying their mower servicing until the first robin heads north.

During the early months of the year, the best servicing dealers are loaded with work. Sales, last minute repairs, and a flood of latecomers tie up their facilities from morning 'til night — seven days a week. Their expert, guaranteed work, their supplies of genuine factory parts, the time of their trained mechanics are all strained to the breaking point.

However, according to Robert Haberkamp of Haberkamp and Willie Sales and Service, Mt. Prospect, member of the Chicagoland Lawn Equipment Servicing Dealers association, it's a simple task to have your mower operating at peak efficiency when that first warm day comes.

HE RECOMMENDS that you follow these easy steps for storing your power mower for the winter:

1. The fuel tank, fuel line and carburetor should be drained of fuel to prevent gum deposits from forming in the system.
2. Oil should be drained from the crankcase (4-cycle engines only).
3. The entire mower should be brushed thoroughly, with particular attention to the cutting unit, to prevent accumulated grass clippings and dirt from clogging the machine.
4. The mower should be stored in a clean dry place.
5. Important — respect your power mower. Disconnect the spark plug whenever you work on the mower. If necessary, tip the mower by the handle. Keep fuel away from flame — stored in an approved, tightly sealed container.
6. Above all, if your mower needs servicing, take it to a reputable, experienced dealer. And do it during the off-season winter months.

Pension Plan For Company Announced

The Creamery Package Manufacturing company recently announced that the company, on December 29, signed a pension agreement applicable at each of its factories with the union for hourly-rated employees, covered by the union contract and has established a pension trust with the First National bank of Chicago.

The pension plan contains the usual provisions as to normal retirement, early retirement, disability and deferred vested retirement. Under the plan, normal retirement is 65 years of age with at least 15 years of continuous service. The pension fund is financed on the basis of $.05 an hour for each hour worked by the employee covered by this plan.

The company stated that the first pension checks will be issued this month to those qualified employees who have made application for pension and who have retired between September 1, 1956 and December 29, 1958.

Gas Consumption Hits Record High

Northern Illinois Gas company reported another record high in gas consumption.

In the 24-hour period ending at noon, Monday, Jan. 5, the firm sent out 565,500,000 cubic feet of gas. The sub-zero weather and more customers with each passing day accounted for the record, a company spokesman said.

The "old" record, 538,100,000 cubic feet of gas, was set only last December 15.

The company has about 625,000 customers in suburban Cook county and northern Illinois, inuse gas to heat their homes, the cluding more than 280,000 who spokesman said. (BB

Springfield Sidelights

Top Legislator Will Again Write Column of Comment

During the coming legislative session, Paddock Publications' 13 suburban newspapers will again publish a weekly column of comment on state capitol activity written by Paul H. Simon.

"Sidelights from Springfield" was written by the Troy legislator during the last legislative session and was given special recognition by the American Political Science association for "distinguished reporting of state and local government."

IN ANNOUNCING resumption of the column, Stuart R. Paddock, editor-in-chief of Paddock Publications, said, "We feel privileged to be able to offer Rep. Simon's weekly column to our readers during the coming session. It was well-received in the past and we feel confident it will again merit the attention of readers interested in an independent analysis of state legislation."

Simon will be serving his third term in the House of Representatives. He is publisher of three weekly newspapers in downstate Illinois, and at one time was recognized as the youngest newspaper publisher in the United States.

He attended the University of Oregon and Dana college, Blair, Neb. Simon first achieved recognition through his newspaper work in fighting organized crime in Madison county, Ill. During this time, he appeared as a witness before the televised hearings of the Kefauver committee and was the subject of a feature story in Newsweek magazine. Recent issues of Time and Christian Century magazines have featured some of his writing.

DURING HIS army service, Simon served as a special agent for the Counter Intelligence corps along the Iron Curtain in central Europe. He has studied political and economic conditions in a number of countries and recently returned from a trip to Africa, the Middle East, and Europe, including Russia and several Communist countries.

Simon has received praise from newspapers all over the state and has received numerous awards for his legislative activity during his two terms in office. During both terms, he was chosen by the Independent Voters of Illinois as one of the five outstanding members of the Illinois General Assembly.

The 29-year-old legislator and editor was one of the organizers of the Democratic Federation of Illinois and is former secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Democratic Editorial association.

HIS OTHER activities include service on the executive board of International Walther League, Lutheran youth organization, and the executive committee of Lutheran Human Relations association. He is a member of Lions club, Junior chamber of commerce, Toastmasters, American Legion, VFW, and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

His column has been noted for its courage, fairness, and independence of view. The opinions expressed will not necessarily be those of Paddock Publications.

Simon's "Springfield Sidelights" column will appear regularly in all editions, beginning next week.

CONGRATULATING STATE Rep. Paul H. Simon (left) on his award-winning column "Springfield Sidelights" is Charles Hayes, managing editor of Paddock Publications. The suburban newspapers will again publish the column which also appeared during the last session of the legislature. It was given special recognition by the American Political Science association for "distinguished reporting of state and local government."

'Over the Top' Drive for YMCA Building

Final plans were made this week for the industrial division in the "Over the Top" building campaign of Northwest Suburban YMCA. Silas Cathcart, vice president of Fastex division of Illinois Tool Works, will serve as chairman of the industrial drive, as announced by Maxwell Sawyer, YMCA campaign chairman.

An industrial goal of $130,000 was reviewed and a plan developed at a luncheon of local key industrialists last week. Host of the meeting was the Bruning Co. of Mt. Prospect and Stanley C. Amren, its vice president.

THE INDUSTRIAL goal is a part of the $300,00 still needed for the $900,000 project. The final "Over the Top" campaign has been divided among five divisions organized to complete the goal by May 10, when groundbreaking has been scheduled for the YMCA building to be located on Northwest hwy. between Mt. Prospect rd. and Cambridge rd.

The other four divisions and their goals are: special gifts, $90,000; $25,000; clubs and organizations, $15,000; residential and final dinner, $40,000. These goals were established after careful study of the amounts already raised in the above divisions. Names of chairmen to head them will be announced shortly.

THE NEW YMCA will feature an indoor-outdoor swimming pool, gymnasium, offices and club rooms for all types of activities. Operating without benefit of these facilities, the local 'Y' program has grown beyond its present office space in its four years of operation.

The mayors of the northwest communities, Edward Carlisle of Arlington Heights, Theodore Lams of Mt. Prospect, Charles Hodlmair of Elk Grove, Howard Olsen of Palatine and Herbert Behrel of Des Plaines, have all endorsed the building of these YMCA facilities planned for use by all families of the area which the 'Y' serves. Boy Scouts Reveal Plans For New Women's Reserve

Plans for creating a non-uniformed group known as the "Women's Reserve of the Boy Scouts of America," effective immediately, were announced this week by Frank B. Newton, Scout executive of the Northwest Suburban council, Boy Scouts of America.

Newton said that the national executive board of the Boy Scouts of America has provided this means for the registration of women other than the 304,134 who are now serving and registered as den mothers in the Cub Scout program. He said that there are 775 women serving as den mothers in the Northwest Suburban council.

"It has been recognized," says Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, "that many women have played and are playing a silent, but important, part in making the Scouting program available to boys of Cub Scout, Boy Scout, and Explorer age. Our national executive board has voted to provide an opportunity for those women who so desire to become officially affiliated with the movement in other than den mother capacity.

"We recognize that the Boy Scout movement is, and has always been, a boys' movement, under the active leadership of boys and men and that nothing should be done that will detract from this wholesome relationship. We must maintain the boy-man contact."

DR. SCHUCK said that a membership card in the "Women's Reserve of the Boy Scouts of America" will be issued to any woman who qualifies by being at least 21 years of age and an American citizen. She will make application in the same manner as local council Scouters. She will be registered only on a local council basis.

These women may serve as faculty members of Cub Scout training courses, assisting in organizing and training in connection with Cub Scout packs and assisting in finance and public relations campaigns. They will serve as members of Mothers clubs, parents clubs, and auxiliaries of Scout units. They may serve as merit badge counselors when men cannot be found. They may include women employes of the nation's 532 local councils of the Boy Scouts of America.

Dr. Schuck said that as registered members of the "Women's Reserve of the Boy Scouts of America," they will receive "Scouting" magazine.

"Thus each of these registered persons," he said, "will receive each month a regular reminder of Scouting, as well as an opportunity to keep informed on youth and what we are endeavoring to do with and for them through the Scouting program."

Cardinals at Downers Friday; Invade LaGrange on Saturday

Both Games Must For 1st Division

SPORTS
Paddock Publications
THURSDAY, JAN. 15, 1959

The road is where champions are born. Arlington's Cardinals, three games off the pace already, may not win the West Suburban championship this season but it sure can go a long way towards clinching a first division spot this weekend.

Coach Frank Bohac's Cards visit the lairs of two key WSC teams who are battling to be included among the top four. Friday night Arlington will play its first game in Downers Groves' new gymnasium. Saturday the Cards invade the Lions den to meet LaGrange.

Downers is currently tied with Arlington for fourth place. Both have 2-3 league records. LaGrange, doing better than expected, finds itself in third place with a 3-2 mark.

A DOUBLE VICTORY on the road can put Arlington into a third place tie or maybe all by itself, as all teams close out the first round play.

Bohac, whose team has given No. 1 Hinsdale and No. 2 Maine good tussles until fading in the final period, believes the Cards must stop Ken Lutgens to beat Downers.

Spartan Coach Guy Wellman has a different view. He feels Truman Phillips, Downers' 6-3 center, is man Arlington will have to halt. Phillips, said Wellman, has been the lad who has made Downers move since being inserted into the lineup.

AND LATELY Downers Grove has moved. They went to the DeKalb holiday tournament semi-finals before succumbing to powerful Rock Falls, 70-62. Then the Spartans returned to West Suburban play with a 65-55 win over Glenbard.

Phillips, according to Wellman, through his shooting from the pivot has forced opponents to guard him rather than sagging to two-time Lutgens. Since Phillips has been at center, Lutgens has been scoring for the Spartans.

Phillips has done quite well himself. He averaged 17 points a game at DeKalb and was named to the tournament all-star team.

EVEN SO, Dave Current, a 6-4 forward, is Downers Grove's leading scorer. He has 80 points in five West Suburban games, two more than Lutgens. Current is second in WSC scoring behind R-B's Rich Jarom.

The Spartans are expected to have a good sized crowd on hand to greet the Cardinals since it is Boosters Night in Downers Grove's 3,800 seat gym.

Wellman calls the Arlington game a key one for Downers in its bid for the first division. He thinks that the spot in which the Cards will be most vulnerable is on the boards. To complicate matters, Wellman will throw up a forward wall which averages nearly 6-4.

SATURDAY at LaGrange Arlington will run into height comparable to its own. Lion Coach Les Glick notes that LaGrange has been able to win more on spirit this year than anything else. He thought last year's team, which had a 9-12 record, had more ability, but not as much spirit.

Glick labeled 6-3 Forward Bob Chandler as the most consistent player. The other forward, Gordon Titus, has been quite erratic, scoring both well and poorly.

At LaGrange

Arlington (6-5)		LaGrange (5-5)
6-0 Corteen	F	Chandler 6-2
6-0 Magnuson	F	Titus 6-0
6-5 Whitelaw	C	Baumgartner 6-3
6-1 Bork	G	Nelson 5-11
5-10 Varnado	G	Baker 6-0

TIME
Frosh-soph game, 7 p.m.; varsity, 8 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 17.
PLACE
Brainard, LaGrange.
Lyons township high school, 100 S.

Guard Gene Baker is the only letterman returning from the 1957-58 Lion team which had a 5-9 WSC record. Teaming with Baker at guard is 5-11 Jim Nelson. Clyde Baumgartner, a 6-3 boy, is at center.

Titus is the leading LaGrange scorer in the West Suburban, netting 47 to give him 16th place. Over half of his points, 26 to be exact, were made in the opening game. Right behind Titus is Chandler who has 43.

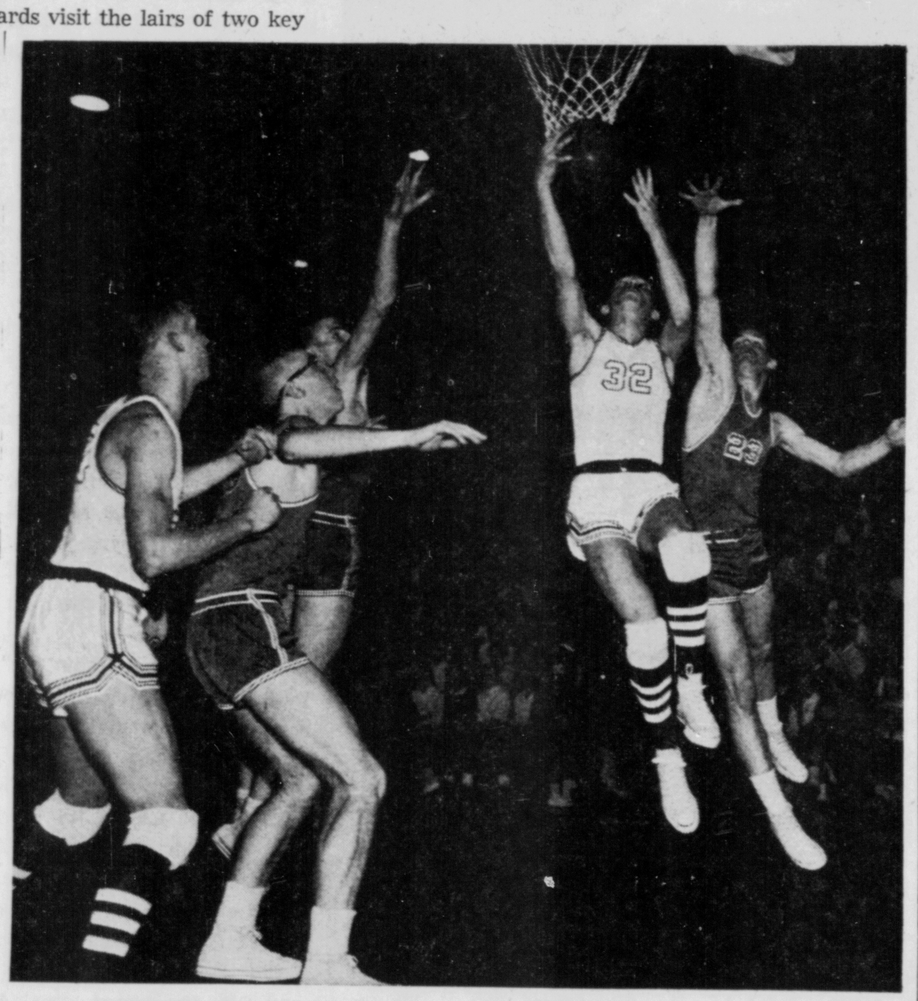
GLICK'S TWO first line reserves are Forward Ken Ingersoll, who stands 6-3, and Guard Charles Johnson, who is a 5-10 senior. The starting five is an all-senior quintet.

Bohac said he plans to start the same five of Pat Corteen and Lee Magnuson at forwards, Ed Whitelaw at center, and George Bork and Dave Varnado at guards.



GOING UNDERNEATH for a layup is Arlington's Lee Magnuson. Trying to halt him from the rear is Rich Peterson (23). Waiting on the other side of the hoop are Maine's Tom Gebbie (left) and Tom Mahon. Outside them is Cardinal Ed Whitelaw. Maine won the struggle, 47-45.

SAILING HIGH, Cardinal Pat Corteen flys in for a drive-in against Maine Friday. Attempting to stop him are Blue Demons Rich Peterson (23), Tom Gebbie (25) and Tom Mahon (15). Ed Whitelaw 50) is under the hoop for Arlington. Maine rallied to beat Arlington, 47-45.

Card Wrestlers Compete In Oak Lawn Mat Meet

Arlington's wrestling team, whose fortunes have perked up lately with a second place finish in the Palatine invitational wrestling tournament and with a resounding 40-0 whitewash of Downers Grove, goes into a hornet's nest Saturday.

The hornet's nest is the Quadrangular wrestling tournament with New Trier and Elgin and the host school, Oak Lawn.

Cardinal mat Coach Dick Mudge expects Oak Lawn to be the toughest team, and he's probably right. Oak Lawn during the Christmas holiday came away with six of the 12 individual championships in the Bloom wrestling tournament. The Bloom tournament tested the nine good teams in the southwest suburbs.

ELGIN MAY BE the weakest team in the tournament, but one of their two top boys, Irv Johnston, has been pitted against Cardinal John Torrens in the first round again. At Palatine, Johnston, who went on to win the 165 pound title, had his toughest bout in the first round against Torrens. Elgin also has Dennis Kowal at 120 pounds.

Oak Lawn's six champions at Bloom include Weiss at 95 pounds, Coniglio at 103, Lorenz at 133, Bulow at 138, Beckett at 145 and Houston at 175.

New Trier is paced by Jack Baitman at 165 and Bob Mason at 145.

PAUL CLARK, Palatine tournament champion at 145, is still lost to the Cardinal squad with a broken nose and Mike Kauffman will be wrestling in his place.

The Card lineup expects to find Bob Trausch at 95 pounds, Jose Ortiz at 103, Jerry Bonn at 112, Tom Clark at 120, Dale Hedberg at 127, Al Seyler at 133, Ed Gerrard at 138, Dave Schreiber at 145, Kauffman at 154, Torrens at 165, Frank Woodruff at 175 and Darrell Phillips or Bob Hacker as the heavyweight.

ARLINGTON, which has a 1-1 West Suburban conference record, will swing into WSC action again Tuesday, meeting Glenbard in the Cardinal gymnasium at 4 p.m.

The Hilltoppers, in their first year of wrestling, are not expected to be stiff competition for Mudge's fast improving team. Glenbard has lost both of its West Suburban meets, including Downers Grove, a team which Arlington whitewashed.

Card Frosh Wrestlers Top Palatine

Scoring nine pins, six of them in the first period, Arlington's freshman wrestling team whipped Palatine's frosh, 47-10, Saturday morning at Palatine.

The match was never in doubt as Coach Maurie Ross' Cardinals won their first four bouts on pins by Denapoli, Jernberg, Gates, and Vaughan. Later Owen, Tokoph, Valenti, Peters and Burm all pinned their Pirate opponents. Peters did the quickest job, 43 seconds.

Only two Pirates won. Reteris scored a pin in 1:12 at 175 pounds and Smith edged Woodruff, 10-9. Lehman of Palatine and Robb of Arlington tied at 154 pounds.

Summary:
95—Denapoli A, pinned Parker P, 1:10.
103—Jernberg A, pinned Mitchell P, 5-0.
112—Gates A, pinned Kelliher P, 1:36.
120—Vaughan A, pinned Hubbard P, 3:22.
127—Smith P, beat Woodruff A, 10-9.

Rotary Ice Carnival Set For Jan. 24

The second annual Arlington Heights Rotary ice carnival has been set for 9 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 24, at Pioneer park on Arlington's southwest side.

Trophies will be awarded to boy and girl winning any of four speed skating events plus figure skating competition. Second and third place finishers will receive medals and fourth and fifth place youths will receive ribbons.

All children participating in the ice carnival will receive a participation certificate.

Two heats, one for boys and one for girls, will be held in each of the five events. The first is a 110-yard speed skating event for children 9 and under. Then intermediate youths ranging in age from 10 to 12 will go 220 yards.

Following the figure skating competition which will be open to all age groups, juniors, ages from 13 to 15, will go for 440 yards. Then seniors, 16 years and over, will take the ice for 880 yards.

Should the ice not be suitable for skating on Saturday, Jan. 24, the carnival will be postponed until the following Saturday, Jan. 31.

Card Gymnasts Test State Possibilities Saturday

Arlington's gymnastics team should be able to tell after Saturday whether or not it is going to be a contender for the state crown.

Saturday Coach Gay Hughes will take 13 Cardinals to Proviso East high school to face 19 other gymnastic teams throughout the state, including defending champion Proviso East, at the third annual Northern Illinois invitational gymnastic meet.

Schools are expected to come from as far as Carmi in southern Illinois, Urbana in eastern Illinois, Pekin in central Illinois, and Moline in western Illinois. Other schools, in addition to Proviso East, are LaGrange, Hinsdale, York and Maine of the West Suburban conference, Proviso West, Leyden East, Niles, New Trier who won the first Northern Illinois meet in 1957 at New Trier, Thornton, Elmwood Park, Rich township, Sycamore, and Morgan Park and Lane Tech of Chicago.

ARLINGTON'S Gary Moreland, defending state tumbling champion, will have more than his hands full against Richard Holmes of Urbana, National AAU tumbling champion. Holmes was ineligible for the state meet last year.

Proviso East will have the bulk of its championship team back in Ken Donofrio, Frank Culbertson and Ron Kos who placed 1-2-3, respectively, in the all-around event in the state meet. Donofrio also took the rings and long horse title and Culbertson the high bar and parallel bar championships.

Coach Hughes expects to take five sophomores on his 13-man squad. Hughes said he's taking the top boys who can possibly come through for him regardless of class.

SOPHOMORES making the trip to Maywood include Wayne Bischoff, Dick Wetzel, George Allen, Tom Acker, and Bill Sayre, who finished seventh in the state in tumbling last year as a freshman.

The Northern Illinois meet will be the first one this year for the longhorse and all-around events. Hughes said his longhorse entries, Bischoff, Don Ballou and Tom Geocaris, are doing fine but need some smoothing out. Hughes named these same three as his all-around men.

ENTERING side horse in addition to the three are Ralph Westberg and Werzel. Competing on the horizontal bar besides the all-around team will be Allen. Others on the parallel bars are Arnie Harvey and Acker. Harvey and Mike Nelson also will be on the rings.

Moreland, Bob Schoepke and Bill Flood will be on the trampoline and Moreland, Sayre and Schoepke will do the tumbling.

Sidehorse, longhorse and tumbling events will be held during the afternoon session beginning at 1:30 p.m. High bar, parallel bar, rings and trampoline will be featured on the evening session at 7:30 p.m. in the Proviso East field house.

Cardinals Tip Leyden Gymnasts

Cary Moreland and Tom Geocaris with two first places each led Arlington's gymnastics team to an unimpressive 74½-57½ victory over Leyden Friday at Franklin Park.

Moreland won his specialties, trampoline and tumbling, and Geocaris took the horizontal bar and ring events. Coach Gay Hughes had one other first place finisher, Arnie Harvey on the parallel bar.

The Cardinal gymnasts were able to sweep only one event, tumbling, when Moreland, Bob Schoepke and Anderson placed one, two, three. Arlington picked up 12 points in the horizontal bar when Geocaris and Don Ballou finished one-two.

In their previous outing, the Cards tied Maine, with whom they are tied for third place.

Coach Hal Henson's team had little trouble, piling up a 30-8 lead before the Trojan sophs won their second bout. Koenig, Dilley and Edelblute all scored pins for Arlington.

Dalquist's Basket Wins for Arlington

Gene Dalquist's shot, in the air when the gun sounded, was perfect and gave Coach Dick Kinneman's Arlington junior-varsity basketball team a 45-44 victory over York Saturday morning in Elmhurst.

Dalquist wound up the game with 14 points, one less than teammate Carl Massa had. Gianeschi was high for York with 14.

Verber's Basket Scuttles Arlington Hopes, 47 to 45

George Verber's field goal with eight seconds to play gave Maine's Blue Demons a 47-45 victory over Arlington's Cards Friday night at Arlington.

While the Redbirds were throwing the ball in-bounds and frantically waving for a time out the clock ticked away their doom.

THE BIRDS' FATE was not totally undeserved. They had blown two fat leads and at one time in the contest appeared on their way to a rout of their traditional rivals.

Catching the visiting Demons off guard in the first period, Coach Frank Bohac's boys marched to a 13-3 advantage and built up an 18-4 lead with five and a half minutes to play in the first half.

Bothered by a mid-court press, the Cards' slow-down tactics failed to stop a Maine comeback. The locals stood still as the Blue Demons charged to within one point of the leaders at halftime, 25-24.

ARLINGTON had not decided to surrender the lead. As the second half began George Bork sank a pair of two-pointers and helped his teammates establish a 38-31 advantage at the three-quarter mark.

After leading 40-33, the Cards saw the Demons' Tom Mahon connect on four straight jump shots, the last of which pulled the visitors to within one point, 42-41.

Jim Hamilton's steal and layup gave the Blue and White their first lead of the game, and a few seconds later Bill White was alone under the Maine basket for a field goal which sent the winners ahead 45-42.

IN A GYM of screaming patrons, Pat Corteen sank a lone free throw with a minute and a half to go. Arlington broke through Maine's stall to gain possession of the ball with some 40 seconds remaining.

George Bork, who sank seven field goals in the dozen times he shot, coolly tied the game with a little less than 30 seconds to go.

THIS SET the stage for Verber's heroics. As anxious eyes split their vision between the court and the clock, Verber appeared to be out of position but threaded the hoop with a push shot from the corner.

That one field goal was the difference. Both teams shot around .350 for the contest and each hit only 11 free throws in 21 tosses. Rebounding was fairly even, with Ed Whitelaw and Pat Corteen gallantly battling the taller Demons.

Card Sophs Edge Maine, 36 to 29

Arlington's frosh-soph cagers' heads were still full of sugar plums Friday night, but the Red and White managed to edge Maine 36-29.

Playing their first contest since the long Christmas vacation began, the once-beaten Birdies managed only seven points in each of the first two periods. Seven points a quarter was too much for an undermanned Blue Demon outfit, however, the losers managing only one field goal and six points in the first half.

SOME STOUT defensive work by Dick Palmer and Bill Zadel proved decisive in the victory. These two boys constantly blocked Maine attempts at the basket and controlled the backboards all evening.

Some rash shooting by Maine's Keith Connolly threatened a 13-point lead in the final period. The Demon forward hit four in a row and pulled the Des Plaines quintet within five points of the locals ere the final buzzer buzzed.

Maine's midcourt press gave Arlington some trouble early in the contest. Fred Lussow scored the game's first field goal with only three minutes remaining in the initial stanza. A jump shot by Keith Grams made it 7-3 at the horn.

MAINE'S MIKE Gebbie, whose older brother towers over the Blue Demon varsity, tallied his team's only points in the second quarter. The visitors hit on only one of six free throws that quarter.

A 15-point splurge paced by Palmer's three field goals and two free throws sent the Cards out in front to stay in the third period. Palmer's 11 points were high for the winners.

THE SCHALLERMEN'S cold shooting was evidenced at the free throw line, where they counted only 11 ow 25 charities. Maine could convert only seven of 20, however.

Men's Meet Ends; Gals Roll Sunday

Furniture Mart Captures Title

Jack Armstrong never scored better than did the Arlington Furniture Mart keglers of Beverly Classic loop Sunday night in copping the Paddock Publication's Inter-League handicap bowling tournament at Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine.

The No. 3 team in the tourney with a 931 average knew what it had to do when they took the alleys at 11 p.m. Sunday, then went methodically ahead to complete the job, though the final frames brought down what remained of the house.

THE FURNITURE squad opened with 906, including a 199 by 21-year-old Herb Moehling. The team then fired 999 on 1 and 2 at Hi-Way, with Ted Lindstrom garnering a 248. Monte Arkus was a big help with 203.

Then came that final game with the clock showing 12:30 a.m. In spite of those tremendous games Caron Drugs of Pioneer Jr. Major league at Addison kept pushing the champs-to-be. Carons hit 956 and 870, and breezed to 911 for a 3018 gross.

THAT FINAL frame was a lulu for the furniture team. Moehling struck and spared for 203. Arkus struck out for 169. Howard Huff hit four straight, plus nine, for 257 and the excitement rose to fever pitch.

Ted Lindstrom came through with 175, making 804 for the first four men with anchor man Tom Kouros having 161 in the eighth, plus a strike in the ninth. That apparently cinched first place for the furniture squad.

JUST THEN a shout went up from two alleys away as Courtesy TV of Bowlwood Sportsman's loop finished with 933 and 3039 to take the lead. That meant the Heights five was back in second spot.

Gone were the hopes of the Cinderella team, Willson & Florence of Arlington Heights Methodist church loop which had grossed 3032 earlier in the afternoon, a top that had survived the efforts of 30 more squads. Realtors had a team average of just 758, yet garnered games of 844, 906 and 803.

IT WAS UP to Kouros. He came through with a spare and nine for a final 200, and the trophies, honors and $192.22 went to the Arlington Furniture Mart squad. It was a fitting climax to the 2-day affair that had pitted 400 bowlers against each other with hundreds of fans on hand.

Courtesy TV will receive $128.15 with Willson & Florence slated to gain $87.38. Unofficial results are published in this week's editions with payoff awaiting verification of averages and checking of scores in about three weeks.

LALONDE REALTORS of Hi-Way Classic loop attempted to be among the leaders but had to be content with high actual team game out of the money with 1,000.

Flood Engineering of the Paddock Classic traveling league, posting a 957 average, also failed to make "the money" with eighth spot going to J. C. Blacktop of Bensenville with a 3006 gross. Bensenville Fuel Oil was the Saturday leader with 2966 that looked good until Sunday's competition started.

THE 79 TEAMS entered was a new record for the meet, though possibly 90 leagues are expected to be present next year. Tourney promoters will allow 15 minutes more time per squad, though, inasmuch as this year's event ran behind schedule.

Assisting tourney promoter Bob Paddock were Al Walter, Irv Kehe and George Kusch. Interestingly enough, not one "home team" ever threatened, except for Star Construction of Palatine Sportsmen's loop with a 2985 gross.

Gunnell Juniors Bow

Hilton of Sim's edged Gunnell's in Northwest Jr. bowling league competition Sunday at Gunnell's, with the winners hitting 931 and 959, then bowing to 905 by the Gunnell squad.

Gets Canine Award

For her service and interest in the canine world, Mrs. Dorothy N. Cory, Rand rd., Arlington Heights, a member of the Skokie Valley Kennel club, received an honor award offered by Dog World magazine at the Skokie club's annual dinner meeting January 10 at Glenview Country house. Mrs. Cory has served as secretary of the club for five years.

THE CHAMPS looked, acted and bowled like champions late Sunday night and early Monday morning in Paddock Publications' Inter-league men's bowling tournament. Arlington Furniture Mart keglers on the Beverly Classic loop team came through with a final burst of speed to take the title with a 3054 series, including 145 pins handicap, before the smiling eyes of sponsor Everett Lindgren. That's tourney promoter Bob Paddock handing the large traveling team trophy to sponsor Lindgren in the background as teammates Monte Arkus, Tom Kouros, Ted Lindstrom, Herb Moehling and Howard Huff offer their trophies to their wives.

PIONEER BOWLING LANES, Addison rd., south of Lake st. in Addison, will be the scene of the women's competition in the annual Paddock Publications bowling tournament Sunday. —Devaney photo

Addison Lanes Women's Site

The women will start where the men left off.

That's the story on the bowling front in Paddockland where leading squads of 46 local gals' leagues will compete for honors (and $345 in cash) this Sunday.

The 230 women will open fire on the pins at Pioneer Lanes in Addison in the seventh annual tourney sponsored by the Paddock sports department.

WHAT WILL IT TAKE to cop first honors? Well, if the men's tournament last weekend was any indication, about 200 pins over average team series.

For years it has been just 10 pins per gal per game in order to walk home with the five individual trophies, plus the large traveling team award, but this year the men's title went to the team that hit 14 pins per man per game over average.

THE GALS will have handicaps to help them. Seventy per cent handicap against 875 will be given all teams. This method tends to equalize all competitors, with the teams that are "hot" Sunday certain to be the winners.

Competition is scheduled to start at Addison at 3 o'clock Sunday, Jan. 18, with a second shift going on the lanes at 5:30 and a third at 8:00. Exact starting times and alleys are published elsewhere in the sports pages this week with bowlers urged to be on hand 15 to 20 minutes early to insure being ready to bowl.

FIRST PLACE MONEY is expected to be $110.55 with second garnering $77.70. Other prices, $50.25, $33.50, $26.80, $20.10, $13.40 and $7.70. There is also an additional award of $10 for high team game (actual) out of the money.

Bowlers from "the north" can best find Pioneer Lanes by driving south on either route 83 or Arlington Heights rd. to Irving Park rd. Those on 83 should turn west to Wood Dale, then turn south on blacktopped Addison rd. at the west end of Wood Dale.

THOSE KEGLERS driving south to Itasca should turn east, thence south on Addison rd. at the start of Wood Dale. Pioneer Lanes are located on Addison rd. about a half mile south of Lake st. or route 20.

Tourney promoters have "split the house," which means keglers opening play on 7 and 8 will switch to 1 and 2 for the second game, thence to 3 and 4. Those starting on 15 and 16 will move to 9 and 10 the second tilt, thence to 11 and 12.

All entry fees and bowling costs have been paid. Team captains are urged to report to officials at the alleys as soon as all five team members have arrived. It is suggested squads have an extra bowler on hand in event someone is unable to bowl at the last minute. Such substitutions can be made up to the time competition actually starts.

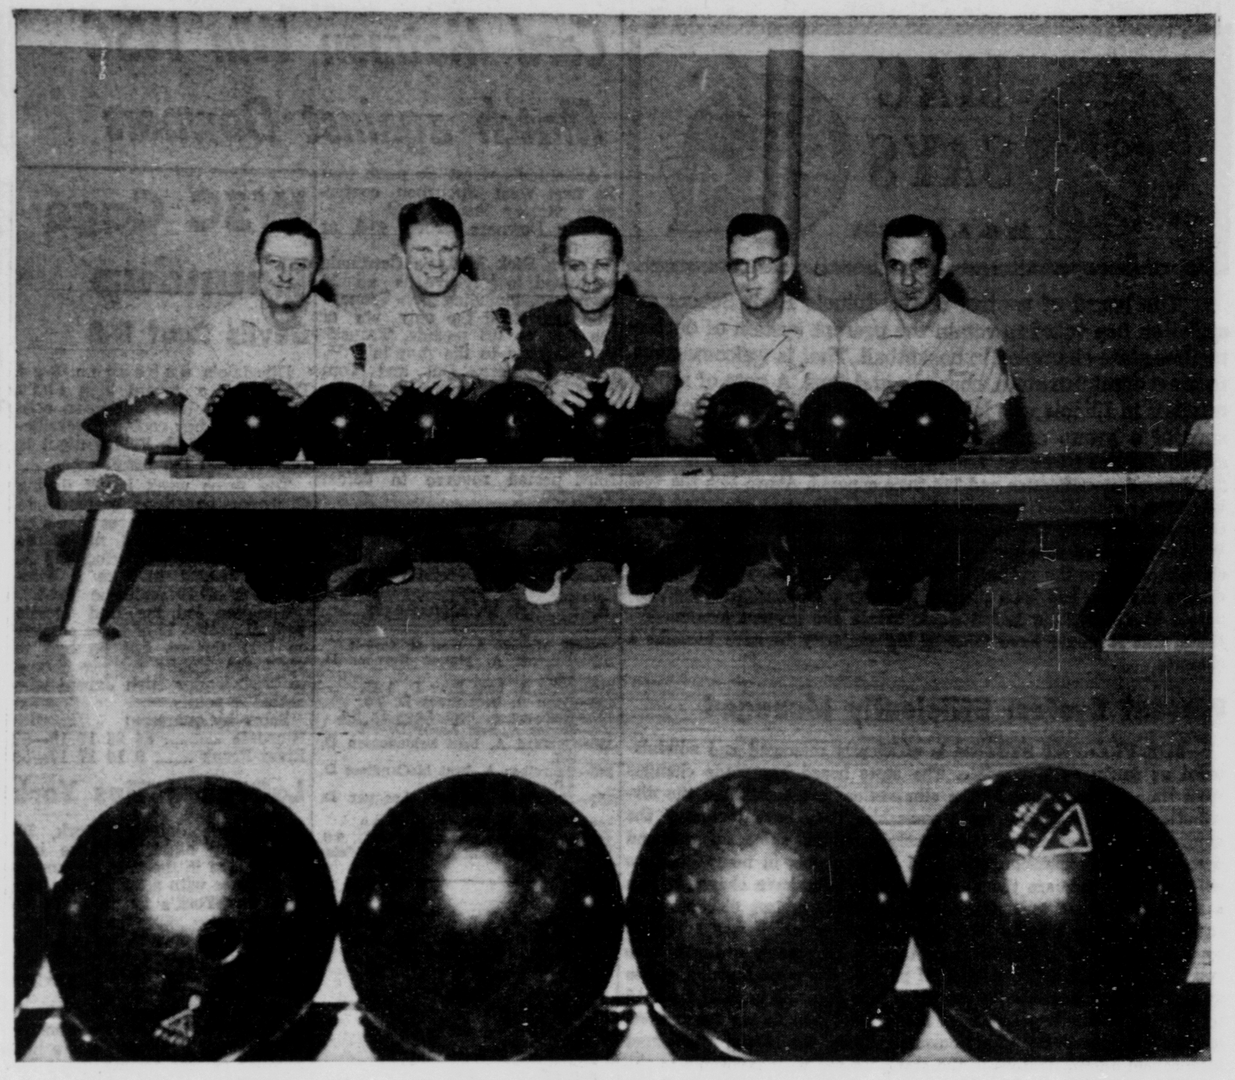
THE FIGHTING is over and the shoes go back on as Busse-Biermann keglers of Mt. Prospect Men's club league complete competition in the Paddock tourney Saturday. Hardware-men grossed 2932 for a temporary second place that was later lost in the shuffle. Getting ready to call it a day are Art Skelton, Bill Christensen, Herschel Patheal, Alex Montgomery and Walter Peterson.



COURTESY TV of Wood Dale Sportsman's loop were on top of the world at 1:15 Monday morning, but ten seconds later had tumbled to second place in the Paddock tournament. Additional prize money of $60 also disappeared in that time. The TV five shot 3039, just 15 pins short of tourney-winning Furniture Mart. Waiting for that final meet-winning ball are Phillip Bickel, John Thredt, Bill Witzke, Richard Glenz and Harry Klich.

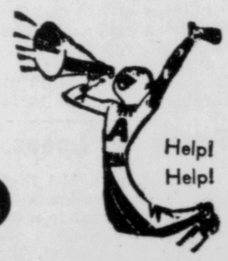
Bowlers Live It Up with High Tourney Scores

UP FOR GRABS goes the ball tossed by Tony Medenwald of Purchasing keglers from Alpha Engineering league at Gunnell's. Ready to catch the apple are Bill Gerstung, Pete Rosauer, Joe Radzak and Bill Zynda. Engineers hit 2912.

DEFENDING CHAMPS carried these pins well, but couldn't knock them down often enough to bring Wheeling Mayor McIntyre a repeat Paddock title. The fivesome hit 2955. John McCarthy ducked out before the photographer took over, with John Glavan, George Horenberger, the mayor, Edward Horenberger and Bernie Koeppen on hand to do the honors.

LIKE WARRIORS of old, the Bensenville Fuel Oil keglers trooped off the alleys Saturday night leading the field, but when the counting was over Sunday the fuelmen discovered their 3014 had dropped to sixth. Wearing smiles of the moment were Andrew Seabul, Ralph Ullring, Martin Westby, James Ostrom, Richard Burkhardt.

KICKIN' IT AROUND



by BOB BUCHANAN

About 8:30 Sunday evening, the girl on the desk picked up the receiver as the phone rang. "Good evening, Hi-Way Recreation," she answered.

On the other end a man asked, "What's the top score in the tournament?"

"Thirty thirty-two," she replied.

That's all he wanted to know. Gaining the information, the Arlington Furniture mart bowling team plotted its course for winning the Paddock Publications Inter-League tournament.

Needed 2900 Pins to Win

THE FURNITURE MART had things going its way. It was the last of 79 squads to take to the Hi-Way alleys. Also Arlington Furniture had the third highest average entering the tournament, but by the same token had the third lowest handicap.

"We need 2900 scratch to win boys," remarked Tom Kouros who four months earlier had put the team together as a Beverly Classic loop entry. That meant games of 966, 967, and 967. The scores had to be good, but then Arlington Furniture had the men to do it.

Kouros has a 193 average and is four pins better in the Paddock classic. Ted Lindstrom has his best average in 23 years of bowling 195. Monte Arkus sports a 189 average. Lead-off man Herb Moehling is hitting 185 and Howard Huff is knocking the pins at a 177 clip.

Low Games, Sore Thumb, Looked Bad

ONLY KOUROS AND MOEHLING, youngest member of the squad at 21, were together last year. Huff and Arkus bowled on opposing teams last year. Lindstrom, after being out of high caliber action for a year, got back in the grind this fall.

Tournament day indications didn't look especially good for the Beverly Classic team despite their hopes. Earlier in the day in the Barrington Classic, Lindstrom rolled a 528 series, 57 pins below his average. Huff, rolling in the Elks Traveling league in Elmhurst, shot a 541 series or his average. Then too, Huff had a sore thumb, he'd been doctoring it with liquid court plaster and cotton.

Arlington Furniture Mart started off on the wrong foot, shooting 906, 60 pins below its goal. In its second game, the Mart warmed up with 999 pins scratch. This meant 985 was necessary to beat the top team's 3034.

Courtesy TV Thorws Real Hook

"WE KNEW WE HAD to score at five marks a frame," Kouros said. "At the halfway mark, we were three marks down. Then we started to bowl. Maybe it was because our opposition (Caron Drugs) was pushing us. Anyway, we were three marks up going into the tenth frame."

Then Courtesy TV threw a real hook. It jumped into first place with a 3039 series. But Arlington Furniture buckled down to win like a champion. Arkus, who had only 139 after nine frames, came to life, striking out. Huff, who needed no incentive, doubled and then got nine pins on his last ball. That was it as Lindstrom and Kouros only needed to mark to win. They did.

The bowler teammates patted on the back was Huff who turned tournament kegler with a 257 final game and a 615 series. Low average man had put Arlington Furniture at the top of the heap.

Learn of Title at 1:30 in Morning

ALL WERE JOYOUS when they learned at 1:30 Monday morning they had bowled their way to the championship of the eighth annual Inter-League tournament. The most happy fellow wasn't a bowler, but a spectator by the name of Everett Lindgren.

Lindgren was pleased even before the tournament started. This was the first team he'd ever sponsored to gain entrance in the Paddock tournament. So, at the pre-tournament confab, Lindgren asked his men, "Why not go all the way?" They did!

On numerous Wednesday evenings, Lindgren cheered his team on while they battled until the final week for the right to enter the Inter-League championship. Arkus phrased it best for his fellow teammates, "We couldn't have won the championship for a better man. A sponsor adds to a team and Lindgren gave us that incentive. Then too, we knew how bad he wanted to win and Lindgren was the sponsor. What else could we do?"

THESE TEN PINS would have meant fifth instead of seventh for Lehman Trailer of Elk Grove. The keglers who garnered the 3007 are Henry Riemer, Robert Wagner, David Riemer, Harold Lehman and Armin Riemer.

THEY SET their sights, but lost their way. Redmon and Sons keglers of Hoffman Estates, front to back, George Ulm, Pete Gorman, George Dommick, Duane Smeryage and Bob Krautstrunk.

FLOOD ENGINEERS of Paddock Classic just missed the money in the Paddock tourney Sunday night with a 2,974, in spite of two men in the 600 bracket. Lined up are Casper Dewitz (606), Leroy Papineau, Chris Pulos (638), Ed Dudek and Tom Kobza.

WILLSON AND FLORENCE keglers of Arlington Methodist men's league vaulted into first place with a 3032 the second shift Sunday, and stayed there until 1:15 Monday morning when the fivesome dropped to third. Waiting for results to be posted, with scorekeeper Wilma Strehlow in the foreground, are Larry Anderson, Ray Howes, Howard Trendel, Harvey Bartholomew, Otis Johnson.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

The board of control of the Illinois High School association has voted to retain the present system of declaring one state champion in basketball. That is welcome news to most administrators, coaches, and fans. A vote of school officials in Illinois was held by the state board under pressure of a group of small schools on the question of one or two size classifications. Among the schools under 350 enrollment 226 favored classification and 175 were opposed. Above 350, the vote was 41 for classification and 152 opposed. We were surprised that the total tally was 327 opposed and 267 in favor of classification. We had expected that the small schools would generally favor the change and give the majority for a change in plan. However, even though the vote had been slightly in favor of a change we had expected that the State Board would retain the present system. We think that it would have taken a big majority to have brought a change.

Present System Efficiently Managed

THE PRESENT SYSTEM is efficiently managed and administered as fairly as is possible. The state board has made changes from time to time to make the eliminations more fair and the distribution of tournaments more equitable. They have increased the number of tournaments in the densely populated suburban area and with the great expansion of second high schools in many districts will no doubt increase the number again. They have changed from a 16 to an 8 team tournament in order to have less disruption of school in holding a state tournament, a move which was approved by a majority of administrators though the coaches would have you think otherwise. The holding of preliminary state tourney games at eight sites scattered over the state to reduce the number from 16 to eight has made it possible for many more fans to see top basketball and increased the total tournament revenue. Along with most high school administrators in the state, we are very favorable to the policies and methods used by the State Board and their chief administrator, Albert Willis, and we are very happy that the tournament plan will not be changed.

North Chicago Continues to Roll

NORTH CHICAGO CONTINUES to roll in the Tri-County with an easy victory over Glenbrook. Coach Ed Woods has experimented a good deal using a number of boys as fifth man on his team. Finally this past week he moved a six foot sophomore up to the first team and has improved the ball handling, speed, and shooting of the team by the shift. Elmwood Park, winner of the Fenton holiday tourney, has been gaining cage stature right along. Notre Dame, whom Elmwood Park beat in the tourney final, knocked off Crane Tech of Chicago this past week. Crane has been rated one of the best in the state and the logical representative of the Chicago area in the state tourney.

Palatine, but for a brief lapse in defense in the second quarter, might have notched their first league win Friday. Instead they lost 70-65 to Lake Park. Dick Welty was not ready to get into action as his arm, immobilized in a cast for over a month, is taking time to get strong enough for basketball. His presence would have made the difference Friday and when he gets back into action prepare to enjoy watching the Pirates win a few games. This week it is North Chicago on the Pirate card and after that one Palatine will be ready to cash in with a victory.

Palatine High Referendum Saturday

SATURDAY IS ONE OF THE most important dates in Palatine high history. A referendum for a second high school is to be held. The establishment of a second school will not split the athletic material in the Palatine-Schaumburg area but rather increase facilities for the district. With the new school planned for frosh-sophs, in the beginning, the facilities of both the old and the new school will be used by all the athletic teams. All the football and baseball in the district will be played at the new site, the track will be split and all the basketball and wrestling matches will be played at the present gym. An effort is being made not to duplicate facilities but rather to supplement them by providing at the new site those lacking in the present school. The split into two separate 4-year high schools is not expected to take place until there are at least 2,500 high school students in the district. Classroom areas will be developed first at the new site with indoor physical education and athletic facilities coming after everything else has been provided.

Ten Years Ago

EUGENE BUSSE got a free throw to tie the score in the final second of play and scored the winning overtime basket as Arlington beat Niles for the third time 36-35.

Palatine took a double bill at Ela-Vernon as the varsity moved out of the cellar with a 3-6 record and the frosh-soph retained first place with 7-1. Bensenville beat Wauconda, 45-38, to remain tied with Barrington for first place with a 7-1 record. The Bisons also beat Grant 54-38. Bensenville's team, noted for well balanced scoring, is made up of Zielinski, Baldwin, and Egley, forwards; Anderson, center; and DesLauries and Keller, guards. Leyden voted down a bond issue a second time which would provide a new gym. Arlington drubbed the Northwest leader, Barrington, 42-27, as Bill Robinson scored 20 points. In addition to leading the Northwest, Barrington had the week before topped Zion, the North Suburban leader.

Twenty Years Ago

PALATINE DEFEATED BENSENVILLE, 28-14, as Bob Stewart, senior forward, tallied 16 points. Mathews had eight for the Bisons. Krause scored 13 as Bensenville beat the Pirate lights, 27-20. Libertyville beat Arlington, 28-21, but Arlington's powerful lightweight team, coached by Ray Hayes, kept on winning, 30-10.

Feehanville's "B" squad rallied in the final quarter to defeat Wheeling's lightweight basketball team, 19-18, Tuesday, Jan. 6, at Wheeling.

Feehanville, behind 18-13 at the end of three periods, held Wheeling scoreless in the final period while overcoming the deficit.

Personal foul shots made by Feehanville accounted for its winning margin. They made five of 19. Wheeling failed to make one.

High point man for Wheeling was Jerry Simonsen with 10. Feehanville's Meehan gathered a like amount.

Wheeling Coach Swanson had this comment. Pass interceptions proved t obe Wheeling's nemesis. This, he said, will be the keynote at future lightweight practices.

Assignments will find Arlington and Palatine both going to the Glenbrook regional. Lake Park is scheduled to go to Elgin and Fenton has been selected to participate in the York regional at Elmhurst.

Barrington Beats Pirates With 3 Regulars on Bench

Barrington's basketeers beat Palatine, 70-65, Saturday night in Barrington but had to do it with three Pirate regulars sitting on the bench.

Coach Dick Kolze's Pirates, who went down to their 11th consecutive loss, led until the last four minutes when the Bronchos scored 12 straight points to take a commanding 69-60 lead.

ON THE BENCH was Forward Harvey Foster, who was whistled out with five fouls with three minutes left in the third period and Palatine ahead, 53-48. Foster at the time had 10 points.

Five minutes later, with 5:53 left in the game, officials sounded their fifth foul against Guard Allen Helms. At the time, Palatine held a 59-53 advantage. Helms was a thorn in the Bronchos' side with eight baskets.

Another regular out, but not on the bench, was Forward Bernie Seitz. Seitz was at a Barrington doctor's office, having four stitches taken in his upper lip as a result of a second quarter collision. At that time, the Pirates led, 35-28.

KOLZE HAD capable first line reserves for the first two losses in Bob Schneble and Dick Knez. However, when Helms went out, the Pirates had no one capable of working the ball into Tom Meyer on the pivot as before.

Barrington, which had trailed by as much as 11 points early in the second quarter, finally took the lead at the halfway mark in the last quarter when Dick Esh put in a second rebound to give the Broncs a 61-60 advantage. Then the roof fell in for Palatine. Sophomore Tom Douglas hit a drive-in as did Dick Fink. Sandwiched in between were two free throws each by Esh and Leigh Kinnamon. By this time, the game was out of reach, Barrington ahead, 69-60.

For the second straight night, Palatine had even scoring with four players hitting in the double figures. Meyer, who once again was rugged under the hoop, led the Pirates with 23 points. Helms had 16 when he fouled out. Guard Ron Angerer wound up with 12 and Foster with 10.

ESH PACED Coach Bob Madding's Barrington team to its seventh win in 12 starts with 21 points, recording seven baskets and a like number of free throws. Forward Ron Bederske was just one point behind, playing the part of a rugged customer under the basket.

Palatine shot a good .492, sinking 29 of 59 field goal attempts. Barrington, which was out-rebounded, had to do better and did. The Broncs sank 27 of 51 attempts for an amazing .529 percentage.

Barrington won the game on the free throw line. Palatine, which set a season high with 29 baskets, produced two more field goals than Barrington. And Palatine, percentage-wise, outshot the Broncs from the free throw line, .700 to .593.

WHERE BARRINGTON cashed in was on the number of charity shots. They made 16 in 27 attempts. The Pirates received only 10 but made seven.

What hurt were 19 fouls against Palatine and only six against Palatine. Officials Art Serfling and Bob Young could find enough air only once in the first 15 minutes of the second half while the game was still in doubt to charge a foul against the host school. Meanwhile, they blew the whistle nine times against Palatine.

Palatine Scares Lancers In Hot 70-65 Contest

Palatine lost its 10th straight basketball game Friday night, and Lake Park, which had lost six straight earlier in the season, found out how dangerous an eager victory-starved team can be.

Coach Jerry Carpenter's Lancers won their first Tri-County conference cage encounter, beating the Pirates, 70-65, in the Palatine gymnasium before 2,000 fans.

THE LANCERS broke a 14-all first period tie by out-distancing Palatine, 15-1, for five minutes in the second period. From that point — 32-17 — Palatine made a game out of it for the first time since its opening contest.

Scoring six points in the final minute of the second quarter, Coach Dick Kolze's Pirates brought the halftime deficit down to 36-23. In both the third and fourth periods, the Pirates poured 21 points through the hoop.

Palatine was never able to gain the lead or tie, but at one point closed the gap to one point, 52-51. That was with two minutes gone in the final quarter.

THEN EDDIE Robinson dropped in a pair of gifters, Steve Whipple sank a drive-in, and Dale Hacke dropped in a four-foot hook shot and a free throw for a 59-51 Lake Park lead.

Even when the Pirates lost Guard Allen Helms and Forward Bernie Seitz with five fouls with two minutes to go, Palatine closed an eight point gap to five.

During the second half, Kolze had his Pirates use a press throughout. The press caused the Lancers' backcourt men to make numerous mistakes. Even so, Palatine made its mistake by not covering the deep men. As a result, Lake Park, when it got the ball downcourt was able to hit "cripple" shots half the time.

HACKE was the man who killed the Pirates in the second half, netting 13 points to boost his night's total to 20. However, Reeves wound up high point man for Lake Park with 22. He was most deadly during the Lancer's second quarter scoring spurt when he netted four field goals and a foul shot.

Hanson had one of his best nights for the Lancers this season, getting 16. Several times he looked good on shots wheeling off the pivot. Those three accounted for all but 12 of Lake Park's points.

Palatine didn't have as high an individual scorer as Lake Park but four of its men reached double figures, something which the Pirates have not seen before this season. Tom Meyer, playing most of the second half with four fouls, still pumped in nine points to wind up high for Palatine with 16.

GUARD RON ANGERER, able to plunk in the 20 footer with regularity, had his best night of the year with 14 points. Forward Harvey Foster, working well on a moving pivot, was able to hit four field goals and when the Lancers choked the center, he was fouled enough times to net five gifters. Foster totaled 13 points.

Bernie Seitz, a rough workhorse under the basket, began to show promise as a regular scorer, netting four field goals and two free throws.

THE GAME BROKE several Palatine season records. First, the Pirates had their highest number of points, 65, seven better than in the Wauconda game. Palatine cagers made 27 field goals, one more than Lake Park and one more than in their previous high against Wauconda. The 60 field goal attempts came within two of their high, also against Wauconda.

With Palatine shooting like it did, Lake Park needed to hit the hoop and did. The Lancers shot .520 from the field, making 26 of 50 field goal attempts, and .621 from the free throw line, dropping 18 of 29 charity tosses.

Illini, Notre Dame Clash In Stadium Bill Jan. 24

Douglas R. Mills, director of athletics at the University of Illinois the past 18 years, will receive special recognition when the Illini and Notre Dame renew their traditional basketball rivalry at Chicago Stadium Saturday night, January 24.

Loyola, which won six of its first nine games and set several school scoring records en route, will meet Toledo's Mid-America conference leaders in the second game. The first game starts at 7:45 p.m. Toledo won six of its first eight starts, losing 66-63 to Wittenberg in double overtime.

Mills, a native of Elgin who distinguished himself as a six letter man in football and basketball, and later as head basketball coach, will receive a surprise gift from Loyola, according to Arthur Morse, assistant to the Loyola director of athletics.

The presentation will be made against a glamour background. The Big Ten Court of Honor from the University of Illinois, headed by Homecoming Queen Elizabeth Hamilton of Oak Park has been invited to participate.

Mannie Jackson of Edwardsville led Illini scoring after two conference games with a 16 point average. Coach Harry Combes has been cheered by the return of veteran Roger Taylor Illini playmaker and all-game high scorer, who missed the first conference game and much of the second with a leg injury.

Notre Dame Surprises Crane Tech, 58 to 57

By JAMES McCABE

Ancient fables of Jack and the Giant Killer became fact Friday night when the giant Crane Tech team wa stoppled by the Notre Dame squad led by Jack Bordes

In what was possibly the most exciting game every played at Notre, the Dons won, 58-57. Prior to othe game, Crane Tech, generally known to be one of the top teams in the Chicago area, was a 20 to 30 point favorite. The soph team of the Dons fell to the Panther sophs 65-40.

Crane moved to an early 11-3 lead in the first period, but thanks to some sharpshooting by Bordes, the Dons ended the period in a 17-17 tie. The second period was filled with nip and tuck basketball and ended with teams as well as the crowd realizing Crane would not take the game so easily.

The second half opened with Crane in a full court press which seemed to halt much of the Don drive. It seems, however, that the Panthers were so intent on stopping the Dons that they themselves forgot to score many baskets and entered the final period of play on the short end of a 41-40 score.

The fourth period consisted of both teams matching basket for basket, until Bordes snatched the victory for the Dons with his electrifying shot. The action of the final seconds was as follows: With five seconds to go, it looked as though Dick McCafferty would be unable to get a shot off before the final buzzer. He managed a desperate pass to Bordes on the other side of the court who, taking the pass in the air, rerouted the ball through the hoop for the winning point.

Most of the credit for the Don victory rests with Bordes whose 24 points and final shot dealt Crane a great deal of trouble. Another Notre Dame "trouble maker" was Junior Center Mike Donavon, who in his first starting position of the season, held Crane's star, James Robinson to 16 points. Al Branch of the aPnthers was high man for both squads with 26 points.

The Dons will play host to Immaculate Conception Friday night at Notre Dame.

Illini Track Schedule

University of Illinois' defending Big Ten indoor and outdoor track champions have arranged an ambitious schedule for this winter and spring. Complete slate for Coach Leo Johnson's squad, considered a strong threat for both titles again this year, was announced today by Douglas R. Mills, director of athletics.

Loss of all-around performer Bob Mitchell and weightmen Bob Pellant and Ted Caiazza reduces scoring potential of the Illini. However, newcomers appear able to take up the slack and provide improvement for the 1959 campaign.

The complete schedule:

Indoor

Feb. 7 — Open Meet (at Champaign)
Feb. 14 — Purdue
Feb. 21 — Michigan
Feb. 28 — At Ohio State
Mar. 6-7 — Big Ten Championships, at Wisconsin
Mar. 9 — At Milwaukee Relays
Mar. 20 — At Cleveland Relays
Mar. 28 — At Chicago Relays

Outdoor

Apr. 11 — At Missouri
Apr. 18 — Iowa, Wisconsin, Northwestern
Apr. 24-25 — At Drake Relays
May 2 — At Purdue
May 9 — Ohio State
May 16 — To be filled
May 22-23 — Big Ten Championships, at Michigan
June 12-13 — N.C.A.A. Championships, at Nebraska

Bradley Surprises! Wins 8 Straight

Not even half way through the current basketball season and the completely unexpected has already happened.

Bradley ran up a record of 8-0 before losing one and before the season anyone who had thought this would happen could have been carted away for saying it. Then when the Braves did lose, it was a real orbit burner at Cincinnati in a double-overtime by one point.

Unbeaten Grapplers

Southern Illinois University's wrestlers compiled the only unbeaten record during the 1957-58 season. The Saluki grapplers won nine and lost none for the first undefeated year in school history.

Assistants Beat Boss

Three of Biggie Munn's Michigan State football assistants were winners in recent bowl games. Duffy Daugherty, now MSU's head coach, directed the winning East team in the East-West Shrine Game; Forest Evashevski's Iowa club won at the Rose Bowl, and Bob Devaney's Wyoming team was the winner in the Sun Bowl.

Ski Jump Mark Target At Norge Hill Sunday

The 208 foot distance record for Norge Hill, which stood for 10 years will be the target of several spectacular jumpers in the 54th annual meet at Fox River Grove Sunday.

Art Tokle, holder of the record, is expected to lead the bidding for a new mark. Art established the mark while captain of the Norge team. Now he competes from Telemark Lake, N. J.

TOKLE, 36, WHO came to this country from Norway after his late brother, Torger, had practically rewritten the American record book of ski jumping, has taken up where Torger left off.

Torger held the Norger distance mark until Art broke it. During the past 15 years Art has established more hill records than any other jumper in history.

He has appeared in three eastern tournaments so far this season and won all of them.

BILLY OLSON of Eau Claire, Wis., will defend the title he won last year.

The strong jumpers from Michigan will be headed by Willie Erickson and Jim House of Iron Mountain. Erickson will compete as a senior for the first time.

Wilbert Rasmussen, Coy Hill and Rudy Maki will represent the Ishpeming club.

TO "PUSH" the American jumpers to all-out effort, the Norge Club is bringing Torbjorn Yggeseth from Wenatchee, Wash., college to compete.

Yggeseth was Norway's best skier last year before he came here to study aeronautical engineering.

Other contestants in the title class will be Keith Zuehlke, who finished second last year, and Ted Lahner of Eau Claire; Ansten Samuelstuen, 1957 Norge champ and holder of the 316 foot national mark, of Steamboat Springs, Colo.; and his teammate, Marvin Crawford.

Lloyd Severud of Eau Claire and Sverre Fredheim of St. Paul will top the veterans' division. Fredheim, 53, will be competing in the Norge meet for the 26th time.

Pier Illini Baseball Clinic Jan. 24

More than 200 baseball managers, coaches, umpires and prominent Chicago area baseball figures have been invited to attend a Baseball and Umpire Clinic at the University of Illinois — Chicago, Saturday, January 24.

A program of informative sessions emphasizing the techniques and methods of instruction and umpiring in amateur baseball has been scheduled. The program will be conducted by a highly competent teaching staff carefully selected from the ranks of both amateur and professional baseball on the basis of teaching ability as well as athletic skill.

The program will cover pitching, play situations, batting, base running and sliding, infield play, mechanics of umpiring and rules interpretation.

In planning the clinic, Les Miller, baseball coach at UIC, said, "We in the coaching profession are dedicated to the principle of giving to the baseball-minded youth of America the opportunity to develop their maximum baseball ability. It is our belief that fundamental to this principle is sound coaching, managing, and officiating."

Sessions will begin at 9 a.m., and run until 4:30 p.m., in the UIC gym at the west end of Navy Pier.

Northwestern Seeks Return To Win Trail

Northwestern's basketball team will seek to get back on the victory trail when it travels to Columbus Saturday to meet Ohio State's twice defeated Buckeyes. The next home engagement for Northwestern will be against Minnesota at McGaw Hall Monday night.

The Wildcat cagers lost their second game of the season and their first in Big Ten competition when they bowed to Indiana Saturday night, 76-69. The defeat knocked Northwestern out of first place in the young Big Ten race. The Wildcats now possess a 2-1 record in conference play and a season's mark of 9-2.

Northwestern's usually effective field goal shooting took a nose dive against the Hoosiers. The Wildcats entered the game with a season's shooting percentage of .453 but could do no better than .289 per cent against Indiana.

'WAY BACK WHEN'

30 Years Ago

January 11, 1929

Arlington Heights Lodge (UD) A. F. & A. M. was instituted January 3 by Paul Pahst in charge of the district in which the lodge is located.

The death last week of Mr. H. W. Boeger, who had lived nearly all of his life in Arlington Heights and vicinity brings to the mind of many of his friends earlier days in this village and the part the deceased occupied in the growth of the village since he started the lumber yard here forty-five years ago. Coming to Elk Grove in 1857, he had spent nearly three-quarters of a century in this vicinity. He had been a farmer, carpenter, business man and interested in real estate. He did not retire from the latter business until two years ago when nearing his 79th year.

Mr. Boeger was born in Germany in 1847, coming to America with his parents when ten years old. The family first located in Elk Grove and then his father purchased the present Albrecht farm on the south side of Palatine road. He took up the trade of a carpenter and when the Chicago fire occurred he answered the call for help and spent nearly five years engaged in rebuilding that city.

In 1873 he was united in marriage to Miss Caroline Kuehl. He purchased a small farm east of his father's farm and built his own house. In 1884 he established a lumber yard on the block east of the Old Folks home. His home faced the present Northwest highway and his shop and yard extended north on property that faces Memorial Park. When a disastrous fire destroyed his yard and shop, he did not become discouraged, but purchased the lumber business of Christ Geils on S. Evergreen, which he later sold to Tibbits-Cameron Lumber Co. He then in partnership with Peter Beyer started a real estate and insurance business, erecting the present office of H. F. Redeker. He left the real estate business two years ago but retained his insurance business until a week before his death, when he cancelled the agency.

Mr. Herman Krueger of Long Grove was born in Ela Township in 1870. As a young man he found employment in the Long Grove cheese factory and for over 30 years was in charge of the butter and cheese making. In 1897 he was united in marriage with Miss Emma Umbdenstock of Long Grove. This happy union was blessed with one child, Mildred, who is now to be laid to rest in a double grave with her father. Dec. 5 he went with his wife to view the mortal remains of their only child. At the side of the bier he sank over and died.

Carl John Frederick Neitz was born in 1844 in Germany and in 1871 married Fredericka Koch. They came to America in 1882 and found a new home near Palatine. After the death of his wife he married Miss Federicke Sternberg in 1883. Mr. Neitz died Jan. 2. He leaves two sons, William and Walter, two daughters, Mrs. Ed Pahlman and Mrs. William Duenn.

January 6, 1939

Herman Garms, who served as Wheeling township highway commissioner for a period longer than probably any other man in the state, died Monday morning at his home, 904 N. State rd., Arlington Heights. He had served as road commissioner fifty-six years. He started his public service as path-master in 1882. As road commissioner he was among the first to take advantage of modern methods for road building. His first wooden culvert, made of two inch planks was placed on Euclid Ave. in 1883 between the cemetery and Victor Reed's residence. Nearly all the culverts and bridges in the township have been built by him, including the 60 foot bridge over the Des Plaines river at Wheeling.

He was born in Orchard Place in 1857. When still a young man, he came to Wheeling township settling on Euclid ave. Upon his marriage in 1883 to Miss Engel Meyer he started housekeeping at the present Victor Reed residence. He later purchased the adjoining farm which became the Garms homestead and which is occupied by his son Edward. Mrs. Garms died in 1915. Four years later he married Mary McCune. Had he lived until next Monday, they would have been married twenty years, all of which was spent at the N. State rd. home. For a period of 23 years Mr. Garms operated a dairy farm and a milk route in the city.

WAY BACK WHEN, 50 years ago, Ray Lesch, 11 S. Milwaukee, Wheeling, received this rocking horse for Christmas. Ray, his brothers, and his sons all played with the horse. This Christmas Ray gave the horse a new coat of paint, mane and tail and presented it to his 2-year-old granddaughter Kimberly. Mr. Lesch also has a way back when Christmas tree trimmed with popcorn and cookies. (WBW

Nation's Oldest Park

Hot Springs (Ark.) National Park is actually the nation's oldest, having been established as a federal reservation in 1832. However, it was not actually designated as a national park until 1921, while Yellowstone National Park was authorized in 1872.

Father's Day

Father's Day was first observed on June 19, 1910, and was launched on a national scale from Spokane, Wash., by the Ministerial Association and the YMCA.

In His Name

The loganberry, a cross between a California wild blackberry and a red raspberry, was named for Judge James Henry Logan, who introduced it in California in 1881.

Sentimental Swiss Now Have Home for Old Horses

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Switzerland now has an old-horses home. Horses that have reached retirement age and lack funds or pensions can now idle their remaining days away in security.

Horse lovers and the Swiss Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals have established a settlement on the Island of St. Peter, located on Lake Bienne. A huge pasture has been bought and unpretentious but adequate stables constructed.

ARRANGEMENTS have already been made with a local Boy Scout troop to supply spurts of free labor. The high school at Bienne has promised a mass attack on the job of collecting hay next summer. Students in Switzerland do not have such long summer vacations as in America, so it is felt that a day or two for the horses would be well spent.

At the recent opening of the old-age home, the sponsors gave their project an explosive beginning by lashing out at the public.

Horses, they pointed out, are great friends of man. They serve him uncomplainingly throughout life. They pull beer wagons and garbage trucks, not to forget milk for the children, with enthusiasm and love for their masters. They struggle along on cold, unprepared, cheap food. When they can no longer pull a plow or drag a junk wagon, they are sold to the butchers or to the glue manufacturers. This is an example of man's ingratitude and brutality, the sponsors point out, and partial forgiveness can be had by contributing a few francs for the upkeep of the animal home.

THE NEW institution has also started an adoption plan. Many of the aged horses have already been given to kindly people.

If a Swiss family can provide a good home, making sure that the son or daughter of the family will treat the animal properly, they are given a horse. But the animal must be accepted as a pet and not returned to the harness. (B8

Indifference Is Unpardonable Sin

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I can admire a man who hates me; forgive a man who ridicules me; honor one who defeats me; and respect the person who criticizes me; but I have never been able to find any affection in my heart for the person who is indifferent to me.

Indifference, I believe, is an unpardonable sin.

It is more painful to be ignored, especially by some one you would like for a friend, than to be slapped in the face. But to be treated indifferently is worse than to be ignored.

While some one is studiously ignoring you, you know that he must go to some effort to do it, is going to some pains to avoid you, and you can find some compassion for him. But to know that a person you are talking to, or are in some manner associated with, does not either believe or disbelieve what you say; that he does not care what happens to you one way or the other; that he does not care what you think of him, and never bothers to think about you; that is cruelty at its worst, mental torture in its most perfect form.

IT TAKES A special kind of person to achieve such indifference, but there are enough such persons around that you must know at least one of them.

Such a person must have a heart of stone, to be insensible alike to suffering or joy. In business, they are cold, calculating, almost brutal. They are sometimes fine actors, capable of turning on the charm and winning your friendship and love if it is to their advantage to do so; but at the same time, they are without feeling for you. They can discard you at will, with no feeling of gratitude for your friendship, loyalty or help when you have served your purpose, and no qualms of conscience for any harm they have done, or the heartaches and disillusionment they have caused you to have.

I can not think of a more disagreeable person, capable of spreading more misery, hurting more people, and causing more mental and emotional anguish to those who love them, than the indifferent person, the cold fish, unaffected by friendship, love, pain, hopes, and despairs of the people among which he lives, but whose lives never touch his own. Lord, deliver me from the indifferent person! (B12

Court Decisions Add 440 Acres to Forest Preserves

Five land condemnation cases, closed out in court before the end of 1958, have added about 440 acres to forest preserve district holdings in Elk Grove township and two others about 13 acres in Wheeling township.

Land costs, determined by juries, totaled $656,750 for the expansion in Elk Grove township and $73,500 in Wheeling township.

The largest of the seven tracts covers 153 acres at the northeast corner of Higgins and Rohlwing roads, Elk Grove township, purchased from Emil Clausing and his wife, Floretta, for $271,000. The price for the farm included a two-story frame farmhouse and 21 outbuildings.

Data on the other recent land acquisitions, by township:

ELK GROVE

—113.25 acres on the south side of Golf road and east side of Rohlwing road, sold by William Rohlwing for $175,000. Farm improvements include a large barn, 15 outbuildings, and a 10-room home.

—80.6 acres on south side of Higgins road, east of Rohlwing road, and bordered on the right by Pfeifer road, sold by William Beisner for $94,000.

—69.2 acres on east side of Rohlwing road, south of Higgins road, a truck farm with improvements sold by Ernest Haseman for $114,000.

—3.9 acres on east side of toll road, west of Arlington Heights road and southeast of Golf road, balance of a mushroom farm, sold by Honorato Luba for $2,750. This piece was left "isolated" by the taking of a larger section of the farm earlier for tollroad purposes.

WHEELING

—12.3 acres (near Lake-Cook county line) on east side of Milwaukee ave., north of Dundee rd., vacant, sold by Edward Hoyer for $71,000.

—.68 acres on west side of Des Plaines river, south of Dundee road, east side of Milwaukee, sold by Ludwig Schroeder for $2,500. The site adjoins greenhouse property. (B8

Melodrama Is Slated By Theatre

Attention all fans of the good old fashioned melodrama – for Village Theatre's talent bank is presenting a one act villain and hero type play several times during this month.

Four performances have been scheduled. The first will be given January 13 for the Skokie Community Theatre, Skokie, the second, January 20 at Rolling Meadows Community church; the third, January 21 for the Newcomers club at Pioneer Park, Arlington Heights; the fourth, January 27 for the women's club of St. James church, Arlington Heights.

Making up the cast of this melodrama, 'Parted on Her Wedding Morn," are Mary Jane Jayne, John Lobenhoffer, Carol Mooney, Barbara Fahn, Dick Mooney and Marie Pridmore. The director is Bob Randolph.

Commuters Threaten New Action

Attorney Harry R. Booth, representing the North Western Commuters' association, said he will appear before Cicruit Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski within two weeks to ask for a temporary order preventing the railroad from continuing the recent service cuts and fare raises instituted December 1, pending trial of his appeal.

The appeal was filed January 6 from the Illinois Commerce commission order of November 14, 1958, which allowed the closing of 22 stations, the discontinuance of 26 trains and fare increases up to 120 per cent.

BOOTH SAID the commuters' group, inspired by the recent success of the Milwaukee commuters, will take the case to the Illinois Supreme court if necessary to overcome the "frightful order."

The association represents 40,000 commuters in 70 to 75 northwest communities served by the railroad. A rehearing was denied by the ICC on December 23. Recent serious delays have been blamed by the railroad on the weather. (B8

Christmas Bride Now Living in New Mexico

A Christmas motif formed the setting for the December 28 wedding of Miss Doris Skoog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Skoog, 208 W. Fremont, Arlington Heights, and Jerry Wallace of Clovis, N. M. The sanctuary of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church was decorated with poinsettias and Christmas trees trimmed with gold ornaments as the bride was given in marriage by her father, the former police chief of Arlington Heights.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley D. Wallace of Clovis and is presently teaching in the Clovis public schools. His bride is also a teacher there.

THE 4 O'CLOCK candlelight wedding was performed by Rev. Paul Stumpf, after which a reception was given in the church fellowship hall for 100 guests. Soloist for the ceremony was Earl Auge, who sang "O Perfect Love," "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Auge was organist.

The bride was gowned in a white brocaded faille ballerina length dress with bateau neckline and long sleeves and an illusion net veil held by a lace cap set with seed pearls. She also wore a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white orchid centered in a cascade of carnations.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Deering of Lake Zurich, was matron of honor in red brocaded taffeta, ballerina length, with a matching net and velvet hat, and she carried a giant styrofoam "snowball" decorated with white carnations.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, James Wallace, and ushers were George Skoog, the bride's brother who was home on furlough from Carswell Air Force base in Texas, and Edward Deering, the bride's brother-in-law.

FOR HER daughter's wedding Mrs. Skoog chose a dress of mauve lace over pink taffeta with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Wallace wore a gray flannel sheath dress and jacket trimmed with a fur collar, sapphire blue accessories and also had an orchid corsage.

Following a week's honeymoon in San Antonio, Texas, the couple is now at home at 3112 Sheldon, Clovis, N. M.

Anyone for Aging Aspergum?

I know women who keep everything so neat that instead of cringing when a cupboard door is open, they glow. I am not one of them. When anyone opens anything in my house, I duck. Things will fall out, and I'm not sure I'm covered with my own insurance.

But, I just want to make a bet. I'll bet their medicine chests are a mess. Well, mine is anyway and I'm about to do a little snooping to compare. No other medicine chest could cough up the conglomeration mine has. Or can they?

What other chest has 14 toothpaste caps but only one tube of toothpaste which, by some strange coincidence, has no cap. There is also a nice box of Aspergum purchased 14 years ago when the eldest, now married, had her tonsils out. It has one asper in it and, as I have one child left who still possesses tonsils, nothing will make me get rid of it. That's thrift.

On the other hand, is it thrifty to keep 10 bottles of nail polish all degenerated to the consistency of Aspergum—chewed? But, the colors are so pretty standing there in their neat little rows. The only thing neat about the cabinet.

I wonder if anyone else just cannot bring themselves to take the big leap and really and truly throw away an old toothbrush. There are five people in our family who use a toothbrush. The youngest doesn't have enough teeth to bother with. Unless, by some unhappy circumstance you happen to get one of your fingers in his mouth. He then becomes a saber-toothed tiger. With us five toothbrushers, why then do we possess 17 toothbrushes? They are nice for cleaning the birdcage and make pretty good eyebrow combers but, outside of that, what?

Our cabinet also is the home of the usual group of things such as seven bottles of cough syrup of various eras, each bottle having at least a teaspoonful left in it, six different remedies for youthful and not so youthful acne, Unguentine with one squeeze left, hairclips and more hairclips and just gobs and gobs of things that will cure the itch.

I was never so aware of what a bunch of sensitive skins we all had until I counted the itch medicine. There are nine different itch cures here and if, when you itch, you don't want to scratch, come over and we'll try them out.

To help keep poorly packaged ice cream fresh and smooth while in freezer storage, University of Illinois ice cream specialists suggest that you (1) place the original carton in a tightly sealed plastic bag or (2) wrap the carton with moisture-proof wrapping material or (3) transfer the ice cream to a moisture-proof container.

'Too Good' Child Is a Problem, Too

The quiet, "good" child can be just as much of a problem as the loud, boisterous one. But not all "good" children are problems.

Dr. Willie Mae Mowrer, University of Illinois child development and family relations specialist, describes two kinds of good children in this way:

Twelve-year-old John often plays alone. He has a butterfly collection. He's building a dog house. He's delivering newspapers. When approached by either adults or children, he is responsive, gentle and friendly. He really likes and trusts both his peers and adults, but finds his greatest pleasure in doing things by himself.

JOHN IS A good child, but not a problem child.

On the other hand, 10-year-old Jane is a little "old" lady. She's unhappy if her clothes and toys are not placed "just so" in drawers or on shelves.She doesn't like to have girls her own age in to play because they disarrange her things. Although she spends hours preparing her lessons, Jane stands in tongue-tied agony when called upon to recite in class. On the playground she retreats when approached by other children or an adult. She distrusts and fears them.

Jane is too good.

According to Mrs. Mowrer, both children need some help, but not to the same degree. John's parents should encourage him to broaden his interests to include activities with other people — Boy Scouts, 4-H, band or athletics.

But fearful, distrustful Jane's problem is much more serious. First, she needs to feel that the world around her is a friendly, reasonably safe place.

SECOND, SHE MUST learn that she can adequately deal with situations that come her way. And, finally, she must know that her parents and teachers want to understand and to help.

Mrs. Mowrer quotes Mrs. Gladys Jenkins, author of "These Are Your Children" in listing four ways in which parents can help such children:

1. Try to understand and remove the cause of timidity. Let the child know that he is a worthwhile person and is loved for himself. Ease up on strict rules; allow a little more freedom. This requires patience, for it is often months before the parent can see any change from the timid response to the even slightly adventurous one.

2. Gradually build up self-confidence. Praise raises morale and gives new courage to try something new and different. Self-confidence is built on success and tends to carry over from one thing to another. If the timid, introverted, self-centered youngster has small responsibilities that he can easily handle and feels that he is relied upon for certain things, he will develop self-confidence.

3. Set example of calmness and courage. A matter-of-fact, casual way of dealing with the timid child will help him. Parents should guard against letting the child think his shortcomings make him different or that they are ashamed of him. That would cause him to feel more unworthy and more unwilling to try new things.

4. Be patient. Remember that growth takes time.

Youngest Cook's Favorites ArePear Salad, Burger Buns

by LOIS SEILER

Though the least experienced, little Vicky Lewis nonetheless has the distinction of being the youngest cook ever featured in this column.

This young lady, who will be six in February, has been cooking ever since her fifth birthday when someone gave her the "Little Mother's Cook Book" published by Pixie Press.

Two of her favorite recipes are for Humpty Dumpty Pear Salad and Burger Buns.

BOTH OF THESE recipes are simple enough for a youngster to prepare by himself, and both are foods that most children like to eat.

They will enjoy, too, putting together the salad, which consists of a pear placed on a lettuce leaf and decorated to look like Humpty Dumpty saying "Oh" as he is about to fall off the wall.

The Burger Buns are made by mixing together ground beef and catsup, spreading the mixture on buns and placing them in the broiler.

These recipes are fun for children to make, and will help them cultivate an interest in culinary activities. And how proud they will be to hear the compliments from their mothers and dads!

VICKY LIKES to make the Humpty Dumpty Salad for birthday parties, accompanied by cup cakes and chocolate milk. She makes the salad for family dinners, too, along with the Burger Buns which she serves with potato chips.

Cooking is just one of the many interests of this talented little miss. A kindergartner at Sunset Park school, Vicky also takes ballet lessons and likes to compose on her little piano. She can write some of her favorite words, and work arithmetic problems, too.

Vicky has an older brother Alan, who is 8, and a baby sister, Monica, 2. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lewis of 904 S. Elmhurst rd., Mt. Prospect.

Humpty Dumpty Pear Salad

Use red cinnamon hearts for the eyes, raisins for the nose and Life Savers for the mouth. Give Humpty a mayonnaise hat.

Burger Buns

Combine ground beef with catsup and spread on hamburger buns. Place these open-face sandwiches under the broiler for 10 to 12 minutes.

Homemaker Must Be Fire Chief

Since the lady of the house is usually the one who's around when a fire breaks out, she is the one who must think and act quickly, says O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois safety specialist.

The homemaker is therefore the logical home fire chief. She should check on others in the family to see that they don't start home fires through carelessness, and she must be especially careful in doing her own daily tasks.

Electric irons along start 40 fires each day in American homes; igniting hot grease and cook stove fires account for many more.

AS HOME FIRE chief, have one of your menfolk check the electrical connections and outlets regularly to prevent sparks and short circuits.

Also see that all dry cleaning is done out of doors; fires caused by home dry cleaning kill more than 800 people every year. Keep a good fire extinguisher handy, and know how to use it. Some day that information may save your life. But the greatest fire preventer is fire alertness and consciousness.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

He'd Rather Be a Hobo

Dear Peg:

There surely must have been some hoboes in the family, somewhere—that seems to be the only explanation—since there is no longer any doubt that our own Patrick is a hobo!

I used to think that the fact that he'd rather go riding in the car than do anything else, was just a normal little childhood pleasure and when he would all but grab the steering wheel to prevent me from turning down our street, when coming home, I simply decided that riding was just a little more pleasurable to him than to other children. I guess I just couldn't face the fact. However, after observing how he absolutely thrived on the five hour trip to Indianapolis and again on our return home, we are forced to admit that Patrick would rather travel than do anything else!

I'm so familiar with the route to Indianapolis and the super highway is so easy to travel that I thoroughly enjoy making the trip. As we had planned, I was driving to Indianapolis to get Megan and Bridget who had taken the train down with "Nana" several days before. It seems to take us almost as long to go from our home to the Indiana state line as it does to drive from the state line to Indianapolis, even though we use alternate 30 and 6 (both expressways) to skirt Chicago, Hammond etc. And not until we hit 41 and head south, do we feel we're really on our way.

Patrick had so much to talk about. We discussed every train, track, truck, tractor and trailer that we saw and, of course, napping was the farthest thing from his mind. We had made a floor of the entire back section of the station wagon and covered it with pillows, blankets, crackers, cookies, toys and books. Joseph was just as contented as Patrick—he could crawl around, standup behind the front seat or lie down and drink his bottle whenever he felt like it.

Kentland is our usual stopping place—it seems to be about half way in time. Patrick amused me so on the trip—and especially when we stopped at the Kentland Cafe. The trip—the stop at a restaurant—it was all so new to him and he tried to measure up to it by acting so much older than his two and a half years. As we stepped out of the car in front of the restaurant he said, "Come on, Mom, let's eat!" And as I tried to open the door for him with one hand while holding Joseph with the other, he warned, "Don't drop Joe, Mom." (The "Mom" business was completely new—as was the brotherly concern).

It's a wonderful feeling to find people so helpful when you need them. It would have been most difficult to try to hold Joseph while taking Patrick to the rest room and our very friendly waitress realized this and insisted on holding Joseph for me. Then she took his bottle and replenished it with fresh warm milk. After returning to the car (and changing Joseph) we were on our way again.

Out of the five hour trip, I think Patrick slept about 40 minutes and not once was he restless. In fact when we reached Indianapolis, the first and most important thing he proudly had to say to "Nana" was, "I rode in the car on a long trip!" As I said before—he's a hobo!

My love,
Patty

Catch-All Closet Can Become Center of Cleaning Activities

There's always one closet in every house that's the catch-all for everything from worn-out rubbers to mops and pails.

When this forgotten corner of chaos becomes the center of activity around cleaning time, there probably isn't a homemaker who doesn't vow a dress rehearsal in her cleaning closet!

YOU'RE OFF to the best start in cleaning, says Servicemaster, the national home furnishings care organization, when necessary equipment is all at hand and well arranged.

What should the well organized cleaning closet contain? Servicemaster advises the following basic equipment:

1. A variety of clean rags for wiping, washing, and drying, from chamois, to scraps of old bathtowels and sheets.
2. A supply of soap and detergents for washing pictures, dishes, ledges, and so on.
3. Polishes and waxes for floors and for furniture.
4. Pails - the new polyethylene ones are in gay colors.
5. A "first aid" kit which contains solutions for freshening carpets and upholstered pieces as well as a variety of spot removers.
6. Mops and brushes, including a carpet brush, for freshening area rugs.

Walls of peg-board in the closet will probably prove most efficient for multiple needs. The versatility of peg-board allows placement of shelves for easiest access to bottles and cartons, and still gives needed wall area for hanging such items as pails, brushes, and mops.

A tote basket should be kept on one shelf. When you're ready to start work in the morning, pack the supplies you plan to use so you can carry everything in one trip.

SINCE THE cleaning closet will probably also have to be used for storage of articles like Christmas tree ornaments and extras like toilet tissues, and soaps - it's well to provide corner shelves for these articles.

Cast-offs "you just can't throw away," can be stored in boxes, and you'll add to the gaiety of your closet if you encourage the youngsters in your house to use their water colors in decorating them.

Try to keep things off the floor. Hanging mops and brooms not only adds months to their life, but gives the closet an open, well organized look.

This year - before you start cleaning for the house- get your own spruce-up headquarters in order. You'll be pleased at how much more easily things get

The Romans were probably the first to pass a law regarding weight of bread. Bakers were required to bake their names into each loaf and severe punishments were imposed for adulteration of ingredients or mistakes in weight. (S

Lessons in English

OFTEN MISUSED

The words restless and restive are not altogether synonymous. "Restive" is most commonly applied to a horse, and means balky. As applied to persons, it means fretting under restraint; as, "a restive audience." "Restless" means unrestful, or disinclined to rest; fidgety.

Do not say, "I hoped to have gone yesterday." Say, "I hoped to go yesterday."

Do not say, "My work is most done." Say, "is almost finished."

Avoid the expressions, "Please write me soon," and, "I'll write you next week." It is much better to say, "Please write to me," and, "I'll write to you."

Do not say, "We plan on spending some of the money for improvements." Say, "We plan to spend some of the money."

Do not say, "Whomever you choose should be trustworthy." Say, "Whoever you choose should be trustworthy."

People always get along well with each other when they are in the same fix.

One of the hardest things for a parent to understand is why a child gets such a big kick out of getting up with the birds.

Annual Banquet Honors North Cook 4-H Leaders

GATHERED AROUND the banquet table at the fifth annual recognition banquet for 4-H leaders are Mrs. G. C. Davis, president of home economists, Miss Marilyn Nickel, guest speaker, Mrs. Frank Fabian, home economics leader, and Mr. Dyoll Babbitt, 4-H agriculture leader. Standing are Mr. Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm advisor, Mr. James Fizzell, assistant farm advisor, Mr. Ivan O. Reid, chairman of the 4-H leader banquet, and Mr. Henry Eicholz, president of the 4-H fair board and farm board. (Fm

North Cook County 4-H club leaders were recognized last Wednesday at the fifth annual banquet of the North Cook County Fair association.

It was held, as in previous years, at Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, and attended by 160 persons. Included were the wives and husbands of those who are in charge of the agricultural and home economics programs during the year.

SPECIAL GUESTS included those who were of material assistance to the 4-H club's fair last September. Introduction of the leaders was given by Mrs. Claradhol Upham for the home economic clubs and James Fizell for the agricultural leaders.

Responses were given by Mrs. A. M. Fabian and Dyoll Babbitt. William F. Whiteside, assistant farm adviser of the south side was master of ceremonies.

The veteran agricultural club leaders are Arthur Busse, of Elk Grove club, who has served 22 years, and Harold Bergman of the Palatine club, who has 18 years to his credit.

The veterans of the home economic clubs are Mrs. A. E. Schaefer of Barrington Bluebirds 16 years; Mrs. Duane Kingsley, Country Cousins, 10 years; Mrs. Frank Kronn, Blue Bonnets, 9 years; Mrs. Milton E. Parker, Barrington 4-H girls, 8 years. Mrs. Upham has devoted 12 years to the executive phase of the work.

A GROUP OF 12 sophomores from the Prospect high school, known as the Mello Tones, delighted the audience with a group of songs.

A feature of the evening was provided by Miss Marilyn Nickel, daughter of Roy Nickel of Hanover township. She talked and showed views taken by her in Austria where she spent approximately six months as a member of the International Farm Youth Exchange.

Miss Nickel is a teacher in the Elmhurst Junior high school. During her 4-H club work she was in home economics nine years and agricultural seven years.

CARL F. MEES
with Your Farm Adviser

The annual meeting of the North Cook Soil Conservation district will be held Friday, January 23 at the Lutheran school in Schaumburg beginning at 7:30 p.m. Miss Marilyn Nickel, who recently returned from a five month stay in Austria will present the program. She will discuss farm life in Austria and illustrate the discussion with colored slides she took while there. The regular business meeting for the district will be held. It will include the election of directors. Directors whose terms expire are Edmond Rohlwing and Paul Sweningson. A director will also be elected to fill the vacancy left by Carl Dalum who moved out of the county.

After the meeting, light refreshments will be served. The admission of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children of grade school age is used to help defray expenses. The public is invited to attend. Tickets may be purchased from the directors of the Soil Conservation District or at the Farm Bureau office in Arlington Heights, Ill.

EARLY SIGNS indicate that European corn borers in 1959 will be more numerous than in 1958 reported H. B. Petty, extension entomologist with the University of Illinois and the Illinois Natural History Survey. The greatest increase in population is predicted for west central and the northwestern section of the state. We have not had a serious infectation in field corn in Cook county for a number of years. However, sweet corn growers always follow strict spray program so that they can offer consumers a high quality sweet corn product.

H. C. Barrett, University of Illinois horticulturalist reports the following new grape varieties that home gardeners may want to try: Buffalo, Beaver, Kendaia, Athens and Steuben. Buffalo is rated the most useful American-type general purpose grape yet tested at Urbana. Should you be interested in trying some of these new varieties, your local nurseryman probably will be able to get them for you. (Fm

Despite Holiday Sag, Hog Market to Have Stability

by L. H. SIMERL

The hog market sagged at the year's end. Hog prices dipped to about a $16.50 average at terminal markets, which was down about $2 from a week before and also $2 lower than the year before.

This price difference is not excessive, considering that summer farrowings (June-July-August) were 18 per cent larger than the year before and farmers in nine corn-belt states had 22 per cent more hogs three to six months old on December 1 than they had last year.

Marketings may have been bunched around the year-end. There were widespread reports that market supplies would increase sharply after the first of the year and that prices would drop accordingly. Perhpas some farmers were aiming to "beat the break."

THE CHRISTMAS—New Year holidays often mix up the market and make it difficult to draw conclusions from market receipts and price trends. These holidays came on Wednesday in 1957 and on Thursday in 1958.

Market receipts in prospect for the first 90 days of this year are larger than last year, but not so large as during the last 90 days of 1958. The following figures will illustrate this point:

On December 1 farmers in nine corn-belt states had on hand 13.8 million hogs between three and six months of age. That was 22 per cent more than a year before but 38 per cent less than last September 1.

HOG PRICES averaged $20.20 at terminal markets during the first three months of 1958 and $18.40 during the last three months. Prices for the next three months seem likely to be around the lower of these figures.

Season-to-season market supplies of hogs in prospect for 1959 are more nearly equal than those of any previous year since World War II. The indicated 1959 spring pig crop is only 39 per cent larger than the preceding fall pig crop. By contrast, the 1958 spring crop was 45 per cent larger than the preceding fall crop, and that memorable 1955 spring crop was 51 per cent larger than the previous fall crop. The better balance between fall and spring pig crops this year will tend to stabilize prices.

Prices will probably not rise so much as usual in the first half of the year and may not decline so much as usual in the last half. The situation seems to call for selling hogs when they reach the most desirable weight rather than attempting to jump, or hold, for a high market.

Price differentials for weight vary from day to day and from market to market. Recently most markets were paying top prices for 200- to 220-pound weights, but Chicago and St. Louis were paying a few cents more for 180- to 200-pound hogs. Price discounts were small up to 240 pounds.

Winter Is an Ideal Time For Planning Home Grounds

by JAMES FIZZELL

Winter is a good time to plan for an attractive home grounds. There is little that can be done outdoors during this season, and there is sufficient time to plan carefully before the planting season comes around.

In planning a home grounds, the two primary aims to keep in mind are utility and attractiveness. Utility is the convenient layout of drives, walks and other parts of the landscape that affect the uses which the home grounds perform. Attractiveness involves the orderly arrangement of the parts into a harmonious unit. Most homeowners consider these aims when planning their landscaping; however, a systematic course of action is not always followed. The first step in developing the home grounds is a plan. A well thought out plan not only assures continuity of design, but can save a considerable sum which would be spent in trial and error planting. It is far easier to move a plant on paper than it is to move one which has been growing in the yard.

PROPER selection and placement of plants can eliminate a good deal of work in maintaining a planting once it is established. As an example, a shrub border gives the same privacy as a closely pruned hedge, but requires far less work. Shrub borders also provide more color and interest than a trimmed hedge. Careful planning also facilitates the developing of the home plantings, one area at a time over several years rather than necessitating planting of the entire grounds in one season and at the same time keeps the grounds useful and attractive.

Before arriving at a plan, read any literature available on landscaping. Magazines and books as well as newspaper articles and circulars are excellent sources of information.

MAKE A SCALE drawing of the home and grounds as they now are. Show exact locations of each object. Divide the grounds into areas of use; service, public and private.

The public area, lying between the street and the house, might consist of a large open lawn, a foundation planting to make the house blend with the surrounding landscape, and a few trees to provide framing and shade for the front of the house.

The lawn area provides an open vista to the house, which is the primary center of interest in the entire plan.

THE SERVICE AREA, comprising the garage, drive, incinerator, clothes-drying area, and walk to the kitchen, is used for carrying out the various duties involved in keeping a home. Since the kitchen is always the starting point for these activities, all parts of the service area should be readily accessible from the kitchen door. Usually the most appropriate location for this area is at one side of the house.

The private area, set aside for the personal enjoyment of the family, may be called the outdoor living room. It may include a terrace, the flower and vegetable gardens, children's play area, and a large open lawn.

Trees and shrubs are used to separate the private area from the other areas and from neighboring properties. They will serve as a screen in addition to providing shade and color for the family's enjoyment.

WITH THE locations of all plantings in mind select proper plants to fit the various locations. This problem is not easily solved. Use of the afore-mentioned literature should enable selection of plants that will provide interesting texture effects, succession of bloom, winter interest and provide the desired screening and shade.

A list of landscape bulletins, available from the Farm Adviser's office will be sent upon request. (Fm

Rise in Corn Price Not Likely: Expert

Illinois farmers should not expect corn prices to rise enough over December prices to pay for further storage costs, according to L. F. Stice, grain marketing economist at the University of Illinois.

Stice points out that the situation causing favorable returns from storing the 1957 corn crop is different from the one this year. A year ago heavy marketings and poor-quality corn depressed prices from harvest through the winter. Then corn prices advanced about 25 cents from winter to summer.

However, Stice believes corn prices will not advance 25 cents a bushel from now to next summer, as they did a year ago. The seasonal rise may actually be less than the normal 12 cents a bushel.

RECENT CORN prices have gained much support from light marketings. Since late November, corn receipts at the 13 largest markets have laggged 15 to 50 per cent under those of a year ago. Last year corn marketings did not reach their peak until December; this year they have been more nearly normal, with peak sales in late October and early November.

As a result, December corn prices were about the same in both 1957 and 1958, even though 1958 corn and other feed grain crops were much larger.

Government sales of corn also have a major effect on the corn price outlook, the economist points out. Last year corn prices were strengthened by relatively light CCC sales and payment-in-kind program, which began May 12.

UNDER THIS program, export subsidies on corn were paid in grain rather than cash. And, of even greater importance, CCC stopped direct sales of its corn to exporters. As a result, corn prices were given a boost as corn exports started coming from free market supplies rather than government stocks.

Corn prices will gain support from increases in hog and poultry production and high-level cattle feeding this season. However, according to the USDA, most of the increased feed grain use will be in oats, barley and grain sorghums rather than corn.

The only hope for any great improvement in corn prices hinges on farmers' putting large amounts of corn under the $1.06 loan program. Not enough farmers' are eligible for the $1.36 support program to tighten market supplies. The 1958 crop is over 400 million bushels larger than the expected disappearance, and CCC will also be selling corn. However, at December market prices, farmers are ahead to sell corn rather than put it under the $1.06 loan. (Fm

Peg Source Of Ripe Rot Infection

Ripe rot or anthracnose in tomatoes overwinters principally in tomato skins and vines left on home gardens and commercial fields, according to M. B. Linn, University of Illinois plant pathologist.

Reporting on the development and control of anthracnose at the annual Illinois Canners School this week, Linn says it will not help to clean their plots last fall plan spray treaments to control ripe rot next year.

Ripe rot first appears in the early summer as small spots on tomato leaves. The spores then spread to the young fruit, but no symptoms appear until the red-ripe stage. Then the fungus spreads rapidly, causing a typical saucer-shaped dark spot on the tomato skin. Within a few days the infected spots produce spores for new infections.

THE DISEASE can be controlled by proper use of fungicides. Linn recommends maneb, zineb, captan or ziram in five or six applications, starting about two weeks after flowering and spraying every ten days thereafter. Both foliage and fruit must be completely covered with the spray.

Circular 683, "Tomato Diseases and Insect Pests," describes anthracnose and other tomato diseases and control measures. It is available upon request from the Farm Advisor's office at 201 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Crops Protected From Insecticide

Contrary to many opinions, American food products are not being contaminated by poisonous insecticides applied to growing crops.

George C. Decker, head entomologist with the Illinois Natural History Survey and Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, said today that these opinions exist because insecticides are applied to practically every crop that is raised today.

But these insecticide residues are not so persistent as some people believe. And all recommendations for using insecticides prescribe minimum intervals between the last treatment and harvest. These intervals will assure residue levels well below the safe level.

DECKER WAS speaking before the Illinois Canners school, which met at Urbana. He explained that it's the job of the Federal Food and Drug administration to protect the wholesomeness and safety of our food supply. Through rigid regulations, this organization demands (1) that food be protected from diseases and insects and (2) that these pests and diseases be controlled without harmful residues of chemicals getting into food supplies.

It is true that traces of pesticidal chemicals appear in practically all foods. But the Federal Food and Drug Administration has established several thousand tolerance levels for pesticidal chemicals involving over a hundred chemicals. And the small amounts of chemicals do not in any way present a hazard to the consumer.

DECKER also pointed out to canners that tolerances for pesticides on raw agricultural commodities apply to animal feeds as well as to food for man.

Thus canners must consider the possibility of pesticide residues on plant by-products that may find their way into animal feeds.

Cite Greater Use of Soil Insecticide

The number of acres treated with soil insecticides in Illinois increased from 650,000 in 1957 to 800,000 in 1958.

This increase, says J. H. Bigger, Illinois Natural History Survey entomologist, indicates that farmers are becoming more aware of the value of applying soil insecticides.

Bigger will give more information about soil insecticides when he summarizes his 1958 research program at the 1959 Illinois Custom Spray Operators' Training School. He will also summarize his five-year study on use of soil insecticides in Illinois.

THIS ANNUAL event will be held in the Illini Union on the University of Illinois campus. Dates are January 28 and 29.

H. B. Petty, extension entomologist in charge of the school, says that anyone who is interested in the agricultural chemical industry is invited to attend. For more information or for a copy of the program, write to Petty at 280 Natural Resources Building, University of Illinois, Urbana. (Fm

by W. L. GORDON

OFTEN MISUSED

Avoid the expression, "It's an actual fact." Since all facts are actual, "It's a fact" is all that is necessary to say.

Do not say, "This is all the farther I can go." Say, "This is as far as I can go."

Do not say, "There isn't but one book on the shelf." Say, "There is but one book," or, "There is only one book."

Do not say, "The man, with his three brothers," were there." Say, "was there." "Man" is the singular subject.

Do not say, "We cannot express an opinion as to the utility of this invention." Say, "About the utility of this invention."

Do not say, "We found it was of no use to argue." Omit "of."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Italian. Pronounce first "I" as in "it." and not as in "ice."

Foregoing. Accent second syllable, not the first.

Chicanery (trickery). Pronounce shi-kain-er-i, accent on second syllable.

Gerund. Pronounce jehr-und, accent on first syllable; and not jee-rund.

Aviator. Pronounce both "a's" as in "ate."

Zodiacal. Pronounce zoh-die-a-kal, accent on second syllable, not the first.

OFTEN MISSPELLED

Lesser (smaller); lessor (one who leases). Antihistamine (agent used in prevention or treatment of allergic reactions).

Innocuous (harmless), two "n's;" inoculate (to infuse), only one "n." Description, "des;" discretion, "dis." Apostle (an evangelist); apostil (a marginal note). Mimicking, observe the "k;" mimicry, no "k."

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Circumspection; cautious and careful observation with a view to wise conduct; prudence. "True courage should always be mixed with circumspection."

Modulate; to vary in tone, inflection, pitch, or other quality of sound. "One of the charms of good speaking is the ability to modulate the voice."

Refutation; disproof. "This statement is a refutation of her previous testimony."

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot adequately express our gratitude to the many friends, neighbors and relatives who expressed their sympathy and helpfulness to us so beautifully at the time of our recent sorrow. The floral pieces, cards, memorials and other expressions of sympathy will always be a precious memory. For the beautiful service and consoling words by Rev. R. O. Bartz we are deeply grateful.

Seek to End Four Party Phone Lines

Illinois Bell filed a tariff January 9 asking the Illinois commerce commission to allow it to discontinue offering four-party residence phone service to new customers or to present customers who move to new locations. The effective date would be February 9, 1959.

After that date, only one and two-party urban residence service would be offered in those cases in all of the company's Illinois exchanges. Currently there are 46 towns and cities which do not now have four-party service. In five other communities where it is offered, no customers subscribe to it. Rural party line service will continue to be offered in rural areas.

Over a 17-month period, Illinois Bell plans to offer remaining four-party customers one and two-party service, with the objective of eliminating all four-party service by July 1, 1960.

ILLINOIS BELL pointed out in filing that an increasing proportion of customers consider four-party service to be less satisfactory than one and two-party service. There has been a rapid decline in the number of Illinois Bell customers desiring this service.

About 95 per cent of all new Illinois residence customers in the company's exchanges outside Chicago are ordering one and two-party service. (There is no four-party service in Chicago.)

To provide one and two-party service for all urban customers will require substantial additions of telephone cable and central office equipment as well as replacement or modification of many thousands of telephones. Illinois Bell engineers estimate that the added cost of this service improvement project will total about $3,700,000 during the change-over period.

WHEN A four-party customer changes to one or two-party service there is no charge made for the work involved, a telephone company manager said. The customer merely pays the regular monthly rate for the service he selects. In addition, the filing provides that no installation charge would be made for any new extension telephones installed at the time the change from four-party service is made.

In the six years since 1952, the number of four-party customers declined by more than 62,000. During the same period the number of all residence customers outside Chicago increased more than 275,000. Currently, about 1,500 customers a month are replacing their four-party with one or two-party service.

"Today's customers are showing such strong preference for the better grades of service because they want the greater privacy and availability these services provide. From discussions with four-party customers we know that some of the disadvantages resulting from four families using one line are: lessened privacy of telephone conversations; inconvenience and irritation at having to wait to use the line for an outgoing call; delays in receiving incoming calls because another party is using the line; greater chance of service interruptions due principally to receiver-off-the-hook conditions, which throw all the telephones on the line out of service temporarily," the manager said.

"FOUR-PARTY lines helped us provide service to many people a decade ago during the post-war period of acute shortages of cables and other telephone equipment," Lloyd said. "But in the face of modern day needs, four-party service for urban customers is joining the crank-type telephone, the Model T and other outmoded products and services.

"When four-party service has passed from the scene," he said, "more calls will go through faster because fewer people will be using the same line. As a result, it will mean better service for all telephone users," he said.

Choose Your Local Family Physician

PAUL C. JOHNSON

Around half the families living in northwest suburbs have put off choosing a family doctor "until he is needed."

That's a rough estimate, but it represents a serious situation which exists in most metropolitan communities. Lots of people have lived in their community for less than a year. Americans are the "movingest" people in the world, so its easy to take a chance and put medical care on an emergency basis.

Northwest communities have had serious deficit of doctors because of the shortage of hospital beds in this area. Doctors like to have their offices somewhere near the hospital where they take their patients for surgery and other serious ills. Now that the hospital bed shortage is being corrected, more good doctors and specialists are moving into the neighborhood. This trend will speed up as the new hospital facilities near readiness.

IF YOU DON'T have a family doctor, now is the time to get busy and select one. The American Medical Association has some good advice on how to go about it.

If an emergency arises before a family physician can be selected you can get help from your telephone operator who will probably refer you to the nearest physicians' exchange. But don't wait for that emergency.

Most people ask their neighbors, or make inquiries at their church, or call a local druggist or hospital for advice. This is perfectly all right, according to AMA. They also suggest that you go to the library and ask for a copy of the American Medical directory which is full of background information on the age, date of licensing, type of practice and membership in reputable organizations. In the Chicago area, it is easy to telephone the American Medical association offices downtown.

The important thing is to select a physician of proper training and good reputation. As with any other profession there are a few bad apples, but these do not often get the recommendation of medical authorities.

AMA SUGGESTS that you visit the doctor in his office even before you need him and tell him about yourself and your family. Ask him about his hospital affiliation. No harm in asking him about his fees, or about the costs at the hospital where he takes his patients. If he is a general practitioner, he will tell you about house calls, about the specialist he works with when the need arises.

For your own good - and the health of your family - why wait until illness strikes to choose a doctor? Select him now so he can have advance knowledge of your family's medical problems and give you the kind of protective care you expect from both a good doctor and a family friend. (B8

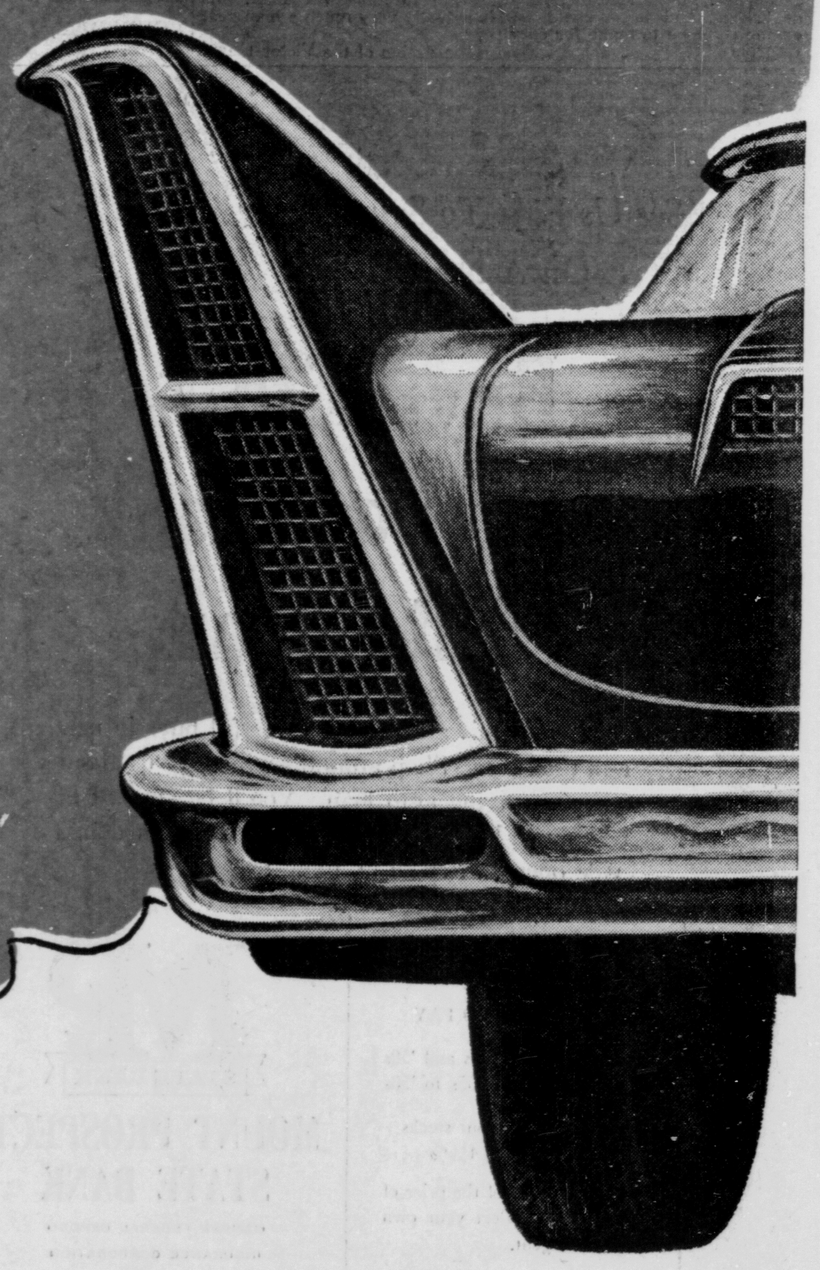
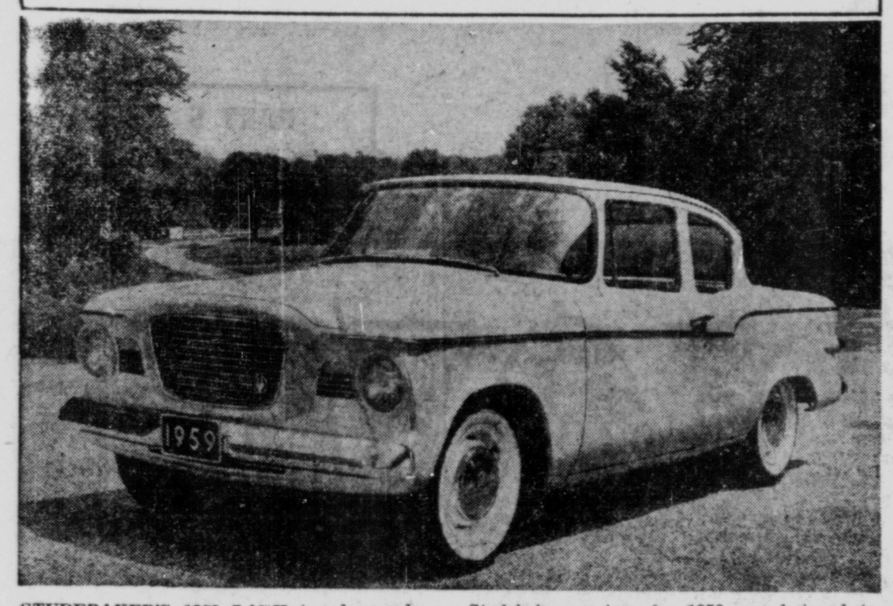
AUTO SHOW

You've waited for them, you've wondered about them, you've looked forward to them . . . now here they are! The thrilling new cars of 1959 invite your inspection at the Auto Show. Come, draw back the curtain on the future and see the NEW ideas that will make automotive history during the year ahead. In their dramatic new styling, in their improved engineering, in their many new features, the 1959 models will reward all your wishful thinking on how a car should look, handle and perform to contribute MOST to your motoring pleasure. See for yourself . . . NOW!



Studebaker's Lark Makes Debut



STUDEBAKER'S 1959 LARK two-door sedan is powered by a 169.6-cubic inch engine with an improved combustion chamber design with a shorter stroke, plus a higher 8.3 to 1 compression ratio and new carburetion. The result: maximum economy of operation and durability, combined with smooth, lively performance. All Studebaker engines for 1959 are designed to operate efficiently on regular gasoline. A redesigned ladder-type frame provides greater torsional and beam strength. This, coupled with stronger body construction, means greater structural rigidity. The new Lark thus rides more quietly—free from annoying squeaks and rattles.

How American Women Exert Influence on Auto Styles

The growing demand for dynamic but tasteful automotive styling that expresses dignity and quiet good looks—resulting from the preferences of American women for clean lines and formalized design in their clothing and home furnishings—is reflected in at least one line of cars in 1959.

Typifying this feminine preference for formal design are the straight lines of their apparel, the crisp styling of their new kitchen appliances, and even the simple architectural design of their homes.

THE FEMININE influence that is acknowledged by most industrial designers is apparent today in the trend toward straighter, crisper automotive styling, greater ease of operation and greater use of subdued exterior colors.

Along with such engineering advances as the automatic transmission, a lower steering wheel position and power steering, that have made the American car easier for women to drive, auto manufacturers pay particular attention to feminine styling tastes.

Styling of the 1959 Ford is based on a dignified approach to automobile design, one in which good taste is reflected in the contoured metal, the pleasing colors, tastefully-used exterior frim and choice interiors. Ford stylists avoided extreme design curvatures and gaudy trim features.

FOR ITS "exceptionally good proportions and elegant lines," the 1959 Ford has been awarded the gold medal of the Comite Francais de l'Elegance, recognized as one of the world's leading fashion authorities. The award was made at the Brussels World's Fair.

The 1959 Ford line includes 17 models in four series. The Fairlane 500 series consists of the popular retractable hardtop, called the Skyliner, the Sunliner convertible, two pillarless hardtops and two thin-pillar sedans. The Fairlane and Custom 300 series offer two- and four-door models. The six station wagon models include two- and four-door models, for six or nine passengers.

Side trim has been used sparingly on the 1959 Ford to achieve elegance without flamboyance. Distinctive Thunderbird ornaments appear on the front fenders of the Skyliner and Sunliner. Fairlane 500 models have a bright metal "V" extending between the back-up lights at the tip of each rear fender.

Recognizing that women's influence is most apparent in the field of car interiors, Ford stylists have utilized smart, durable and, above all, liveable fabrics.

FORD'S LUXURY-Lounge interiors are distinctive for their high quality materials, fine tailoring and luxurious appearance. The use of a new, easy-to-clean, high-durability vinyl in most models gives the interiors a brighter, more spacious effect.

Station wagons introduce a durable, composition board headlining, printed in a basket weave design, which can be cleaned easily.

Ford interior stylists have used nylon for all cloth seat upholstery material. All carpets are of 100 per cent rayon, looped pile, including that used in the Sunliner.

Ford exterior paint colors for 1959 have a softer tone than in previous years. Ford cars will be available in Raven Black, Gunsmoke Gray, Colonial White, Surf Blue, Wedgewood Blue, Sherwood Green, April Green, Torch Red, Tahitian Bronze, Fawn Tan, Inca Gold, Geranium and Indian Turquoise. Other Ford color treatments include 18 Styletone and 18 conventional two-tone combinations. (SS

New Buicks Offer Economy, Power, Luxury in Models

Economy, power, or luxury — take your pick. They're all available in Buick's 1959 models.

The thrifty LeSabre four-door hardtop features a unique overhanging roof and Vista-Panoramic windshield. In the four-door sedan and two-door hardtop models are incorporated such engineering advancements as the new Equipoise chassis with its more rigid "K" frame, deep-cushioning coil springs, and aluminum front brake drums.

THE LeSABRE convertible is available in four colors and powered, as are the other LeSabre models, by Buick's new Wildcat engine. A two-door sedan and estate wagon are also offered in the LeSabre series, the most economical of Buick models.

The estate wagon features a second seat that may be folded flush with the floor, adding over 10 feet to the wagon's carrying space. Upholstery in the wagon comes in five different color schemes.

The Invicta series features a Wildcat 445 engine and a Twin Turbine transmission as standard equipment. The most powerful engine in Buick's history, the Wildcat 445 gives 325 hp.

The Twin Turbine, with its variable-pitch stator blade ensures a smooth flow of power.

THE INVICTA comes in a two and four-door hardtop, four-door sedan, convertible, and estate wagon model.

The Buick Electra models emphasize a luxurious interior, simplicity of design, and engineering excellence. Power steering, power brakes, and the Wildcat 445 engine combine to make for easy control.

The Electra comes in the 225 four-door hardtop, the 225 four-door Rivera sedan, the 225 convertible, the two and four-door sedans, and the two-door hardtop.

All models feature the Equipoise chassis with such features as the new high-economy rear axle, stabilizer bar, and ball-joint front suspension.

OPTIONS developed from advanced engineering techniques are a power seat, whose incline is controlled by the touch of the electric control, a positive-traction differential to prevent slipping wheels, and heating and air conditioning units.

Other accessories for all models are a new transistor portable radio, and electric rear window for the estate wagon model, and an electric antenna whose height may be controlled from the instrument panel.

A safety buzzer, standard on the Electra and optional on other models, may be set to warn when the driver exceeds a pre-set speed.

Pep, Economy Are Vauxhall Features

Vivacious performance and remarkable economy is the best way to describe Vauxhall Victor, one of the finest of the low price, economy imports now in the U.S.

The engine is modern with big bore and short stroke for effortless high road speeds. There are large valves and separate posts.

Advanced designed carburettors, specially insulated from engine heat and fitted with part throttle economy value and other petrol saving features mean extra miles per gallon.

IN A MATTER of seconds, the Victor can move from a standstill to 70 miles per hour, and is actually very much a high gear car.

The design of the Victor means easy driving. Weight is kept low to the ground, and there is a new flat-ride suspension system. Therefore, the car shows a reluctance to roll on corners or pitch when braking hard.

The inside is really spacious for four grown passengers with generous head room, legroom, shoulder room and hiproom.

Doors are wide and sensibly shaped to make entry and exit very easy, while the front seat is instantly adjustable on ball bearing slides.

There is full round vision in both the Victor and the Victor super.

Fuel Economy Is New Ford Feature

The 1959 Ford achieves greater fuel economy—saving up to one dollar per tank full of gasoline—with carburetion, compression ratios and spark advance curve tailored to regular grade gasoline, which is recommended for all standard Ford engines.

Ford has made a slight reduction in horsepower to offer the highest engine performance and operating efficiency in the normal driving range of 3 to 70 m.p.h. that ever has been built into any Ford car. Compression ratios have been tailored to obtain the maximum fuel ecoonomy consistent with Ford's traditionally high performance characteristics and present octane ratings.

FOR TOP ECONOMY, Ford offers the "Mileage Maker Six" engine which will take the 1959 Ford owner more than 400 miles on a 20-gallon tank full of gasoline. Ford engines, with full-flow oil filters as standard equipment, are designed to go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

The new, aluminized muffler, standard on all 1959 Fords, is built to last twice as long as conventional types.

Another economy feature is the new Diamond Lustre finish, a super-enamel that requires no waxing during the lifetime of the car. This bright, durable paint is 50 per cent more chip-resistant than Ford's famous enamels of the past.

Further Ford economy is represented in the transmission selection. The new two-speed Fordomatic, redesigned to have two forward gear ratios and one reverse, has 27 per cent fewer parts than the former Fordomatic. Elimination of 105 parts and the use of aluminum for such items as the transmission case and bell housing have enabled Ford to reduce the transmission weight by 50 pounds, or 22.8 per cent.

The 1959 Fordomatic operates by means of a hydraulic torque converter combined with an automatic planetary gear train. This transmission has gear ratios of 1.75:1 in low, 1.00:1 in drive, and 1.50:1 in reverse. For down-hill braking or slowing, the transmission may be down-shifted manually at any speed up to about 65 m.p.h. by placing the selector lever in "low."

CRUISE-O-MATIC, Ford's high performance transmission that unites overdrive economy with the convenience of an automatic transmission, again is available in 1959 Ford cars.

The standard syncromesh three-speed manual transmission has been redesigned for easier shifting. Gear spacings and shift linkages have been modified, and fine pitch gear teeth are used for quieter operation. Overdrive also is available.

In V-8 engines, where Ford has had more than 25 years' experience in design and production, the 1959 line-up includes engines with displacements of 292, 332 and 352 cubic inches. All engines incorporate the most advanced design in combustion chambers, crankshaft, carburetors, manifolding and ignition systems. New super-fitted aluminum alloy pistons have longer skirts for better oil control.

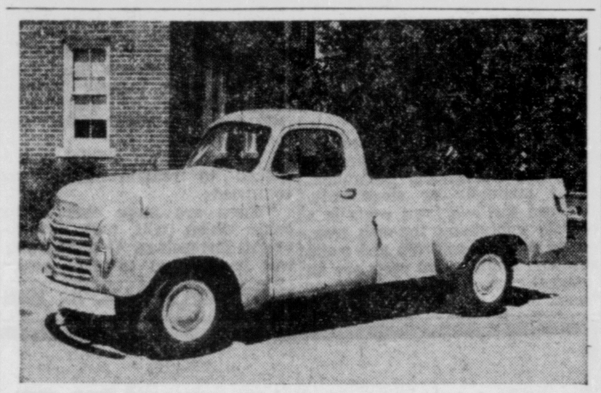
The two-venturi carburetor on the 292 and 332 cubic inch engines employs new jets and venturis for improved fuel economy. All ford engines use the highly efficient dry replaceable element in the air cleaner.

Ford cars incorporate the deep-offset hypoid rear axle, with its straddle-mounted drive pinion for extra durability and quietness. The deep off-set design permits a lower drive shaft position for lower "tunnel" height inside the passenger compartment.

AVAILABLE AS optional equipment in 1959, Ford offers a new Ford-designed Equa-Lock differential for positive traction when driving on ice, snow or in mud or loose gravel. This differential is locked except when slipping action is needed, such as when turning a corner. Slippage is provided whenever rear wheel torque exceeds a pre-set clutch torque of 315 to 385 pounds. The simplicity of the Ford design and limited number of additional parts assures longer trouble-free life of the unit.

Unlike many other limited or non-slip differentials, the Ford unit will function conventionally in the event the Equa-Lock feature fails. (SS

THIS 1959 FORD Country Sedan is one of six models in the Ford station wagon series. Ford station wagons are available in two- and four-door models, accommodating six or nine passengers. The new, longer Ford station wagons have a cargo space that is eight inches longer and 11 cubic feet greater than in 1958. The second seat has a locking device that prevents the seat from folding forward in a sudden stop, and the foam rubber cushions from the third seat can be removed and used as ground cushions.



THE NEW SCOTSMAN V-8 half-ton pickup truck being introduced by Studebaker-Packard corporation is shown above. It is powered by a 259 cubic inch engine which generates 180 horsepower at 4,500 revolutions per minute. The new Scotsman V-8 joins the six-cylinder model which was brought out last year by S-P. Three-speed transmission is standard with four-speed, overdrive and automatic transmissions being optional.

All-New, Smartly-Styled Chevrolet Sells Briskly

"All new all over again," is the motto General Motors tagged on Chevrolet, a well-worded summation of their low-priced line.

Chevrolet, said one area Chevy dealer, does not actually introduce any new gadgets or gimmicks in their 1959 line, but this is not necessary for a car to be called new. "When we call it new," he said, "we mean that the '59 model incorporates the latest tried-and-true features, those that have proved themselves, and have built them into a body style that is both beautiful and functional."

AS AN EXAMPLE of beauty and functional design, he said, Chevrolet has added up to 50 per cent more glass in some models, has increased the wheelbase of all models from 117½ inches in 1958 to 119 inches to give a smoother ride, and added more room and comfort to interiors. The '59's are wider, have more head room in some models, and greater entrance room in all models.

What about engine capacities? The horsepower race is over, is the opinion of this car dealer. "While we do have a slightly higher horsepower engine for '59 (315 hp vs 300 hp in 1958), we do not emphasize horsepower this year," he said. The dealer pointed out that, to lure the economy-minded driver, Chevrolet had reduced its 6-cylinder engine to 135 hp.

Chevrolet offers nine engines in the 1959 series. The 135 hp Hi-Thrift six, and eight V-8's ranging from 185 to 315 hp.

Five transmissions are available in the new Chevrolet: Turboglide, Powerglide, 4-speed Synchro-Mesh, overdrive, and 3-speed Synchro-Mesh.

MAGIC-MIRROR acrylic lacquer finish on all models, first introduced with the 1958 cars, stays lustrous and new looking up to three years with only an occasional washing, Detroit officials say. The tougher, more elastic primer resists chipping and cracking harmful to ordinary finishes, and forms a stronger bond with the finish.

A special underbody paint fights rust and corrosion, company spokesmen say.

According to a Chevrolet salesman in Arlington Heights, Chevy brakes are included in the "all new" slogan. Bonded lining area has been increased 27 per cent. The new air-cooled giant sized brakes are up to 66 per cent more durable, too, he said. The wider brake drums are cooled in an air stream to keep brake temperatures down and stopping force up.

AIR PLAYS a vital role in the softest ride ever offered in the General Motors sales leader. Level Air suspension, an extra-cost option, means extra durability, quietness and long life.

The conventional suspension system has been improved by extra-tough, yet surprisingly gentle, coils at all four wheels. This cushioning, plus Ball-Race steering (now with 21 per cent less effort), makes for greatly improved driving and handling qualities.

For the driver wanting the utmost in ease and comfort, Chevrolet has continued their power extras, 6-way seats, brakes, steering, windows, and an improved, efficient air-conditioning system.

Chicago-Made Cars

Chicago-manufactured automobiles were at their peak between 1898 and 1910 when 19 local carmakers flourished and exhibited their products at the shows of that period. The last car to be manufactured locally, and displayed at the Chicago show, was the Bradfield, introduced in 1929 and prevailing through 1930.

New Models Finest Yet

New models of U.S. passenger car makes to be displayed at the 51st annual Chicago Automobile show are the finest yet. Pre-production costs to automobile manufacturers, including design, engineering and styling changes, are estimated at $1,250,000,000—a cool billion and a quarter dollars!

New Silver Hawk Retains Sleek, Classic Styling

The popular Studebaker Silver Hawk sports-family five-passenger coupe retains its sleek, classic styling for 1959. There are new combination parking-directional lights, new rear fender styling and an all-new, more luxurious interior.

Mounted on a wheelbase of 120.5 inches, the Silver Hawks are available with either a brand new six-cylinder or V-8 power plant, and with either automatic, overdrive or conventional transmission.

BOTH NEW engines are designed to operate efficiently on "regular" gasoline. The new, short-stroke, 170.0 cubic inch, L-head six with an improved combustion chamber design, a higher compression ratio and new carburetion is designed for smooth, lively performance and maximum economy and durability.

A short-stroke, 259.2 cubic inch, V-8 engine with higher compression ratio and new carburetion also provides exceptional economy of operation and long life.

Improved variable-rate front coil springs and re-designed rear leaf springs contribute to new riding qualities.

Reclining front seats are available optionally on 1959 Silver Hawks. Each divided front seat back is adjustable to seven different positions — including a position flush with the rear seat cushion to form a "bed."

Both front seat backs on two-door models can be folded forward simultaneously to permit rear seat passengers to enter and exit with greater ease. Front seats are wider than the 1958 models.

SILVER HAWKS are upholstered in attractive, long-wearing nylon-rayon acetate fabric bolstered with top quality, hair-cell grain vinyl. All-vinyl seats are available optionally in Silver Hawk models.

Interiors are offered in one of four color schemes — blue, green, gray or tan—to harmonize with the seven new exterior colors — Hawaiian Green, Campfire Red, Alaskan Blue, Tahiti Coral, Silvertone Gray, Velvet Black, and White Sand. Optional all-vinyl interiors are offered in a red combination as well as the blue, green, gray and tan.

The exclusive Twin Traction "non-slip" differential is available optionally on all 1959 models, as are power brakes and air conditioning.

Show Most Enduring

The Chicago Automobile show has been presented more times than any other U.S. automotive exposition—51 since its inception in 1901. The upcoming renewal at the International Amphitheatre will be the seventh conducted by the Chicago Automobile Trade association, which assumed outright sponsorship in 1935. Only lapse in the show's continuity was from 1941 through 1949.

Display Famous Autos at Show

Famous cars, distinctive because association with famous personalities or memorable events gives them historic implications, will form a unique display at the Chicago Automobile show.

A score of these vehicles with extraordinary stories will be ranged side by side in the north wing of the central arena where last year's Golden Jubilee show featured antique cars.

Among the famous cars will be the late Henry Ford's original "999"; and the massive Sunshine Special, used by both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman; a 1914 Mercedes used by the late Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany.

Others include a 1903 Stanley Steamer that was the personal property of the manufacturer, the late F. O. Stanley; the Peugeot that won the 1916 Indianapolis 500-mile race; a 1931 Ruxton, one of the earliest sports cars featuring an experimental front wheel drive; and a 1936 Buick known as the "Car of Presidents" whose passengers, besides President Roosevelt, included such candidates as Thomas E. Dewey, Alf Landon and Wendell Willkie.

THE SUNSHINE Special is a 1939 Lincoln, weighing nearly five tons. It is armor-plated, equipped with bullet proof glass and compartments for machine guns, and was shipped overseas for use at the Yalta Conference.

The "999" was a speed record breaker at the turn of the century. Built personally by Mr. Ford, it was driven by the late Barney Oldfield, at the time a bicycle racer. But, his experience in the "999" caused Oldfield to turn to automobile racing exclusively.

The Kaiser's Mercedes is a luxurious town car type.

Most of the automobiles in the famous cars display are being shown in Chicago for the first time. Because of their historic associations, all are priceless museum pieces. The Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn, Michigan loaned several exhibits, including the "999" and the Sunshine Special, with other manufacturers and individuals contributing their properties to add color to the Chicago show.

'Sweptline' Pickup in Dodge Trucks

A completely new series of pick-up trucks with the largest payload capacity and the biggest brakes in the industry highlights the 1959 line of Dodge trucks.

Other outstanding features of the 'M" Series models include two new 318-cubic inch V-8 engines, increased gross vehicle weights for tandems, concealed step running boards, a new hydraulically-operated clutch, and an all-new instrument panel and instrumentation.

THE NEW trucks feature 6 and 8-cylinder engines with 11 different horsepower ratings ranging from 113 to 234. Maximum gross vehicle weights on the new models range from 5,100 to 49,000 pounds — an increase of 3,000 pounds for tandems — and gross combination weights up to 65,000 pounds.

The sleek, smooth-sided new pick-up truck — the Sweptline — is offered with a 120-horsepower 6-cylinder or a 205-horsepower V-8 engine. Available in half, three-quarter, and 1-ton models, the Sweptline series features body lengths from 6½ to 9 feet, capacities from 59.7 to 84 cubic feet, and payloads from 1,775 to 3,475 pounds.

German-Made Opel Proves New Favorite

Opel, one of Europe's famed "economy car" manufacturers, offers two models for 1959.

The Olympia Rekord, a two-door sedan, offers low-cost transportation with exceptional performance. The body is of unitized all-steel construction. The trunk compartment has over 12 cubic feet of luggage space.

The Opel Caravan has all the features of the Rekord plus a load-carrying capacity of 34 cubic feet with four to five passengers. With the rear seat folded 65 cubic feet are available to handle a half-ton cargo. Two-tone paint and a roof luggage-rack are standard equipment.

BOTH MODELS offer a four-cylinder engine with 56 hp. It's 90.8 cubic inch displacement gives a 7.5 to 1 compression.

The models have a 100.04 inch wheelbase and 63.6 inches wide. The Rekord stands 59 and the Caravan 63 inches high. Maximum speed of both models is 77.67 mph with three forward and one reverse gears.

Features common to both models are heater and defroster, panoramic windshield, adjustable front seat, automatic dome light, clock, red-line speedometer, combined signal lights, and positive shaft-driven windshield wipers. The Rekord also features a wrap-around rear window.

The German-made Opel is distributed and serviced in this country through Buick dealers.

Tollway Reforms Promised Shortly

The Illinois State Toll Highway commission this week announced measures that may staunch what has become a flow of criticism hurled against the toll road system by scores of confused and unhappy motorists.

Already in the works are changes in directional signs, signs against which many drivers railed in a recent poll conducted by Paddock Publications.

To overcome this major complaint, the commission is eliminating the series of four signs that drivers encounter at the approach to tollway connections points. Some of these changes have been made already, a commission spokesman said.

"PART OF THE confusion results in that drivers have no orientation. Along this unfamiliar, new route there are no recognizable landmarks. Then, too, the scenery along the toll roads, and the swift speed with which they approach their destinations, tends to take drivers' minds off their exit point and they overshoot their goals," the spokesman said.

The commission official, who wished to remain anonymous, continued:

"There are more changes to come which will help drivers orient themselves. Overpasses will be marked to show roads that appear on highway maps as soon as weather permits. Community destination signs, now lacking along most of the 187 miles of tollway, will be put up within 60 days.

This newspaper's survey of more than 100 hundred motorists, who had used the northwest section of the road, found that another major plaint was the cost of using the section between the two entrances, rts. 53 and 83, and the Dempster st. exit. The toll was 30 cents. This week, a reporter made the trip from the Congress st. expressway, Chicago, to Elgin via the tollway system. His toll: 30 cents also. This incongruity in rates perplexes and incenses some drivers.

THE TOLLWAY official explained that the toll roads run in specified directions, and that motorists must become accustomed to this. "Roads just don't go where people want them to," he said.

A series of questions and answers went something like this:

Q. "How financially successful have the toll roads been?"

A. "In May we started hiring personnel in order to train them in their duties when the roads opened. The first section opened in August, and the whole system was opened and linked along the 187-mile stretch December 23.

"Our finance people didn't anticipate any revenue until January 1, so as a consequence we are about a half-million dollars ahead at this time, with all expenses paid to date. But, based on a five-year projection, we're not keeping up with the first year's estimate of income."

"HAS COMMUTER traffic met expectations?"

A. "Not exactly. We do find that tankers, carrying milk, syrup, and inks, are using the northwest route. The east-west route is used quite a bit by livestock shippers, and trucks on the tri-state section (north-to-south) have been heavy. Passenger cars, however, are the largest number of toll road users."

Q. "What is the possibility of a reduced or commutation rate for people traveling from five to 11 miles?" (This is the distance between the Demptster st. ramp and the two suburban ramps at Rts. 83 and 53).

A. "We're studying the problem. There are a number of legal and accounting roadblocks to such a plan. I'd rather not say any more about this at this time."

(Another tollway spokesman said earlier that the last meeting of the commission discussed such a possibility).

Q. "DO YOU think the tollway might get more traffic if tolls were reduced?"

A. "It's not fair to compare the rates of some tollways with those of some others. Indiana has a closed system, while ours is a complex system. We have many more ramps. The cost of construction and land acquisition is much higher here, too. We have 63 interchanges, while Indiana has eight or 10. In systems that are built along the same idea as ours, the rates are comparable or higher."

Q. "Why did you start advertising, and has it paid off?"

A. "Our advertising was programmed last May, and should not be construed as an indication that things are not going well. We are going into an accelerated phase of advertising, as scheduled, in the spring, as a matter of fact."

A parody sponsored by the commission that goes "You take the high road and I'll take the toll road . . . " may well auger the end of The Toll Road Blues, a song a lot of motorists have been singing. (SS

Sleek New Thunderbird Retains Air of Elegance

The four-passenger Thunderbird, which launched a new concept in automotive styling when it was introduced ten months ago, retains in the 1959 model the tradition of formal elegance and compactness. Ford dealers from coast to coast are displaying the new Thunderbird this week.

With a new grille, other exterior styling innovations and a new suspension system, the distinguished 1959 Thunderbird promises the tasteful dignity of the luxury car and the fun-to-drive characteristics that made it the most wanted car in America in 1958, Ford division announced today.

THROUGHOUT THE 1958 model run, there was a backlog of orders for the four-passenger Thunderbird. Production of 1958 Thunderbirds topped 37,000 units, and Ford Division reports nearly 8,000 orders for the 1959 model.

The 1959 Ford, which has many Thunderbird styling characteristics, was honored recently at the Brussels, Belgium, World's Fair with the Gold Medal of the Comite Francais de l'Elegance, leading French fashion authority.

The new Thunderbird has a restyled grille with horizontal bars, succeeding the honeycomb grille of 1958. The horizontal theme is repeated in the taillight recessed area.

From the side, the points of the contoured projectile tips have been discreetly accented by a delicate bright metal spear, giving a deft touch of the forward motion to the Thunderbird profile.

Thunderbird models include the hardtop and the soft-top convertible principle that allows the top to fold into the trunk compartment, which eliminates the need for a well behind the rear seat and permits a full rear seat width.

THE 1959 THUNDERBIRD, as in 1958, is of single unit construction, with the entire body welded in 8,000 places for the greatest rigidity.

The 1959 Thunderbird suspension has been redesigned to give improved ride and more evenly balanced handling. Ford engineers also have improved the design of the front stabilizer bar for better handling.

The 1959 Thunderbird interiors are more luxurious than ever before, and introduce genuine leather as an optional upholstery covering. All materials have been chosen for elegance and durability to conform with the Thunderbird character. Standard interior fabrics are vinyl and nylon.

For the convenience of the driver and front seat passenger, the seats are individually controlled, either manually or electrically. Between the two front seats is a console containing the ash tray, power window controls and radio speaker. Built-in arm rests are an integral part of the interior door panel.

Jet-Age Styling, Driving Improvements in Dodge

Driver comfort, convenience and control features — including swing-out, swivel seats highlight the 1959 Dodge, while jet-age refinements of the dart look create a new and distinctive exterior design.

The swivel-type front seats, an instrument panel concentrated more closely around a new "easier-to-get-by" steering wheel, plus pushbutton control of virtually all driver operations, head the list of 1959 advancements inside the new cars.

NEW STYLING treatment of both front and rear, side and roof, and sharply defined, canted rear fins introduce a dramatically new concept of styling.

A striking exterior design is keynoted by arched headlight "eye-brows" which curve inward and downward to the front grille. New taillights — patterned after jet-tubes — and new rear-end "control surfaces" on the fins provide a fleet, futuristic image.

Ride-ability and roadability of the 1959 Dodge have been improved through advances in the Torsion-Aire suspension system, coupled with optional rear-end "Level-Flite" suspension.

ADDITIONAL NEW, designed for-the-driver features of the Dodge include: (1) push-button controls for the heater and air-conditioner, (2) a safety speedometer which changes color as speed increases, (3) an electronic rearview mirror that automatically cuts glare from overtaking car headlights, (4) an outside rear-view mirror that can be controlled from inside, (5) an automatic headlight dimmer, and (6) a higher steering wheel that is slightly flattened at the top, affording better road vision and at the same time, making it easier for the driver to get in and out of the car.

Colors and color-combinations available on the new vehicles will feature more light hues, following both style and safety trends. Recent studies have shown that lighter tints act as safety features.

Four new engines are offered on the various Dodge models — the less expensive Coronet series, the moderately priced Royal series, and the luxurious Custom Royals.

The Coronets will use either 230-cubic inch L-head six cylinder power plants or 326-cubic inch V-8 engines. Royal and Custom Royal series use a 361-cubic inch V-8 The top-power "D-500" engines are 383-cubic inch power units with either one or two 4-barrel carburetors optional on any series.

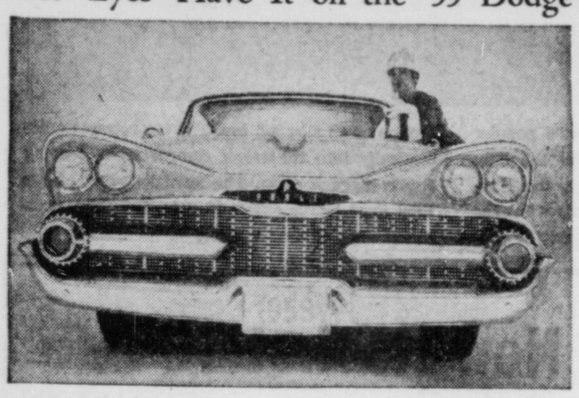
HORSEPOWERS range from 135 hp on the 230-cubic inch engine to 305 hp on the 361-cubic inch power plant. The regular D-500 has a 320 hp rating while the Super D-500 develops 345 hp.

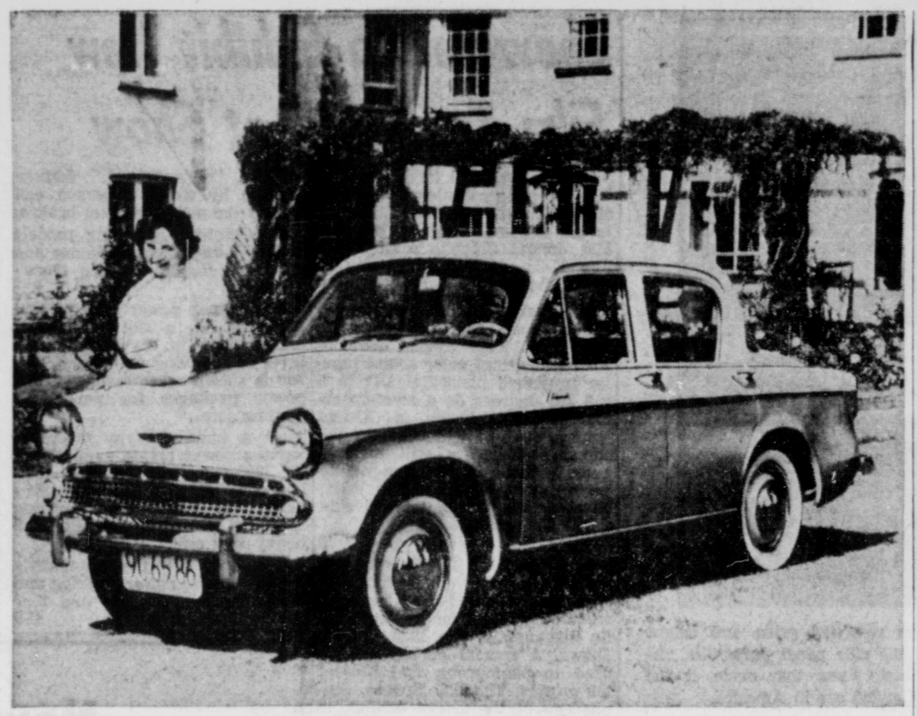
The road-proven "Torsion-Aire" suspension system has been improved. The twisting torsion bar has been shortened and thickened for better "spring" action. New cams permit easier front end adjustment. Available as optional equipment is the new suspension, Level-Flite, on the rear axle for vehicles carrying heavy weight loads. It keeps the car on an even level despite varying load conditions.

Low pressure tires are offered by Dodge in 1959 or a softer, more comfortable ride. The tires are under 16 to 18 pounds per square inch of pressure as compared with 22 to 24 pounds of air in regular tires.

The 'Eyes' Have It on the '59 Dodge



THE DUAL HEADLIGHT "eyebrows" of the 1959 Dodge are gracefully arched for a refreshing new look. New engines, axle and choke combine to provide better economy. A new torsion-aire suspension system gives an improved ride and increases tire life.



THE NEW HILLMAN MINX sedan with the 1959 look boasts a 1494 c.c., O.H.V. engine which develops 52.5 B.H.P. at 4,400 rpm, offering greatly improved performance without the loss of the world-famous economy. Giving increased top gear acceleration, this 1959 model has a higher axle ratio and a new light positive steering unit of recirculating ball type. On display Schmidt Motor Sales, 3527 N. Western ave., Chicago.

Names Change Too

More than 50 parts and accessories exhibits help to make the Chicago Automobile show the most complete exposition of its kind in the United States. Back in 1905, parts and accessories were known as "automobile trinkets" and among the novelties displayed at the Chicago show were "front plate glass weather protectors" and "gas and electric lamps that indicate the auto of the future will be gorgeously illuminated."

Handsome Edsel — Low-Priced Luxury

The 1959 Edsel, coming in 10 different models, is as large and powerful as most large cars, yet the price is considered to be in the low car range.

Ten models come in the three series, Corsair, Ranger and Villager station wagons.

Within the Corsair series are four uniquely styled cars ranging from the convertible to the four-door sedan. There is also in this series a two-door and four-door hardtop.

THE RANGER series includes two two-door sedans, and a two-door and four-door hardtop.

The Villager station wagon line includes two luxurious wagons, one nine passenger and the other for six.

Interiors in every one of these cars are superb, with complete color planning, specially-designed back seats for comfort and body support and foam rubber backing.

Also included in the Ranger series interior is silver piping around fabric inserts, carpeting, and tasteful colortones in the carpeting.

Soundly engineered, the Edsel has self adjusting brakes which need no periodical adjustment. The guard rail frame design with full length side rails afford important extra strength and protection in the passenger area. Five sturdy cross-members to resist the flexing action which causes squeaks and rattles is an important feature.

SWEPT BACK front suspension arms reduce shock even before it reaches Edsel's big deep springs and shock absorbers help provide easier, safer control even on rough roads.

Five special types of insulation are used to seal Edsel interiors from noise, dust and weather, and ball-joint front suspension makes steering easier. It also makes for more rigid alignment and few lubrication points.

THE FOUR-PASSENGER Thunderbird, which set a new standard of elegance for American cars in 1958, is shown here in an international atmosphere before the Place Belgique Reception hall at the Brussels World's Fair. The 1959 Thunderbird, with re-styled grille and bright metal spears on the side panel projectiles, retains the same basic lines that made it the most successfully styled car in America.

How Chicago Auto Show Has Expanded

From a modest "walk-around" array of horseless carriages that could be seen by spending not more than 30 minutes in the Coliseum to the present elaborate 500,000 square feet of lights and music and color, animation and imaginative presentations—

THAT'S THE capsule history of the advance of the Chicago Automobile show from the turn of the century, when the novelty of the product was the attraction, to the present 51st renewal at the International Amphitheatre January 17 through 25 when the $20,000,000 exposition will display the latest models of all makes.

The Chicago show's appeal is unique in the area of industrial expositions. It is the annual presentation of the dealers themselves through the non-profit, state chartered Chicago Automobile Trade association, and with the co-operation of manufacturers.

There has been only one break in the continuity since the first show, March 23 to 31, 1901. Only from 1941 through 1949, the period of World War 2 and its aftermath, was the show suspended.

RESUMED IN 1950, it has enjoyed record-breaking success with over 4,300,000 visitors in the nine years.

The first Chicago Automobile show was promoted by Samuel A. Miles, member of the staff of Motor Age. Actually, Chicago had seen its first horseless carriage only a few years before, in 1892, when William Morrison of Des Moines, Iowa, amazed the citizens by driving his electric around the streets.

In 1893, the Columbian Exposition displayed a French-built steam car and the 1896 visit of Barnum & Bailey Circus featured an automobile. In 1898 Tattersalls, a roller rink and exhibition hall, was the scene of an indoor bicycle meet that offered extra novelty through display of six electric rigs.

In 1899, another bicycle show in the Edson-Keith Building, Wabash and Monroe streets, featured several automobiles, and that fall the old Chicago Inter-ocean presented a combination automobile show and race meet beneath the Washington Park race track grandstand.

NOT UNTIL MILES' show in 1901, however, did the automobile receive the grandness of treatment ,even with the appeal of novelty, that was to forecast its eventual important place on the national sce en .The inaugural show presented five electrics, three gasoline-propelled cars and two steamers, and for the 50 cents admission price every visitor was entitled to a free ride over the wooden track circling the exhibits.

That was the first in the long series, and in 1902 Miles got help from the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers and the Chicago Automobile Club as the Show featured 31 electrics, 22 gas and seven steam cars. Two years later, the newly formed Chicago Automobile Trade Association co-operated with Miles and the N.A.A.M.—and the show truly was on its way.

Until Miles' death in 1934, the New York show preceded Chicago's by about two weeks each year, and the two were regarded as a national unit. In 1935, the C.A.T.A. assumed outright sponsorship with two shows that year. In February, a so-called "recovery" show drew 125,000 and in the fall, another exposition was presented, using the International Amphitheatre for the first time.

C.A.T.A. promotion has been distinguished mainly by adherence to two firm policies:

* * *

THE CAR is the star—and all else is subordinated to it.

Showmanship is the theme with unique forms of presentation encouraged so visitors will stop, examine and compare.

No "name" theatrical or television personalities are imported for the stage presentation which, by the way, is offered at no extra charge. Even in this annual Motorevue the car is the star as a pageant of new models of U.S. makes moves through the music-and-variety line of the high level entertainment.

Edward L. Cleary, show manager and C.A.T.A. executive vice-president, emphasizes the importance of making the automobile itself the paramount attraction:

"Since we use no artificial attractions such as 'name' entertainers, we know that a high percentage of our hundreds of thousands of visitors are definitely auto-minded. They come to the show because they are interested in cars." (SS

'Greatest' Label Justified

Officials of the 51st annual Chicago Automobile show describe it as the "greatest," with solid figures to justify the superlative. The 500,000 square feet, all at ground floor level, of the International Amphitheatre permit more and larger displays than at any other automotive exposition. Last year's 518,521 attendance was an all-time record. Since 1950 no Chicago show has drawn less than 457,000 while the aggregate for the nine renewals is over 4,300,000.

Auto Show Growth

Chicago's third Automobile show, in 1903, was compact, for a contemporary newspaper review said: "It can be seen at a glance by a person standing at any point in the gallery of the Coliseum." This year's 51st renewal of the greatest of all Auto Shows requires 500,000 square feet in three inter-connecting buildings of the International Amphitheatre, all at ground floor level and under one roof.

Chevrolet to Exhibit New Film Treatment at Show

Chicagoland will have its first look at a spectacular new form of motion picture entertainment in the Chevrolet exhibit at the 51st annual Chicago Auto Show, Jan 17-25, at the International Amphitheatre.

The unique film treatment, which goes far beyond wide screen and other recent developments, features color sound movies projected panoramically to a full 180 degrees on a semi-spherical screen. Inside a 16-foot sphere, half of which forms the screen, showgoers will experience a thrill in the five-minute performance as they are taken on a motion picture test drive in a new Chevrolet.

ORIGINATED TO instruct naval air gunners, the new film process was adapted by Chevrolet exhibit engineers for its first public viewings at the 1959 Auto Shows. A special curved lens is used to photograph and project the movies. The Cine Sphere, centerpiece of the Chevy exhibit, is approximately 16 feet in diameter and has a viewing grandstand accommodating about 100 persons.

Thirteen passenger cars, the new Corvette, eight truck models—including the startling new El Camino pickup—will be featured in the Chevrolet display.

Other special exhibits have been built by Chevrolet technicians to give show spectators a look at the inner mechanism of the new car while parts are in operation.

Among the pieces is a 1959 Impala four-door hardtop sliced in half lengthwise to expose moving mechanical parts and materials. Betty Skelton, well-known test driver and aviatrix, will explain the 1959 Chevrolet mechanical developments with the aid of the cutaway car. She will wear a specially designed gown which reproduces the colors available on the 1959 cars. Some 70 yards of goods were required for the dress.

ADDITIONAL hand-built mechanical exhibit include:

(1) A "do-it-yourself" demonstration by which a person can try out the new Chevrolet brakes.

(2) Cutaway operating models of the V8 fuel injection engine and the Turboglide automatic transmission.

(3) A truck power selector that performs like a slot machine is another novelty. By setting one lever and pulling another, a person is shown recommended truck power packages for particular hauling jobs.

(4) A huge cutaway model of various power teams available in the 1959 trucks. Made up of combinations of engines, transmissions and axles, the operating model is carried on the rear of a heavy-duty unit.

Rounding out the company's display will be power steering and air suspension exhibits and four talking seats. (SS

Show Bargain For Visitors

The Chicago Automobile show is a unique bargain. The admission prices of $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children cover everything. There is no extra charge for watching the twice daily "Motorevue of 1959" stage presentation and free parking is provided in the large lot adjoining the International Amphitheatre. (SS

Militaristic?

About 20 per cent of the estimated 211,000 people in the new state of Alaska are military personnel.

HERE IS THE 1959 Skyliner—Ford's popular retractable hardtop convertible. Still the only retractable hardtop in the industry, the Skyliner has been popular with those who want the fun of driving an open convertible and the protection of an all-steel top. The top retracts automatically into the trunk compartment, leaving ample luggage room. The formal styling of the 1959 Ford line is exemplified by the crisp, horizontal lines of the Skyliner.

Peppy Rambler Steals Show From Cumbersome Rivals

In the midst of the longer, wider, heavier, and more costly automobiles currently being displayed in showrooms across the country, the Rambler, 1958's leading economy and sales car, has come out once more with its "big car room and comfort, small car economy and handling ease" slogan.

The new Rambler, built to fit the average pocketbook in price, and built to fit the tightest pocketbook in operating costs, was the only American-made car purchased by more Americans in 1958 than in 1957.

THE 1959 models feature many improvements on their 1958 counterparts.

The Rambler "6" series, holders of the NASCAR economy records from border-to-border and coast-to-coast, feature new advanced carburetion in an attempt to make them more economical than ever.

The Rebel V-8 series features the larger, 215 horsepower engine in the same sized body as the "6" series.

The six-passenger, 117-inch wheelbase, Ambassador V-8 series is providing high-economy, low-cost competition to the other big-car models. Combining compactness with luxury and a big, 270 horsepower engine, the Ambassador series offers all the luxury of the large cars on the market today.

THE RAMBLER American series this year is featuring a brand-new station wagon that combines the economy and maneuverability of a small car with the room and carrying capacity of a station wagon.

All of the Rambler cars this year will have single unit construction, accomplished by welding the body electrically rather than by putting it together with nuts and bolts.

The passengers ride protected on all sides by a one-piece body that absorbs much of the shock of impact before it can reach the passenger compartment.

The body itself dipped in a rustproofing bath to give it lasting protection against rust and corrosion.

SOME OF THE optional features on the new Ramblers and Ambassadors are: power brakes, windows and steering, a transistor-powered radio with dual speaker, push-button starter and gear-shift, self adjusting brakes, safety-padded instrument panels, weather-eye heating, and air conditioning.

The 1959 Ramblers and Ambassadors have retained the original Nash travel beds, and have added five-position reclining seats. The front seats are two separate units, each one adjustable to the rider's choice. Headrests for the seats are also optional.

All four series include the sedan and station wagon models. All but the American feature a hardtop.

Plymouth Adds New Line of Luxury Cars

PLYMOUTH'S NEW LINE of luxury cars, the Sport Fury models, are now in dealer showrooms across the country. This new Fury hardtop has styling innovations from the massive front bumper and the smart grille all the way to the new, outward-canted tail fins. The new compound windshield curves into the roof as well as wrapping around the sides. The Sport Fury models introduce to the low-price field swivel front seats as standard equipment. Swivel seats are optional on four other models. All Plymouth models have improvements which reduce operating costs and at the same time improve performance.

Plymouth Offers New Style, Luxury

New bumper-to-bumper and road-to-roof styling, new power plants with unprecedented traffic agility which operate ten per cent more economically, and a new top-of-the-line series of luxury models head the list of innovations for the 1959 Plymouth.

The 29 models offered include the new Sport Fury series, which for the first time in the low-price field provides swivel front seats as standard equipment. The swivel seats are optional on four other models.

In addition to the Sport Fury in the revised model line up, Plymouth also offers the Fury, the Belvedere, and the Savoy series. For the first time, Plymouth has two convertibles, one in each the Sport Fury and the Belvedere line.

THE MANY changes in styling and engineering and the addition of the new models result from Plymouth's market philosophy, according to Harry E. Chesebrough, general manager of Plymouth.

Among the "value" features are several which contribute to a total of some 10 per cent greater economy of operation. There is a new three-stage carburetor, standard on all V-8s, which with new manifolding reduces gas consumption in the middle speed ranges, where most driving is done. A new rear axle gear ratio of 2.93:1 is available at no extra cost with the Torque-Flite transmission. Exhaustive tests of cars with this gear ratio resulted in gasoline savings as high as six per cent. Oil consumption in the Powerflow six engine is reduced with new tappet chamber baffles.

Although time improvements have reduced operating costs, they have at the same time increased performance.

The new Golden Commando 395 V-8 engine, with 305 horsepower, has been increased in displacement from 350 to 361 cubic inches, and in tests has shown exceptional "getaway" ability in traffic. It is an optional engine for all Plymouth models. Additional torque in normal driving ranges is a feature of all engines.

PLYMOUTH'S proven Torsion-Aire ride, which professional test drivers have termed "the most roadable suspension system on any American passenger car," retains its non-sway, non-dip characteristics and is standard equipment on all models.

In addition, as optional equipment, air springs are used in conjunction with the regular rear leaf springs. They provide "self-leveling action," which assures that the rear of the car will remain at the same height regardless of weight of load. When the car is empty, the air springs support approximately 300 pounds of the weight on the rear axle, with the remaining weight supported by the leaf springs.

As the car is loaded with passengers or luggage, the additional weight is carried by the air springs, which automatically add or decrease air pressure in response to load changes. The Oriflow shock absorber is continued on all Plymouth cars.

Designers have given the 1959 Plymouth a new appearance from front, side and rear. Front end styling makes the car look wider and lower. The new grille is a split lattice-work of extruded aluminum bars extending the full width of the car. It is topped by a new hood, and new "double-barreled" front fenders to house the dual headlights. The front parking lights, at the ends of the grille, are curved to provide visability for the parked car from either front or side. Beneath the grille is a new, massive bumper and a functional, full-width air scoop.

The compound windshield, which wraps around the sides and curves into the roof panel, is now standard on both the two-door and four-door hardtops as well as on the convertibles.

THERE IS individual side molding treatment for each the Sport Fury, Fury, Belvedere and Savoy series. Each of the series has the all-new rear quarter panel and tail fin, which are outward-canted and chrome-capped.

There's a new rear deck lid for all models, and the Sport Deck, featuring a wheel cover, is standard on Sport Fury models and optional on other Plymouths except station wagons.

New dual tail lights are horizontally positioned just above the new rear bumper. They have been designed to contribute to the over-all appearance of wideness and lowness.

Volkswagen Gains Popularity Here

A foreign automobile firm without an owner is satisfying a production demand for 2,000 vehicles a day.

The Volkswagenwerk, administered by the West German Federal Ministries of Finance and Economics, has boosted production from a modest 9,000 units in 1946 to more than 550,000 per year.

Stressing economy of performance and simplicity of design, the German Volkswagen apparently has a universal appeal: of a total export of 270,987 vehicles in 1957, some 79,500 were marketed in the United States.

VOLKSWAGEN (i.e., family sedan), winner of the 1958 Sperry award for engineering contributions in the field of transportation, is distinguished by a motor in the rear and a maneuverability capable of the smallest parking space.

Its popularity is apparently predicated on the principle that "... all over the world ... there are millions of people who will gladly exchange chromium-plated gadgets and excessive power for economy, long life and inexpensive maintenance," according to Volkswagen President Dr. Heinz Nordhoff.

The Volkswagen, whose mileage performance is said to give its owner 30 miles to the gallon, was first produced in 1940.

ILLUSTRATING Volkswagen's growth is the fact that 70 per cent of its means of production was destroyed by Allied air raids in 1943 and '44; production began again in 1945 under direct supervision of the Allied Control Commission for Germany until 1949.

Early in 1950, production of Volkswagen trucks and station wagons was started at the factory in Wolfsburg.

Beginning in 1956, assembly lines at the new Volkswagen factory in Hanover began rolling out the trucks and station wagons, with daily output there now standing at about 400 units.

Export demands for this tiny auto, which features individual wheel suspension to minimize road bumps, has taken it into 120 countries.

OTHER FIGURES which support the rapidity of its growth: the labor force of Volkswagenwerk has jumped from 6,033 in 1945 to 45,000; the two millionth Volkswagen was produced only 29 short months after the millionth one ran off the assembly line at Wolfsburg on Aug. 5, 1955.

Award of the Sperry medal represented the first time that an automobile manufacturer has been so honored; it was also the first time the award was received by a foreign firm.

Dr. Nordhoff outlines Volkswagen policy this way: "Offering people an honest value, a product of highest quality, with low original cost and incomparable re-sale value, appealed more to me than being driven around by a bunch of hysterical stylists trying to sell people something they really do not want to have."

Dealer's Sales at New High

What's the hottest selling car in the northwest suburbs?

A Palatine Rambler dealer, John Teresi, believes it's his car — the 1959 Rambler — if present sales figures at Bar-Tere Rambler are any indication. Sales are up 110 per cent over last year, said Teresi.

TERESI BOUGHT the auto agency in August, 1957, together with a partner, George Barski. Barski sold his interest in the firm to his partner the following April, and since that time Teresi has operated the agency alone.

"The 6-cylinder Rambler is selling best. Customers seem to like this model because of economy, resale value, and parking ease," Teresi said. He said the 18-month-old agency has enjoyed "sensational success" since its first day.

Gilbert Busch, general manager of the firm at 500 S. Northwest hwy., said the company is expanding its service facilities and is increasing its selection of used cars.

Giant Automobile Show Slated Janu ary 17-25

A record-breaker on all fronts, the nationally spotlighted 51st annual Chicago Automobile Show is presented in the vast International Amphitheatre, 42nd and Halsted Sts., from January 17 through 25. It is a $20,000,000 production, and the most complete automotive showing in North America, covering 500,000 square feet, entirely at ground floor level.

Last year's Golden Jubilee renewal drew a record 518,-521 and with good weather, the 51st show is expected to attract over half a million visitors too. Show hours daily are 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., except on opening day, Saturday, when the public will be admitted at 1 p.m. following a two-hour telecast from station WGN-TV.

Mayor Richard J. Daley formally opens the show as the climax of the telecast. During this traditional ceremony, he will present the savings bond awards to the winners of the public and the parochial high school Traffic Safety Slogan contests.

THAT COMPETITION, attracting thousands of slogan entries from students, is just one instance of civic participation. Another is the series of community beauty queens contests, extending to every area of metropolitan and suburban Chicago. From the several thousand candidates have emerged 18 community beauty queens who appear in the pageant of new cars that highlights the twice-daily "Motorevue of 1959" stage presentation.

The show has become an annual fixture, sponsored and conducted by the Chicago Automobile Trade Association with a membership of over 400 authorized new car and truck dealers in Cook county.

Don C. Mullery is president of the C.A.T.A. and Edward L. Cleary, executive vice-president, is show manager. James F. McManus Jr., is chairman of the executive show committee, whose other members include Maxwell S. Evans, C. J. McCorkle, Joseph Levy and Nicholas Zasiebida.

Officials describe displays as more elaborate, imaginative and eye-catching than ever before. Scores of shows within the show emphasize animated presentation and motion pictures, try-it-yourself devices for visitors and live dramatizations.

In fact, as Cleary pointed out: "The Chicago Automobile Show has come a long way since the early years when it was little more than a 'walk-around' exposition with static displays of cars lined up as though they were in showrooms. Showmanship has been the theme of our exposition since the C.A.T.A. became sole sponsor in 1935. But, the car is the star and nothing is permitted to subordinate it."

EVEN THE twice-daily "Motorevue," a variety and musical stage presentation, further glorifies the automobile through the pageant of new cars that features a model of every U.S. passenger car make, accompanied by a community beauty queen from a Chicago metropolitan or suburban neighborhood.

U.S. passenger cars to be shown in the stage pageant include Ambassador, Buick, Cadillac, Chevrolet, Chrysler, DeSoto, Dodge, Edsel, Ford, Imperial, Lincoln, Mercury, Oldsmobile, Plymouth, Pontiac, Rambler, and Studebaker.

In all, about 450 individual cars and trucks will be shown. U.S. passenger cars will dominate Exposition Hall with truck makes in Donovan Hall, and foreign import passenger cars in the north and south wings of the central arena.

Truck makes to be displayed are Chevrolet, Dodge, Ford, GMC, Hendrickson, International, Mack, Studebaker, and Willys. Import cars include Arnolt-Bristol, Aston-Martin, Austin, Austin-Healy, Citroen, Ferrari, Ford International, Frisky, Goggomobil, Hillman, Humber, Isetta, Jaguar, Lloyd, MG, Metropolitan, Mercedes-Benz, Moretti, Morris, Opel, Peugeot, Porsche, Prinz, Renault, Riley, Saab, Simca, Skoda, Sunbeam, Toyota, Triumph, Vauxhall, Vignale, and Volvo.

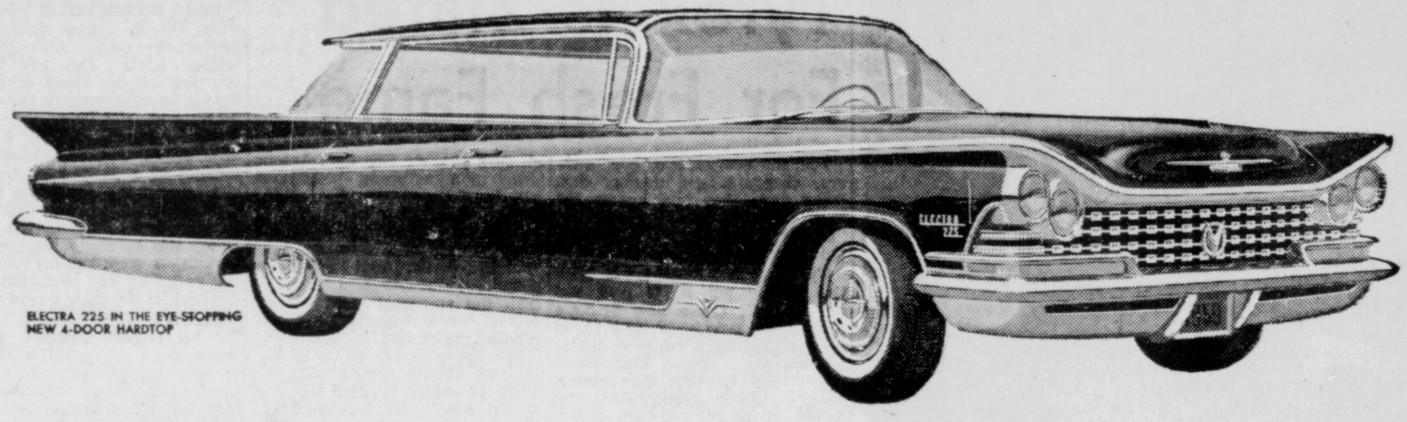
OVER 50 PARTS, accessories, equipment and other displays round out the exposition.

Two other areas are given over to exhibits with a strong spectator appeal. In the north wing of the central arena will be an array of a score of famous cars—automobiles that because of association with famous personalities or events have historic distinction, such as the late Henry Ford's "999"; presidential limousines; a Stanley Steamer owned by the manufacturer, the late F. O. Stanley; a custom-built 1914 Mercedes used by the late Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany; a Peugeot race car that won the 1916 Indianapolis 500-mile classic, and others.

In Donovan Hall, Army Airforce and Navy developments in rockets and missiles will be shown.

The admission price of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children is all- inclusive, even to free parking in a lot adjacent to the Amphitheatre. There are no extra charges for viewing the "Motorevue" or the special exhibits.



ELECTRA 225 IN THE EYE-STOPPING NEW 4-DOOR HARDTOP

'Linear Look' Is Keynote of Olds

The new "linear look" with more overall room and visibility keynotes the 1959 Oldsmobile's conquest of "inner space."

With 40 per cent greater total glass area and increased leg and hip room in all three series, the '59 Olds introduces a new margin of comfort along with the latest in technical advancements.

A rugged new rocket engine for the Ninety-Eight and Super 8 models features larger cylinder bores and increased displacement.

NEW FREE-FLOW intake manifold design, larger intake valves, and a new fuel-saving automatic choke give the rocket engine greater gas economy.

Personal comfort and the latest in engineering advances are complemented by new body designs. A completely redesigned front end is sharply defined by moving headlights from fenders to grille.

Sloping deck and new taillight assembly highlight the rear view look. A wider, deeper, and longer trunk gives nearly 64 per cent more storage space. The gas port is concealed in the center of the rear bumper.

SAFETY FEATURES include a new safety-spectrum speedometer. A color-bar replaces the old speedometer needle. From 0-35 m.p.h. the bar remains green; 35-65, amber; 65 and over, red.

A constant-speed electric windshield wiper offers new safety. New armrests feature safety reflectors. At night when either door is opened, the reflectors can be seen by an oncoming driver.

Larger wheel cylinders reduce braking effort. An advanced anti-spin rear axle aids driving through ice, snow, mud, or sand. Instead of feeding power to an already spinning wheel, it transfers power to the wheel with the grip.

Accessories for the Ninety-Eight, Super 88, and Dynamic 88 models include a trans-portable radio that can be removed from the car, a safety sentinel deivce that flashes a light and sounds a buzzer when a pre-set speed is exceeded, and a new autronic-eye that dims headlights automatically for oncoming cars.

A DUAL-RANGE power heater allows the car's temperature to be controlled by push buttons, no levers or switches. For the first time a new fan switch gives two-speed defrosting, and a new ventilation system, which bypasses the heater, provides 75 per cent greater air flow into the passenger compartment.

Improvements in the '59 model's air conditioning system allows control of the direction of the cool air through adjustable vents.

THE NINETY-EIGHT, Super 88, and Dynamic 8 series each feature a Four-Door Sedan, Holiday SportSedan, Holiday SceniCoupe, and a Convertible Coupe. The Dynamic 88 and Super 88 series also feature a Fiesta station wagon.

Fifteen colors are offered in a Magic-Mirror finish. Containing an acrylic-base lacquer, the finish resists the staining action of oil, grease, and tar plus the corrosive action of mud. (SS

Amphitheatre Transformed Into Giant Display Area

Work of transforming the International Amphitheatre into the nation's greatest automotive display area began Monday as the first of the more than 100 individual exhibits are moved in and set up for the 51st annual $20,-000,000 Chicago Automobile show that opens to the public Saturday.

This holder of every record achievement in the automotive exposition field actually will be introduced Friday night at a special private preview for industry, press, radio, television representatives and other invited guests. But the formal opening to a public will take place Saturday, and the show will continue through Sunday, Jan. 25.

The decorating project, involving the use of 66,938 yards of fabric to mask walls, ceilings and pillars of the three inter-connecting Amphitheatre buildings, was completed over the weekend, after three weeks of intensive work by specialists from the Display and Exhibit company of Detroit.

BOTH EXPOSITION HALL and Donovan Hall feature light yellow percale panels, each 37 feet by 12 feet, on the ceilings with silver lame valances. Cream rayon covers the walls with pleated silver lame under spring tension covering the pillars. Virtually the same color motif is carried out in the north and south wings of the Amphitheatre proper, but in the central arena, site of the "Motorevue of 1959" stage presentation, there is a departure in decor with coral percale valances from the ceiling, and rust and gold velour and silver lame drapes on the stage.

Edward L. Cleary, show manager and executive vice-president of the show-sponsoring Chicago Automobile Trade association, said that final details on the individual exhibits indicate they will be more colorful and imaginative than ever before.

Cleary added:

"Many of the displays will be shown here for the first time anywhere, something that's possible because we have the space to accommodate the largest, most intricate exhibits. It is certain that in the number and variety of animated exhibits, live dramatizations 'try-it-yourself' devices and spectacular background effects, the Chicago show of 1959 will score another first."

Among the live dramatizations are two with musical settings—DeSoto's featuring the Allison Sisters, and Elliott and Muller, as well as the famous "Clown prince" Emmett Kelly; and Dodge's, with a 15-minute condensed history of automobiles in melody, Edsel's modern living display, with bathing beauties and actress-models, simulates a garden party including a three-foot deep swimming pool against a background of exotic plants and flowers from South America, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Florida.

American Motors will highlight "talking cars" in their Rambler exhibit. Oldsmobile will feature "dancing waters" in a shallow pool 30 feet long and seven feet wide, from which three curtains of water will rise and fall in rhythm with soft music. Special lighting effects will add changing color to the "dancing waters."

AMONG THE SOUND and color motion pictures will be Chevrolet's Cinesphere, a new film process with startling realism that will offer a "test" ride as the subject for its Chicago premiere.

Besides the U. S. passenger cars, which will occupy Exposition Hall, there will be a complete display of trucks in Donovan Hall, with more than 30 foreign import makes in the north and south wings of the Amphitheatre proper.

Car and truck displays will be installed in the early part of the week. Beginning Wednesday, the Famous Cars array in the north wing and the rocket and missile display in Donovan Hall will be set up. Among the Famous Cars are the late Henry Ford's original "999," the Sunshine Presidential Special, the Peugeot that won the 1916 Indianapolis 500-mile race, and the late Kaiser Wilhelm's 1914 custom built Mercedes.

Chief features of the rocket and missile section are the Air Force's 32 feet by 4 feet Rascal, and the 44 feet by 23 feet Mace; the Army's Nike Hercules, 50 feet long and 20 feet wide; and an actual size duplicate model of the nose cone of Explorer 1, first U.S. satellite to be put in orbit. (SS

New Swivel Front Seats Are Popular

A major development in automobile seating arrangements is the introduction of swivel front seats in the 1959 Plymouth.

This feature, standard equipment on the Sport Fury two-door hardtop and the Sport Fury Convertible, allows the driver and the front seat passenger to pivot the seats outward when entering or leaving the car. Each seat pivots independently of the other.

THE SEATS swivel when a lever is lifted in the seat side shield. This releases a spring which swings the seat outward on rollers a full 40 degrees. When the seat is returned to its normal position, it automatically locks into place.

The new arrangement also provides an arm rest between driver and front seat passenger which may be folded back when three persons wish to ride in the front seat.

Rear seat accessibility is improved by the swivel front seats. The two seat backs can be folded forward without mutual interference, leaving both sides of the car simultaneously free for entry or exit of rear seat passengers.

Pontiac Features Wide-Track Wheels

Wide-track wheels set the stage for all around improvements in Pontiac's 1959 models.

Wheels moved out five extra inches make for better cooling of engine and brakes, lower center of gravity for better grip on smoother riding, and easier handling.

Though a first class "road car," the new Pontiac also features comfort and economy.

REAR SEATS measure up to 68 inches wide. Trunk space varies in the three series, Bonneville, Star Chief, and Catalina, from 19 to 24 cubic feet.

Windshields with up to 60 per cent increased visibility sweep up into the room and in the Vista sedans the rear window curves completely around the sides.

The new Tempest 420E engine, a balance of carburetor, manifold and camshaft-to-axle ratio results in a more efficient use of fuel, while the Tempest 420 gives the Pontiac a new high in horsepower and torque output. The 420 engine is available with two, four and six-barrel caburetion.

THE BONNEVILLE series with 300 hp engine features a convertible coupe with genuine leather seats. The top, which operates at the touch of a button, is available in ivory, black, beige, and pale blue.

The Bonneville Vista, a four-door sedan, has such distinctive touches as a padded handrail assist bar on the cushioned instrument panel. Rear warning reflectors are built into the doors which are specially insulated for maximum isolation of road and engine noise. The Bonneville also comes in a two-door sports coupe.

The Star Chief series, with a 280 hp engine, features such refinements as a self-regulating electric clock, twin instrument panel ash trays, exclusive instrument panel design, and other custom touches.

The series comes in the vista, sports sedan, and sedan models. Interiors feature 13 color combinations with exteriors finishes also available in 13 different shades of acrylic lacquer finish.

THE CATALINA series offers a choice of seven models with either the Tempest 420 or 420E engine.

While Pontiac's lowest priced series, the Catalina offers many extras at no extra cost. Each model is equipped with dual electric windshield wipers, dual individually controlled air vents, dual sun visors, automatic interior lighting, push-button door locks, direction signals, youngster-proof rear door handles in four-door models, and foot-operated parking brake.

Pontiac's Safari station wagon is offered in a six-passenger, two-seat Bonneville model with full retractable, roll-down window. It's also offered in the Catalina series for six and nine passengers.

Tyrex Is Slated For Fresh Fame

Almost everywhere car owners, shoppers, and dealers turn these days they run across the word Tyrex. "O.K.," say some, "so it's a new fiber that's being put into tires. But what is it?"

Tyrex, as one Arlington Heights tire dealer put it, is new and yet it's old. It's a new trade name for rayon — a new rayon processed in an entirely different manner — which has greater safety and wearing characteristics. To some people, said the dealer, rayon seemed "old stuff," so the manufacturers wanted a new name with new appeal.

AMERICAN TYREX corporation, manufacturers of the new bonding fiber, have made the material available to most tire manufacturers, with the result that the new tires are appearing in greater numbers among Detroit's new cars. Chrysler corporation now uses these tires on all cars of their 1959 line. Among tire manufacturers, Firestone has been the leader in pushing the new item.

According to Tyrex publicity, it is 50 per cent stronger than "old tire cords," and "pound for pound, it is one-third stronger than the strongest steel wires." It also "makes possible a cooler running, safer tire."

The Tyrex people go on to say, "It has built-in dimensional stability to assure greater tire and thread life," and they conclude that Tyrex makes possible: "greater fuel economy, more mileage, and cooler, smoother, quieter running."

Comfort and Spaciousness Keynote Sleek Mercury

Comfort and spaciousness keynote the 20th anniversary edition of the Mercury.

From the low-priced Monterey series, through the Montclair, Country Cruiser station wagons, and the higher-priced Park Lane series, Mercury offers many new features, all with an eye on the comfort and safety of the passenger.

MORE ENTRY and exit room, more knee room, hip room, and shoulder room put Mercury's new models among the leaders in interior styling and comfort.

Door-space has been increased by six inches, front seat knee space by eight inches. The hump in the center of the floor has been cut down by 45 per cent to give the middle man added comfort.

More than 35 square feet of safety glass is used in the windows of every Mercury to give both driver and passenger almost unlimited vision.

MERCURY'S exclusive safety-sweep windshield wipers have over-lapping patterns to eliminate the center blind spot, and the windshield itself is 60 per cent larger than the ordinary to ensure better visibility.

Some of the optional features for the 1959 models include a safety monitor that warns the driver when he exceeds a preselected speed, and an inside-controlled sideview mirror.

A Seat-O-Matic dial allows the driver to select his favorite seat position and forget about it. The seat slides back when the ignition is off to permit easy exits, and returns to the selected position automatically when the ignition is turned back on.

All of the Mercury models feature the Marauder V-8 engines with horsepowers ranging from 235 to 345.

Under the engine, ball-joint suspension, three-phase shock absorbers, and self-adjusting brakes combine to provide the passengers with a smooth, safe ride.

Pageant, Musical Production Slated

Unique production numbers, top variety acts and the pageant of new cars will maintain the "Motorevue of 1959" at the same high level of entertainment at the 51st annual Chicago Automobile Show, as stage presentations of past years.

Produced again by Barnes-Carruthers Theatrical Enterprises, Inc., under the personal direction of Sam Levy, the nationally known organization's president, the "Motorevue" will be presented twice daily—at 3:00 and at 8:30 p.m.—in the 15,000 capacity central arena of the International Amphitheatre.

Choreographer is Miss Betty Gour, who has performed with the Chicago Civic Opera ballet, Metropolitan Ballet, George Balanchine's American Ballet, and at Radio City Music Hall. More recently, she has gained credits as director and choreographer for the "Aqua Follies" and as ballet mistress for "Oklahoma."

A COMPANY OF over 100, including Lou Breese's orchestra and a chorus line of 30—15 girls and 15 men—will offer the special numbers keyed to the nation's greatest automobile show. They also include the 18 community beauty queens who take part in the pageant of new cars.

Opening production number, "Make Way for Tomorrow," accents the constant look to the future that keeps the automotive industry the nation's most progressive. The midportion of the Motorevue will be a breath-takingly beautiful and novel number, "Cakewalk Your Lady," made additionally glamorous through use of the black-light technique.

Finale is "Rhapsody in Blues" a beautiful, melodic climax in which the entire cast participates.

Studebaker Introduces Bold New Economy Model

Lark by Studebaker, a completely new series of smaller, more economical, more maneuverable, "common sense" cars are now on display in Studebaker dealer showrooms.

Establishing a revolutionary new concept of automotive transportation, the brand new 1959 Studebaker Larks were newly designed from tires to roof-top to meet the specific demands of today's driving needs.

The new Larks are smaller in over-all size, yet actually are roomier inside than previous models. This was accomplished primarily by reducing front and rear "overhang" to a minimum, while at the same time maintaining a "big car" passenger compartment to enable six adults to ride in comfort.

THE WHEELBASE of sedan and hardtop models is 108½ inches, while over-all length is only 175 inches — shorter than previous models by more than two feet. Yet, front leg room is equal to last year's Studebaker, and rear leg room is actually greater. (The new station wagons measure 113 inches in wheelbase, 184½ inches in over-all length.)

Although slightly lower-overall, the new Studebaker Larks provide headroom that is unexcelled in the low-price field. Shoulder and hip room are similar to last year's models.

Available in Deluxe and Regal versions, the 1959 Larks by Studebaker are richly and tastefully appointed both inside and out to appeal to the public's desire for luxurious transportation. Yet, despite this luxury concept, the new models are priced below other cars in the low-price field.

STUDEBAKER'S reputation for style leadership is further advanced by the distinctive, modern design of its 1959 Larks. The basic design theme reflects elegance, tasteful simplicity and functional purpose.

The new smaller Lark is available in two- and four-door sedans, two-door hardtop and station wagon models.

The dominant design theme of the new Lark by Studebaker is its distinctive grille, flanked by lights and air scoops. Accentuating the graceful, flowing lines of the car, a single stainless steel molding sweeps back from above the headlights along the sides of the car and continues in an unbroken line around the rear. Along the sides, this molding serves as a rub-rail to protect the finish from doors of other cars opening against it in tight parking areas.

The new cowl not only enhances the car's lower look, but results also in greater windshield area for improved visibility.

SMART NEW horizontal-oval tail lights provide illumination to the sides as well as to the rear of the car.

In keeping with the new model's clean, uncluttered, classic design, the hood and deck lid are free of meaningless ornamentation.

The 1959 Studebakers are available with either a brand new six-cylinder or V-8 powerplant, and with either Flightomatic, overdrive or conventional transmission.

Both new engines are designed to operate efficiently on regular gasoline, thus giving a very important plus in economy.

Chairman Third Time

James F. McManus Jr., chairman of this year's Chicago Automobile show executive committee, is serving in that capacity for the third time in the ten years since the nation's greatest automotive exposition was resumed in 1950. McManus was chairman that year and again in 1951.

New 1959 DeSoto Models Make Automobile History

The all new 1959 De Soto introduces two major styling and engineering developments which promise to make automotive history.

In its 30th anniversary line of 18 models in four series, De Soto offers history-making swivel seats and push-button weather controls, newest companion to push-button driving, already a much imitated automotive engineering pacesetter.

Similarly, the leadership of dramatic fin-shaped "Forward Look" styling has culminated in a design with makes the 1959 model more massive and eye-appealing in appearance.

ALONG WITH these outstanding features, the famed sports-type Adventurer engine, delivering 350 horsepower, is available for the first time on all models.

With the new 1959 models, De Soto division has inaugurated production in new facilities at E. Jefferson ave., in Detroit, where improved production handling and the newest in manufacturing techniques are available to De Soto.

Thirteen accessories which were optional equipment last year have been made standard on many models, including power brakes and power steering which are now standard on Fireflite and Adventurer models. Safety cushion instrument panel is standard on Firedome, Fireflite and Adventurer models.

Push-button three-speed Torqueflite transmission is standard on Firedome, Fireflite and Adventurer models. Other extra accessories which now become standard on certain models include: wheel covers, plastic steering wheel, front and rear floor carpets, airfoam seat cushions, electric clock, color sweep moulding, handbrake warning light, windshield washers, and back-up lights.

ANOTHER NEW engineering feature on the 1959 De Soto is Level-cruise air suspension, available with Torsion-aire. The latter is standard on all models. Air suspension ride adds air springs to the rear suspension to achieve automatic car leveling under all load conditions.

The new styling gives De Soto a lower and wider appearance. Outstanding styling features include new massive integrated two-section front bumper with a long horizontal air scoop dividing lower and upper section; eyebrowed dual headlamps, and a new sculptured roof line on four-door hardtop models which adds 3½ inches to leg room and 1¾ inches to headroom. A new contoured "B" post provides additional egress in four-door hardtop models.

Running the length of the car and flaring dramatically upward is a broad new spear-like color sweep. It is also available with a fluted anodized aluminum insert.

Full styling treatment has been given the rear of the new De Soto, incorporating an integrated rear bumper. The trademark of the De Soto Division, its three-tiered taillights, has been retained for the fourth consecutive year.

DE SOTO is offering 18 models in four series, Firesweep, Firedome, Fireflite and the limited production Adventurer. The Adventurer series is available only in the two-door hardtop and the convertible. In the Firesweep, Firedome and Fireflite series the following models are available: four-door sedan, four-door Sportsman hardtop, two-door Sportsman hardtop and the convertible. In both the Firesweep and Fireflite series, two station wagons are available: the Explorer, a nine-passenger wagon with a third rear-facing Vista-seat; and the two-seat Shopper wagon. Captive-air tires, pioneered by De Soto, are standard on all Explorer station wagons.

THE DESOTO ADVENTURER—A radiant new 1959 entry. The DeSoto Adventurer is a limited production prestige car. Featuring the revolutionary sports swivel seats as standard equipment, the Adventurer develops 350 horsepower. With introduction of the Adventurer, DeSoto in 1959 offers 18 body styles in four series. The rider, of course, is wearing a costume of the car's namesake, Hernando DeSoto, who brought the first horse to North America.

Illinois Manufacturers

Illinois manufacturers contributed heavily to the national automotive market during the early years of the Chicago Automobile Show. For varying periods from the turn of the century through 1930, the show featured products of 60 different manufacturers in the state, including 40 from Chicago. Lengthiest production runs were Vellie, from Moline, 1909-1929; and Glide, from Peoria, 1901-1920.
